Chester Plans New Vote On Pool Finances

Levy Voted In June Ruled Void Because Of Rate Technicality

Chester City Solicitor Ruth Cox Turner today was preparing petitions to be circulated among city voters in a move for a special election for financing construction of a swimming pool, replacing a levy that was termed inappropriate.

Voters last June approved a levy to raise $70,000 for a pool at the City Park but no tax rate was listed, the measure merely indicating it was a "revenue levy."

This meant, according to authorities, that the project would have to be paid by pool revenue instead of a community 2-mill levy as originally planned. Such revenue would be insufficient, officials of the city, park and pool committee decided.

The pool committee, headed by Don Chaney, plans to circulate the new petitions for signatures of the required 20 per cent of qualified voters so that the special election can be held on the proposed 2-mill levy for construction.

Mrs. Turner said she hopes to get the petitions into Chaney's hands "very shortly," and Chaney said volunteers will begin seeking signers immediately. Plans call for the pool to open next summer.

The levy passed in June still stands on the books, but will probably be voided by Council or the secretary of state at a later date, it was indicated.

Midland Area Resident Overcome From Smoke

A Midland Heights resident was slightly overcome by smoke early this morning after a cigarette set fire to an overstuffed chair, resulting in over $350 damage.

Philip Demoratz, 28-A Midland Heights, was given oxygen by the Schwerha Funeral Home ambulance crew. Fire Chief Vincent D'Itri, reported.

Some 11 members of Midland Heights volunteer fire company No. 2 responded to the alarm at 3:31 a. m. The fire started in the chair and spread to a rug, D'Itri said. The walls were scorched and there was smoke damage.

Demoratz, alone at the time, was carried from the bedroom through a window by firemen. D'Itri commended the quick action of Albert Monaco, assistant fire chief, and his men. The fire was put out in several minutes.

Republicans See 250 For Wellsville Dinner

A capacity crowd of 250 is expected to attend a kick-off dinner for the 1960 Republican campaign in Columbiana County to be held Thursday at 6:30 p. m. by the Wellsville Republican Club at the Riverside United Presbyterian Church.

State Rep. Robert Taft Jr. of Cincinnati will be the principal speaker. Tickets have been sold out for well over a week, according to Atty. James McSweeney, city chairman.

Taft is considered a likely candidate for governor or U.S. senator in the state GOP circles.

A women's barbershop quartet will provide the entertainment, McSweeney said.

City Schools Show Gains In Enrollment

A total of 5,410 pupils — an increase of 121 over last year — reported for classes this morning as the 1960-61 term got under way in East Liverpool public schools.

The opening-day figure is expected to be boosted slightly during the next week. Enrollment was 5,289 on the opening day last term.

Supt. Ralph W. Betts said the increase was primarily in the junior high school grades. He said some adjustments will have to be made.

Enrollment at Westgate and East Junior High Schools totaled 1,423. The total at East Junior High was 380, an increase of 25, and the total at Westgate was 1,043, an increase of 85.

Betts said the elementary grades at Westgate fell offf from the estimate. This was due to many families moving from the area because of the California Hollow road project which took their homes.

A total of 3,010 children were enrolled in the elementary grades. The high school had 977.

Officials Urge Caution As City Schools Resume

Reopening of East Liverpool schools for the 1960-61 term today brought a joint reminder from Mayor Bert H. Goodballet and Police Chief Americo Radeschi asking motorists to be especially watchful for children.

Drivers should be particularly careful in school zones and crosswalks and on streets used by youngsters to walk to and from classes, the officials pointed out. Children at play may forget danger and dash onto streets, they added.

The mayor and the chief also reminded motorists that state laws and city ordinances require all traffic to stop for a school bus that has halted to take on or discharge passengers.

116 Left Dead In Puerto Rico By Hurricane

Hundreds Missing; Donna Spins Toward U.S.; Warnings Up

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP)—Hurricane Donna churned toward the northwest today leaving in its wake at least 116 dead and hundreds missing on Puerto Rico and other Caribbean islands.

As the storm, packing 125 mile-an-hour winds, continued its menacing westerly swing, warnings went out to the Bahamas and all points along the southeast coast of the United States to watch hurricane advisories for the next few days.

At the last report, Donna was 600 miles east southeast of Miami and 50 miles north northwest of Turks Island in the southern Bahamas.

The island was buffeted by winds of over 60 miles an hour and drenched by torrential rain during the night. Interests in the central Bahamas were warned to prepare for hurricane winds as Donna approached at 8 miles an hour.

The hurricane left death and destruction in its path. Puerto Rico alone counted at least 106 dead and another 200 missing in floods and high tides.

Three deaths were reported in Port-Au-Prince, capital of Haiti, and at least seven persons perished Monday in the Leeward Islands. Five of these victims were killed on Anguilla and the other two on Antigua Island.

Still groggy, Puerto Ricans began cleaning up after the killer storm that dealt their island its worst blow in decades.

Spunky To Face Trial Tuesday On Kidnaping

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — Trial is slated to start next Tuesday for Gordon (Spunky) Firman, 22, who went on a month-long spree of violence in Ohio before his capture near Dover, Aug. 26.

Firman was indicted on charges he kidnaped four Hamilton youths on Aug. 16, forcing them to go with him until their car was wrecked near Nelsonville.

Negroes Wait Acceptance

Houston's School Board Drops Segregation Bars

By The Associated Press

The nation's largest segregated school system at Houston opens today theoretically integrated, but the Negro students won't be notified until Friday if they have been accepted.

The Board of Education voted Tuesday night to allow Negroes to enroll in first grades of previously all-white schools in the 170,000-pupil district but instructed Supt. John McFarland to delay their admission until Friday.

The decision prevented seven Negro pupils, who qualified under the board's transfer rule, from attending opening classes today. Dr. Henry Petersen, board president, said the delay was needed to "process Negro youngsters."

"No court or court case says we must lessen the efficiency of our schools when we integrate," commented Stone Wells, board vice president.

The action was taken at an emergency board meeting shortly after the 5th Circuit Court of Appeals at New Orleans turned down an appeal and Texas Atty. Gen. Will Wilson ruled the district would not lose $6 million in state school funds.

Wilson held that a school district which integrated under federal court order did not do so voluntarily and thus was not subject to penalties of a state law.

The Houston developments came on a day marked by peaceful school integration for the first time in Richmond, Va., capital of the Confederacy, and two other Virginia cities, Roanoke and Pulaski.

Hearing Set By U.S. On Turncoats

High Government Agencies May Be On Spot Sept. 16

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Capitol Hill hearing that could send sparks darting through high government agencies has been scheduled for Sept. 16 into the case of the two turncoat code clerks.

Plans for the hearing were announced within hours after Bernon F. Mitchell, 31, and William H. Martin, 29, turned up at a Moscow news conference and accused the United States of threatening world peace.

The Pentagon said one of them was mentally sick and both were obviously confused.

Chairman Francis E. Walter, (D-Pa.) of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, said the FBI had advised the National Security Agency that one of the pair was a homosexual. Walter said the FBI gave the NSA this information before the two were hired in 1957.

Walter said he could not identify which one he meant. The Pentagon didn't say which one it considered mentally ill.

A Pentagon spokesman, asked about Walter's charge, said the department was sticking by its statement of last Friday — that FBI files contained no derogatory information about the two.

The big question was this:

How could the pair — one now accused of being a homosexual, one identified as mentally sick and both listed as "obviously confused" — be hired or hang onto jobs in one of the top secret government agencies?

NSA is a defense unit with headquarters about 20 miles from Washington. It operates 24 hours a day, intercepting radio signals and concentrating on codes and communications intelligence.

Street Repair Contract Let

Wellsville Project Will Cost $10,275

The Wellsville Board of Control Tuesday awarded a contract to the Tri-State Asphalt Co. of Martins Ferry for the improvement of 20 streets on its bid of $10,275.

Four bids were received but one was rejected because it did not conform to specifications while another was rejected because no breakdown was given as to materials and labor as required by state law.

C. H. Patterson & Sons Contractors of Ashtabula bid $9,200, but based the bid on the use of an asphalt emulsion instead of tar. In the bid offer, Patterson said he realized it was not according to specifications.

The $10,134.45 bid of Snyder Paving & Repair Co. of Hanoverton was rejected because no breakdown was given.

The other bidder was Ohio Valley Paving Corp. of St. Clairsville with an offer of $10,666.21.

This is the city's annual street improvement program.

Streets to be seal-coated include:

Broadway, 5th to 9th Sts., including intersections; Commerce St., 9th to 5th; 15th St., Commerce to Buckeye Ave.; Clark Ave., 15th to 17th; Lincoln Ave., 17th to Aten Ave.; Aten, Clark to Commerce; 18th, Main St. to Clark; 10th, Main to Lisbon St.; Buckeye, 15th to Aten; Nevada St., 16th to 18th; Nevada, 18th to 21st; 4th, Main to Broadway, and Maple Ave., 15th to 17th.

Streets to be double-sealed include:

Washington Ave., 5th to 6th; White St., 11th to 12th; Clover St., 12th to 13th; Main, 18th to 20th; Chester Ave., 19th to 22nd; Buckeye Ave. Aten to Henry, and Arthur Ave. Henry to 18th.

For Military Purposes

Ike Deplores Red Action For Supplies Sent Congo

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today the United States deplores "the unilateral action of the Soviet Union in supplying aircraft and other equipment for military purposes to the Congo."

The Prsident told a news conference that this has aggravated "an already serious situation which finds Africans killing other Africans."

Eisenhower said further that if these planes are flown by Soviet military personnel, "This would be contrary to the principles so far applied regarding use in the Congo of military contingents from the larger powers."

The President went on to say that so far as he knows these rules have previously been upheld by the Soviet Union.

"Therefore," he added, "it would be doubly serious if such participation by military units were part of an operation in the civil war which has recently taken on very ugly overtones."

One of the first questions put to Eisenhower was a request for evaluation of reports that the Soviet Union has been sending planes to the Congo—outside the United Nations program.

Eisenhower said he had been sure he would get such a question. He made it clear he was well-prepared by whipping a written statement from his coat pocket.

After the President read the statement, a newsman asked whether the United States has any evidence that the Soviets are sending arms to the forces of Congo Premier Patrice Lumumba.

Eisenhower replied that we do not know that Soviet crews are operating the planes or that the planes have any arms in their cargoes.

In his statement, Eisenhower said main responsibility for easing the Congo tension has been given to the U. N. as the only organization to act "without adding to the risks of spreading the conflict."

The President said the constitutional structure of the Congo is a matter which should be workd out peacefully by the Congolese themselves.

"This objective is threatened by the Soviet action which seems to be motivated entirely by the Soviet Union's political designs in Africa," he said.

"I must repeat the United States takes a most serious view of this action by the Soviet Union."

Eisenhower urged the Soviet Union "to desist from its unilateral activities and to lend its support instead to the practice of collective effort through the United Nations."

East End Run 'Overflows' In Council Again

Householders And Business Operators Ask 'Flood' Remedy

The 50-year-old question of the East End Run's frequent overflows was brought to "flood stage" again Tuesday night in complaints filed with Council by businessmen and householders whose properties were hard hit after a torrential rainstorm Aug. 30.

Council referred the seven complaints to its street committee and Safety-Service Director Lee Copenhaver. Following through on previously-scheduled action, Council also enacted a resolution directing Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper to "take whatever legal action is necessary, including court action," to compel removal of debris allegedly blocking the bed of the run at Virginia Ave.

Although he was not named in the legislation, the property is owned by M. F. Staats, 507 Virginia Ave., operator of a secondhand furniture store, who has carried on a running battle with the city for years over the run problem.

In a related question, Council also cleared the way for construction of a new $50,000 storm sewer culvert near Ralstons Crossing, replacing an existing sewer that will be too low when the Stratton "super-dam" boosts the level of the Ohio River. The legislation provides the city will let the contract and supervise the work, but will be reimbursed with federal funds.

Speaking during the section of the meeting set aside for citizens, East End residents occupied the floor for nearly an hour with details of the damage and inconvenience caused by the run overflow a week ago, termed the worst in memory.

Staats, who has appeared at virtually every Council meeting for months, was the first to speak. He conceded that the run is blocked by "logs, garbage and debris," but he charged the solicitor has advised several administrations against attempts to clean out the bed.

At one time, city officials told him it would be necessary to tear down his home to provide working

2 County Drivers Hurt In Crash On Route 14

An East Palestine area driver and a Salem district motorist were reported "badly injured" in a head-on collision on Alternate Route 14 west of Washingtonville this morning, the State Highway Patrol at Lisbon said.

David Huff of East Palestine R. D. 2 and William Callahan of Salem R. D. 3 are in Salem City Hospital with injuries suffered in the mishap which occurred about 7 a. m. in fog, officers said.

The patrol is investigating.

Miss America Affair Opens With Parade

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Recent and not so recent Miss Americas paraded along the boardwalk Tuesday night as 150,000 spectators watched the preliminaries of the 1960 beauty and talent pageant.

The parade was led by Margaret Gorman Cahill, who was the first Miss America in 1921.

As a winner in that year, Mrs. Cahill rode in a rolling chair in a modest procession. She won her title from a handful of girls from cities in this area.

Tuesday night she sat atop a float decked with 50,000 roses in her role as grand marshal of the parade.

Eleven former Miss Americas participated in the parade as salute to this year's reunion of Mu Alpha Sigma, the Miss America sorority composed of former contestants.

This year's Miss America—Lynda Lee Mead—sat atop a motorized float depicting a Cinderella scene in a castle garden. The Cinderella story is the theme of this year's pageant.

There are 54 girls in the contest, representing every state in the union as well as Canada and the cities of New York, Chicago and Washington.

Council Airs Lack Of Funds At Wellsville

Income Tax Urged; Finance Chairman Offers Resignation

Discussions of financial problems took up most of the 3-hour, 50-minute meeting of Wellsville City Council Tuesday night.

During the course of the evening, Councilman Donald Miller offered his resignation as finance chairman and Councilman Paul Nelson suggested that a city income tax be considered. Miller later said he would reconsider his resignation. Council had made no offer to accept it.

Councilman William R. Stroble, street and light chairman, said during his report that $3,000 more is needed in the street material fund to purchase slag, salt, oil, signs, etc.

It was pointed out that $6,500 had been appropriated at the beginning of the year but that only $460 remains.

Various means of obtaining the needed money were discussed. At one point it was suggested that the money be taken from the $9,111 to be derived by the city from sale of a section of land to the Freeport Sulphur Co. of New Orleans.

Safety-Service Director William S. Robinson said this money has not been received yet and that he was going to suggest that most of it be allocated for floodwall repairs.

To Bolster Drives For Power

Rival Leaders In Congo Seek Help In Parliament

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—President Joseph Kasavubu and Premier Patrice Lumumba looked to Parliament today to bolster their rival drives for power as violence flared between the warring Congo leaders.

Kasavubu was expected to request parliamentary approval for a new cabinet headed by Joseph Ileo, moderate Senate leader whom he has chosen to replace Lumumba.

Lumumba was reported seeking a vote of confidence from Parliament for his left-leaning regime.

But observers wondered whether Parliament could do much to break the deadlock, tightened by the insistence of each leader that he has fired the other.

The feud turned into violence Tuesday night when Congo troops backing Lumumba beat and clubbed Kasavubu supporters demonstrating against the premier.

Taking a stronger hand to stem the growing threat of civil war, the U.N. command seized the government radio network thus silencing Lumumba who had counted on his oratory to woo the Congolese.

(But Kasavubu circumvented U.N. radio control by broadcasting from Brazzaville, across the Congo River from Leopoldville in the former French colony now called the Congo Republic. Kasavubu declared he still is the Congo's chief of state and his ministers had no power to depose him. In his broadcast, monitored in London, the president said he could count on the Congo army to support him in his struggle with Lumumba whom he accused of plunging the country toward dictatorship and Communism.)

Money Paid To Take Off 'Pressure'

Note Read To Crime Commission Brings Hobbs Into Picture

WHEELING (AP) — A pinball machine distributor testified today that he paid $200 a month to a Weirton city official to be allowed to operate.

Peter Orenzuk of Weirton told the West Virginia Crime Commission that he made the payments starting in 1955 to Carl Frankovitch, who was then the Weirton city attorney.

Introduced and read to the commission while Orenzuk was in the witness chair was a sworn statement he made in 1957. The affidavit was witnessed by former State Police Capt. W. W. Murphy, now an investigator for the commission.

In the affidavit, Orenzuk said it was his understanding that with the $200, Frankovitch would "take care of at least five city councilmen."

Orenzuk said Rodak told him later that he never got any of the money.

The affidavit said the payments to Frankovitch continued from September 1955 to July 1956. But in his oral testimony today, Orenzuk said he did not think they went on that long.

He gave this account of how he came to start the payments:

Weirton police were harrassing establishments which exhibited Orenzuk's pinball machines. The operators would be hauled in periodically and required to post $106 on a gambling charge which would later be forfeited.

It was at the suggestion of former Hancock County Sheriff Dick Wright, Orenzuk said, that he started the payments to Frankovitch to take the pressure off places exhibiting Orenzuk's machines.

However, Orenzuk said, even while the $200 payments were being made, exhibitors were being named in gambling charges and required to post $106.

"It got so we couldn't make ends meet," he testified. So Orenzuk and two other persons went to Mayor Samuel Kusic and complained.

Orenzuk related that Kusic said he had not known about the $200 payments and that they should be stopped. No payments to Frankovitch were made after that, Orenzuk said.

Commission Counsel F. Dean Nichols questioned Orenzuk about a letter which was read to the commission. It was an unsigned typed copy dated May 24, 1957, addressed to Gov. Underwood and bore the typed signature of Orenzuk.

The letter said that earlier in that month Hancock County Sheriff Clayton Hobbs and county Republican James M. Ravoira "had me before them in connection with paying $25 a month" on each of 35 pinball machines which Orenzuk then had at various places in the county.

The letter asked Underwood to order an investigation.

"I don't even recall that letter," Orenzuk testified.

As to Hobbs and Ravoira, "neither one of those people approached me. . .I'm almost certain I've never had any conversation along those lines with either of those people."

Del. J. Horner Davis II, D. Kanawha, tried to find whether one of Orenzuk's lawyers might have written the letter. Orenzuk said that if one did, he didn't recall it.

Del. Ward Dawson, R. Morgan., asked Nichols where he got the letter. Nichols replied that he did not want to answer until the commission was in closed session.

Orenzuk testified that in the period when pressure was being put on his exhibitors, he found himself being shoved out of desirable locations and another pinball ma-

The Wellsville Board of Control Tuesday awarded a contract to the Tri-State Asphalt Co. of Martins Ferry for the improvement of 20 streets on its bid of $10,275.

Four bids were received but one was rejected because it did not conform to specifications while another was rejected because no breakdown was given as to materials and labor as required by state law.

C. H. Patterson & Sons Contractors of Ashtabula bid $9,200, but based the bid on the use of an asphalt emulsion instead of tar. In the bid offer, Patterson said he realized it was not according to specifications.

The $10,134.45 bid of Snyder Paving & Repair Co. of Hanoverton was rejected because no breakdown was given.

The other bidder was Ohio Valley Paving Corp. of St. Clairsville with an offer of $10,666.21.

This is the city's annual street improvement program.

Streets to be seal-coated include:

Broadway, 5th to 9th Sts., including intersections; Commerce St., 9th to 5th; 15th St., Commerce to Buckeye Ave.; Clark Ave., 15th to 17th; Lincoln Ave., 17th to Aten Ave.; Aten, Clark to Commerce; 18th, Main St. to Clark; 10th, Main to Lisbon St.; Buckeye, 15th to Aten; Nevada St., 16th to 18th; Nevada, 18th to 21st; 4th, Main to Broadway, and Maple Ave., 15th to 17th.

Streets to be double-sealed include:

Washington Ave., 5th to 6th; White St., 11th to 12th; Clover St., 12th to 13th; Main, 18th to 20th; Chester Ave., 19th to 22nd; Buckeye Ave. Aten to Henry, and Arthur Ave., Henry to 18th.

For Military Purposes

Ike Deplores Red Action For Supplies Sent Congo

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said today the United States deplores "the unilateral action of the Soviet Union in supplying aircraft and other equipment for military purposes to the Congo."

The Prsident told a news conference that this has aggravated "an already serious situation which finds Africans killing other Africans."

Eisenhower said further that if these planes are flown by Soviet military personnel, "This would be contrary to the principles so far applied regarding use in the Congo of military contingents from the larger powers."

The President went on to say that so far as he knows these rules have previously been upheld by the Soviet Union.

"Therefore," he added, "it would be doubly serious if such participation by military units were part of an operation in the civil war which has recently taken on very ugly overtones."

One of the first questions put to Eisenhower was a request for evaluation of reports that the Soviet Union has been sending planes to the Congo—outside the United Nations program.

Eisenhower said he had been sure he would get such a question. He made it clear he was well-prepared by whipping a written statement from his coat pocket.

After the President read the statement, a newsman asked whether the United States has any evidence that the Soviets are sending arms to the forces of Congo Premier Patrice Lumumba.

Eisenhower replied that we do not know that Soviet crews are operating the planes or that the planes have any arms in their cargoes.

In his statement, Eisenhower said main responsibility for easing the Congo tension has been given to the U. N. as the only organization to act "without adding to the risks of spreading the conflict."

The President said the constitutional structure of the Congo is a matter which should be workd out peacefully by the Congolese themselves.

"This objective is threatened by the Soviet action which seems to be motivated entirely by the Soviet Union's political designs in Africa," he said.

"I must repeat the United States takes a most serious view of this action by the Soviet Union."

Eisenhower urged the Soviet Union "to desist from its unilateral activities and to lend its support instead to the practice of collective effort through the United Nations."

East End Run 'Overflows' In Council Again

Householders And Business Operators Ask 'Flood' Remedy

The 50-year-old question of the East End Run's frequent overflows was brought to "flood stage" again Tuesday night in complaints filed with Council by businessmen and householders whose properties were hard hit after a torrential rainstorm Aug. 30.

Council referred the seven complaints to its street committee and Safety-Service Director Lee Copenhaver. Following through on previously-scheduled action, Council also enacted a resolution directing Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper to "take whatever legal action is necessary, including court action," to compel removal of debris allegedly blocking the bed of the run at Virginia Ave.

Although he was not named in the legislation, the property is owned by M. F. Staats, 507 Virginia Ave., operator of a secondhand furniture store, who has carried on a running battle with the city for years over the run problem.

In a related question, Council also cleared the way for construction of a new $50,000 storm sewer culvert near Ralstons Crossing, replacing an existing sewer that will be too low when the Stratton "super-dam" boosts the level of the Ohio River. The legislation provides the city will let the contract and supervise the work, but will be reimbursed with federal funds.

Speaking during the section of the meeting set aside for citizens, East End residents occupied the floor for nearly an hour with details of the damage and inconvenience caused by the run overflow a week ago, termed the worst in memory.

Staats, who has appeared at virtually every Council meeting for months, was the first to speak. He conceded that the run is blocked by "logs, garbage and debris," but he charged the solicitor has advised several administrations against attempts to clean out the bed.

At one time, city officials told him it would be necessary to tear down his home to provide working

2 County Drivers Hurt In Crash On Route 14

An East Palestine area driver and a Salem district motorist were reported "badly injured" in a head-on collision on Alternate Route 14 west of Washingtonville this morning, the State Highway Patrol at Lisbon said.

David Huff of East Palestine R. D. 2 and William Callahan of Salem R. D. 3 are in Salem City Hospital with injuries suffered in the mishap which occurred about 7 a. m. in fog, officers said.

The patrol is investigating.

Miss America Affair Opens With Parade

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Recent and not so recent Miss Americas paraded along the boardwalk Tuesday night as 150,000 spectators watched the preliminaries of the 1960 beauty and talent pageant.

The parade was led by Margaret Gorman Cahill, who was the first Miss America in 1921.

As a winner in that year, Mrs. Cahill rode in a rolling chair in a modest procession. She won her title from a handful of girls from cities in this area.

Tuesday night she sat atop a float decked with 50,000 roses in her role as grand marshal of the parade.

Eleven former Miss Americas participated in the parade as salute to this year's reunion of Mu Alpha Sigma, the Miss America sorority composed of former contestants.

This year's Miss America—Lynda Lee Mead—sat atop a motorized float depicting a Cinderella scene in a castle garden. The Cinderella story is the theme of this year's pageant.

There are 54 girls in the contest, representing every state in the union as well as Canada and the cities of New York, Chicago and Washington.

Council Airs Lack Of Funds At Wellsville

Income Tax Urged; Finance Chairman Offers Resignation

Discussions of financial problems took up most of the 3-hour, 50-minute meeting of Wellsville City Council Tuesday night.

During the course of the evening, Councilman Donald Miller offered his resignation as finance chairman and Councilman Paul Nelson suggested that a city income tax be considered. Miller later said he would reconsider his resignation. Council had made no offer to accept it.

Councilman William R. Stroble, street and light chairman, said during his report that $3,000 more is needed in the street material fund to purchase slag, salt, oil, signs, etc.

It was pointed out that $6,500 had been appropriated at the beginning of the year but that only $460 remains.

Various means of obtaining the needed money were discussed. At one point it was suggested that the money be taken from the $9,111 to be derived by the city from sale of a section of land to the Freeport Sulphur Co. of New Orleans.

Safety-Service Director William S. Robinson said this money has not been received yet and that he was going to suggest that most of it be allocated for floodwall repairs.

To Bolster Drives For Power

Rival Leaders In Congo Seek Help In Parliament

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—President Joseph Kasavubu and Premier Patrice Lumumba looked to Parliament today to bolster their rival drives for power as violence flared between the warring Congo leaders.

Kasavubu was expected to request parliamentary approval for a new cabinet headed by Joseph Ileo, moderate Senate leader whom he has chosen to replace Lumumba.

But observers wondered whether Parliament could do much to break the deadlock, tightened by the insistence of each leader that he has fired the other.

The feud turned into violence Tuesday night when Congo troops backing Lumumba beat and clubbed Kasavubu supporters demonstrating against the premier.

Taking a stronger hand to stem the growing threat of civil war, the U.N. command seized the government radio network thus silencing Lumumba who had counted on his oratory to woo the Congolese.

(But Kasavubu circumvented U.N. radio control by broadcasting from Brazzaville, across the Congo River from Leopoldville in the former French colony now called the Congo Republic. Kasavubu declared he still is the Congo's chief of state and his ministers had no power to depose him. In his broadcast, monitored in London, the president said he could count on the Congo army to support him in his struggle with Lumumba whom he accused of plunging the country toward dictatorship and Communism.)

Money Paid To Take Off 'Pressure'

Note Read To Crime Commission Brings Hobbs Into Picture

WHEELING (AP) — A pinball machine distributor testified today that he paid $200 a month to a Weirton city official to be allowed to operate.

Peter Orenzuk of Weirton told the West Virginia Crime Commission that he made the payments starting in 1955 to Carl Frankovitch, who was then the Weirton city attorney.

Introduced and read to the commission while Orenzuk was in the witness chair was a sworn statement he made in 1957. The affidavit was witnessed by former State Police Capt. W. W. Murphy, now an investigator for the commission.

In the affidavit, Orenzuk said it was his understanding that with the $200, Frankovitch would "take care of at least five city councilmen."

Orenzuk said Rodak told him later that he never got any of the money.

The affidavit said the payments to Frankovitch continued from September 1955 to July 1956. But in his oral testimony today, Orenzuk said he did not think they went on that long.

He gave this account of how he came to start the payments:

Weirton police were harrassing establishments which exhibited Orenzuk's pinball machines. The operators would be hauled in periodically and required to post $106 on a gambling charge which would later be forfeited.

It was at the suggestion of former Hancock County Sheriff Dick Wright, Orenzuk said, that he started the payments to Frankovitch to take the pressure off places exhibiting Orenzuk's machines.

However, Orenzuk said, even while the $200 payments were being made, exhibitors were being named in gambling charges and required to post $106.

"It got so we couldn't make ends meet," he testified. So Orenzuk and two other persons went to Mayor Samuel Kusic and complained.

Orenzuk related that Kusic said he had not known about the $200 payments and that they should be stopped. No payments to Frankovitch were made after that, Orenzuk said.

Commission Counsel F. Dean Nichols questioned Orenzuk about a letter which was read to the commission. It was an unsigned typed copy dated May 24, 1957, addressed to Gov. Underwood and bore the typed signature of Orenzuk.

The letter said that earlier in that month Hancock County Sheriff Clayton Hobbs and county Republican James M. Ravoira "had me before them in connection with paying $25 a month" on each of 35 pinball machines which Orenzuk then had at various places in the county.

The letter asked Underwood to order an investigation.

"I don't even recall that letter," Orenzuk testified.

As to Hobbs and Ravoira, "neither one of those people approached me. . .I'm almost certain I've never had any conversation along those lines with either of those people."

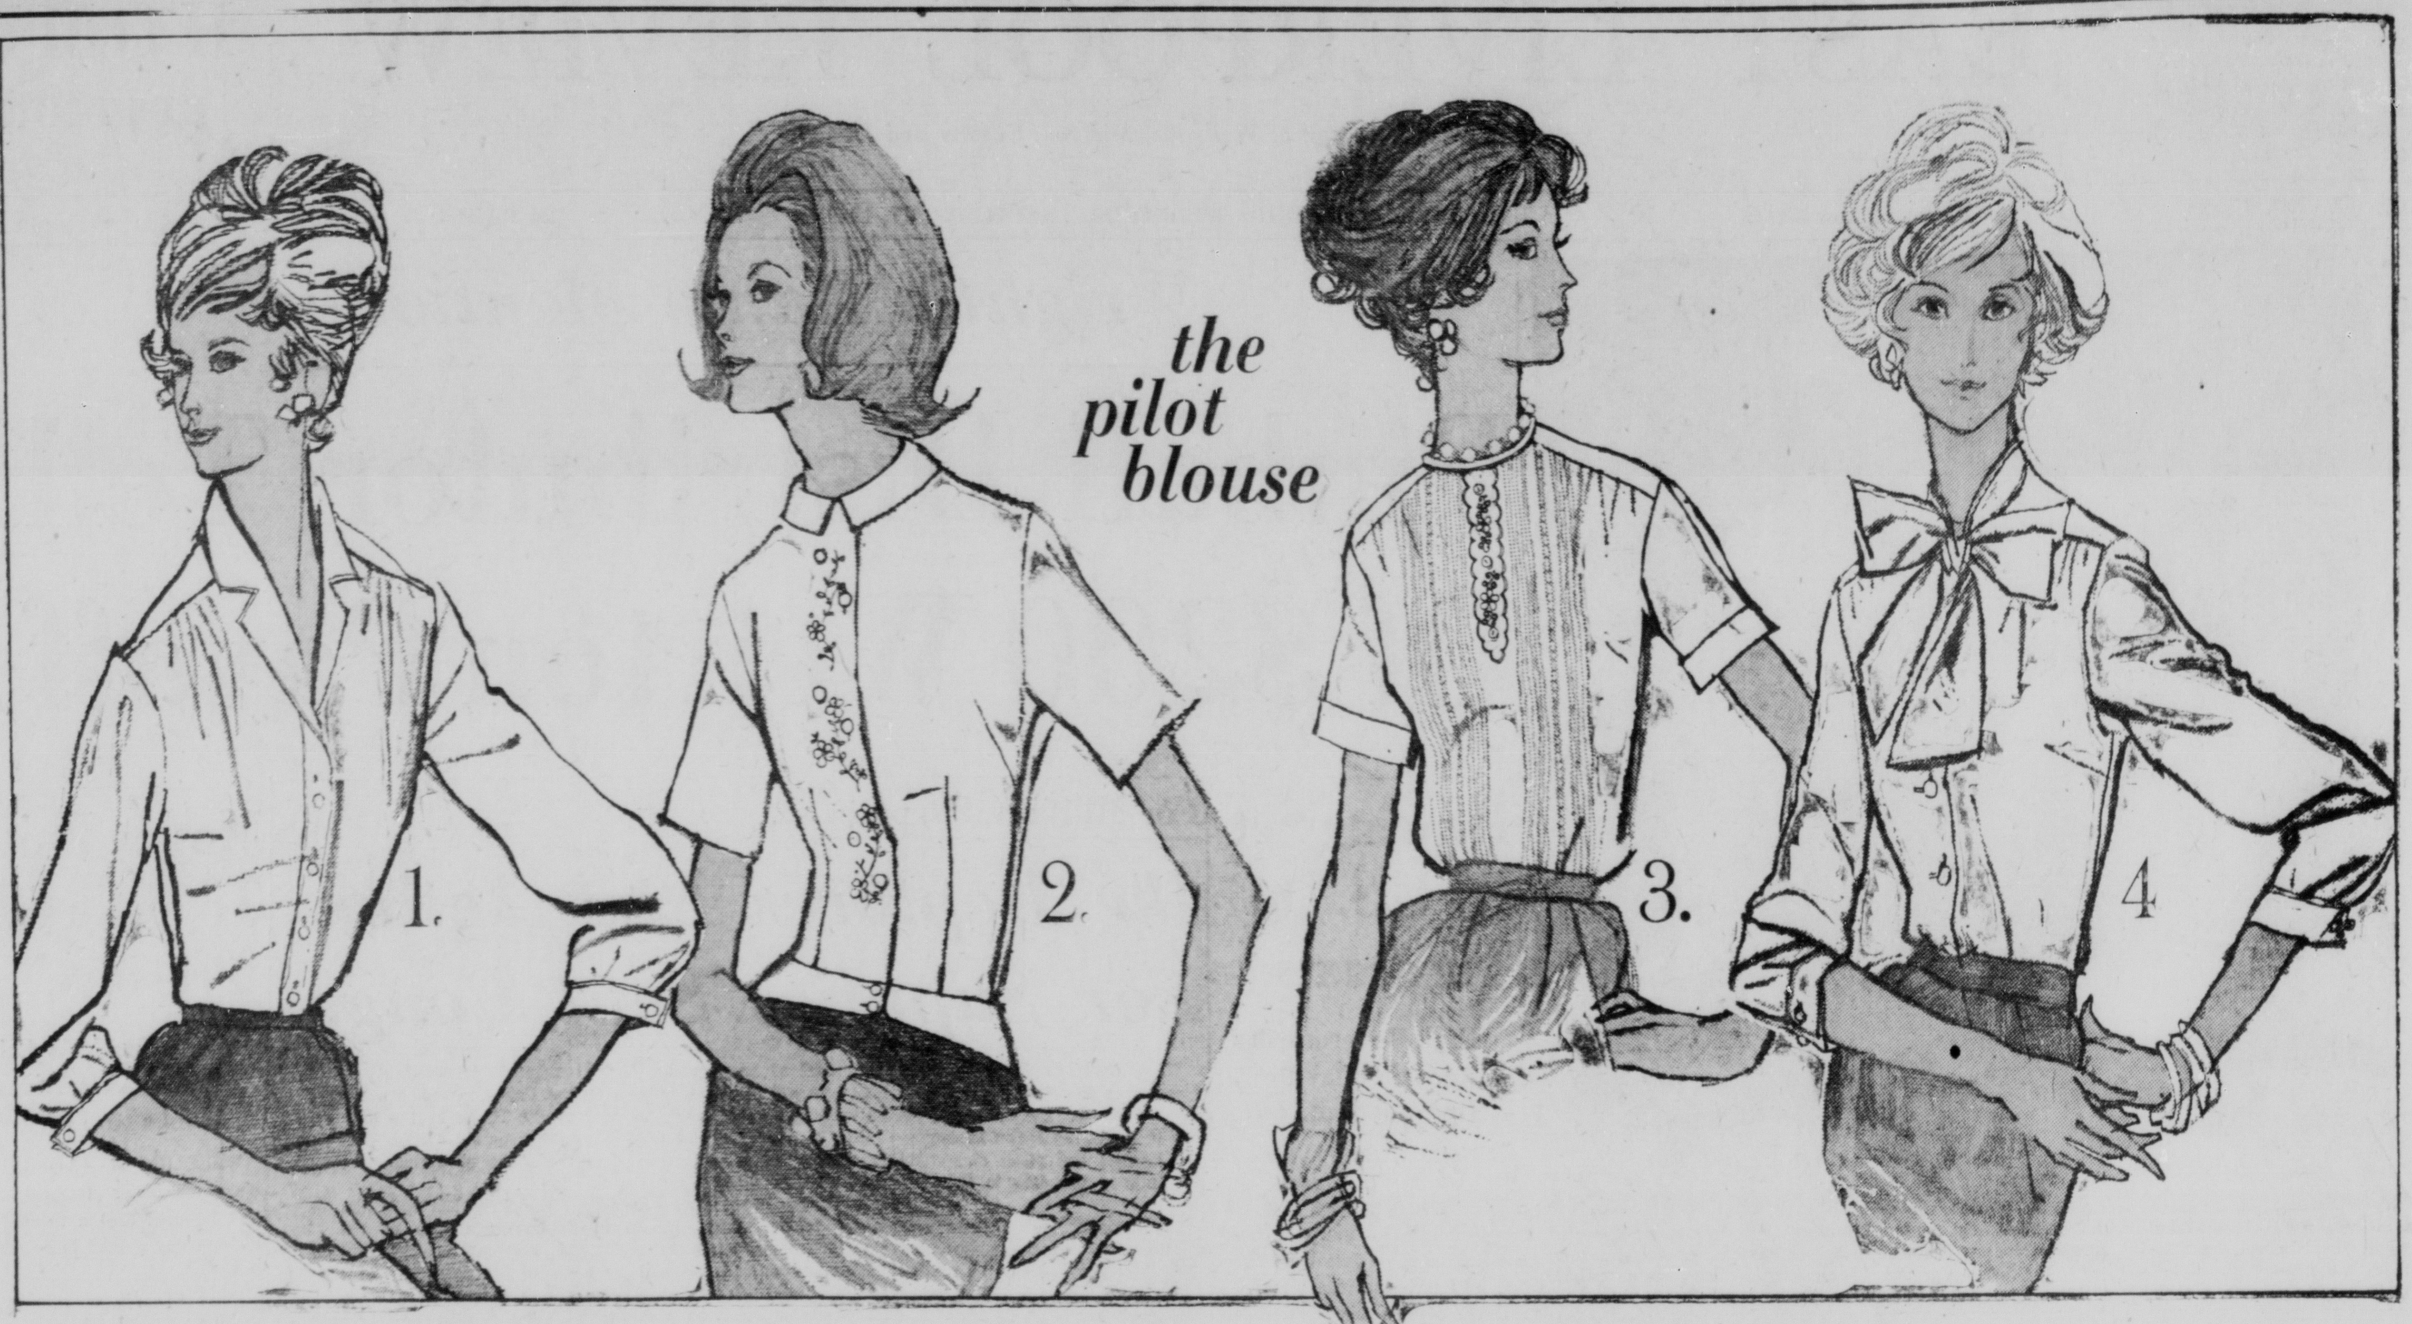

Del. J. Horner Davis II, D. Kanawha, tried to find whether one of Orenzuk's lawyers might have written the letter. Orenzuk said that if one did, he didn't recall it.

Del. Ward Dawson, R. Morgan., asked Nichols where he got the letter. Nichols replied that he did not want to answer until the commission was in closed session.

Orenzuk testified that in the period when pressure was being put on his exhibitors, he found himself being shoved out of desirable locations and another pinball ma-

Collins Tells Of Crackdown

Pinball Distributor Bares $200 Payoffs In Weirton

"Phillips wasn't having trouble," Orenzuk said.

Orenzuk said he distributed only pinball machines and as far as he was concerned they were not gambling devices. In his affidavit, he said he understood Phillips distributed slot machines as well as pinball machines.

Phillips was one of two witnesses who were still among the missing today, second day of the commission's inquiry into reported vice in the state's northern panhandle. The other was Charles F. (Chuck) Teemer of McKeesport, Pa., and Florida.

They were among approximately 80 witnesses for whom the commission had issued subpoenas to appear this week at the hearings in the Ohio County Circuit Courtroom here. The subpoenas had been served on all except Teemer and Phillips.

Teemer's case was one of lack of jurisdiction to serve a subpoena on an out-of-state resident. In Phillips' case, commission sources said it was a matter of the sheriff's office in Hancock County not being able to locate him.

Internal Revenue Service records list Teemer as the holder of a federal license for gaming devices at the Club 30, east of Chester on U.S. 30 in Hancock County. Teemer and the Club 30 figured prominently in Tuesday's testimony before the commission.

One witness yesterday who mentioned Teemer and the club was former State Police Maj. Basil E. Wright. He spent almost 24 years in the department and from December, 1956, to November, 1958, was second in command.

Wright testified that after a gambling raid on the Club 30 in June, 1957, Teemer came to his office in the Capitol in Charleston.

"He didn't seem to understand why it had been raided," Wright testified.

Sam Kusic, mayor of Weirton from 1955 to 1959, testified that he once was informed Teemer wanted to see him and that he "reluctantly agreed to go." Weirton is Hancock County's largest municipality.

Kusic said that he met Teemer in a park in Youngstown, Ohio, and that "he asked me if I could help him keep the Club 30 open." Kusic said he replied that there was nothing he could do.

Former State Police Capt. C. L. Hawkins, now the South Charleston police chief, told about an earlier planned raid on the Club 30 which didn't come off. At the time, Hawkins was commander of State Police Company A, which has Hancock County in its territory.

Hawkins, in a written statement filed with the commission, said that State Police Supt. Hazen Fair was notified in advance of the raid, in compliance with Fair's orders.

While State Policemen from a wide area were assembling for the raid, Hawkins continued, "a large black Cadillac" drove up to the club. It's arrival was followed by "considerable scurrying around" in the club. In the belief that there had been a tipoff, State Police called off the raid. Hawkins said that troopers later followed the Cadillac and found it belonged to a J. M. Ravoira. The Hancock County Republican chairman is James M. Ravoira.

Two witnesses yesterday chose to testify in closed session, with the public and newsmen excluded. One was State Police Cpl. D. L. Talbott, formerly stationed at Weirton and now at Marlinton. The other was Lyle Virden of New Cumberland, a member of the Hancock County Court.

Virden told a newsman afterward that he "made accusations against certain law officials in Hancock County for failure to do their duty." He did not elaborate.

The 1960 legislative resolution which created the Crime Commission gave witnesses a choice of testifying in open session or in private.

Two newsmen from broadcasting station KDKA in Pittsburgh, Mike Lavine and Francis George, also were witnesses. The commission listened to playbacks of two August, 1959, broadcasts in which the reporters told of their visit to investigate reports of illegal activity in Hancock County.

Lavine described the Jockey Club, across U.S. 30 from the Club 30, as "a sight to match anything in Las Vegas."

Ray Collins testified that he ordered a crackdown on illegal activities — he mentioned liquor and slot machines — soon after he was elected mayor of Chester last June. He said he believed a majority of people in the town "wanted it that way."

Collins, 38, said he began a crackdown on July 20 by informing Council "My policy is no gambling or illegal sale of whisky." He added that, at the present time, "As far as I know there is neither in Chester."

Following the Council meeting, Collins said he and members of the police department "hit" all 13 taverns and fraternal organizations in Chester. "We found liquor being displayed out in the open and slot machines were found in the two veteran's organizations," the mayor added.

"Since that time, one raid was made but nothing was found. Our policemen make periodic checks of the establishments and haven't found any violations since then."

A petition backing up Mayor Collins' actions was presented to the commission yesterday morning by a delegation of 15 Chester residents. Donald Chaney, a spokesman for the citizens, said the petition "backs up Chester Mayor Ray Collins 100 per cent in his efforts to clean up the city."

James Ravoira Asks For 'Closed' Session

room for a crane to remove the debris, Staats charged.

"The city blames me for all this, but I'll stand up for my rights," Staats said.

Earlier, Cooper indicated the city would seek an injunction action in Common Pleas Court to compel Staats to remove the debris which the municipality claims is responsible for repeated overflows of the run onto Virginia Ave.

After the legislation was approved, Councilman Clinton R. Seevers commented: "This should start some action." Councilman Donald Hancock added: "At least it will determine who is responsible."

James I. Wallover, operator of the Wallover Oil Co. on Virginia Ave., said his firm's two delivery trucks have been affected by the high water several times. It was necessary to remove the wheels and clean the bearings and brake linings before the trucks could be operated again, he said.

"I feel there must be a law in the state of Ohio which prohibits obstructing a free-flowing natural watercourse," he said. "I feel it is up to Council to determine with the solicitor if that run is the responsibility of the city or the property-owners. If that could be cleared up, 90 per cent of the trouble could be eliminated."

A spokesman for the Kerr Lumber Co., also on Virginia Ave., said 8½ feet of water invaded the firm's cellar in the storm, damaging a hot water tank, a wall and other property. It was the third flood within a month, he added.

But a drain underneath the nearby railroad tracks is blocked again, which means "the next rain will flood the street again," he said.

Mrs. Robert Tice, one of the operators of the Bob Tice Grocery on St. George St., deplored the damage caused to her property in the flood, but thanked the city crews for their cleanup work.

"What we want to know is this: What, if anything, is being done about this creek?" she told Council.

Dr. J. K. Rugh of Ohio Ave. told Council of the damage that resulted in his residential area when water poured off Virginia Ave. and across Ohio Ave. before falling over the river bank. He said his lawn was ruined, his driveway was washed out, 18 inches of water came into the cellar of his home and more water flooded his garage.

If the water had not been diverted by neighbors, it would have entered the adjoining home of Dr. W. J. Horger, he said. Dr. Rugh charged that the storm sewer system in the area is non-existent or inadequate.

Part of the trouble apparently resulted from installation of an interceptor sewer to carry waste to the sewage treatment plant in West End, he added.

Smith Scott Jr., 1110 Railroad St., said his basement was flooded, damaging the motor on a clothes washer and drier.

One complaint was filed by a Beechwood resident. Fred Crawford of Anderson Blvd. said slag and mud washed onto his property and those of others nearby. He asked aid in the cleanup work.

Anderson Blvd. had an adequate drainage ditch until three years ago, when it was filled as a prelude to a proposed widening of the street, he said. Although the ditch was closed, the street never was widened and the storm water since has become a problem, he added.

Council also received a petition requesting work on the streets and storm sewer ditches on Center St., Beechwood. It was referred to the director.

gram had been rejected. Robinson said the bid was on asphalt and the specifications called for tar.

Mrs. Mary Rahter, Council president, said that in the future she believes that all bids should be carefully scrutinized. She said an engineer told her that asphalt is just as good as other products for this type of work.

Mayor William J. Shoub said the Board of Control can act legally only on bids that follow the specifications. The successful bidder was the Tri-State Asphalt Co. The mayor became rather heated and said that "things were being intimated." Mrs. Rahter said she did not mean for her remarks to be construed in this manner.

It was pointed out that $7,000 was appropriated for the repair program and $3,240 more is needed to meet the contract.

During the discussion as to where all the money is to come from, Miller said he was resigning, remarking that "everybody around here knows it all, so let them take over."

A motion was then made to appropriate the $3,000 for the street materials fund. Councilmen Nelson, Miller and Robert E. Taggart opposed. But, the motion did not specify where the money was to come from and Solicitor William Bush pointed out the motion was illegal unless the money was to come from the contingency fund.

Another motion was then made to table the first. The request for funds was then referred to the finance committee.

A discussion then arose over the possibility of the city receiving some additional money from the State Liquor Control Board from licenses. The finance committee is to check.

Nelsons's remarks about an income tax came after he made his report as chairman of the refuse committee. He said the committee is considering a rate increase on garbage collections.

"I also would like to have Council consider an income tax. It's the fairest tax you can get," he said, continuing that "if East Liverpool gets it, we should have it also."

Councilman Clarence Cartwright said that it possibly would have a chance if civic organizations asked for it. Mrs. Rahter suggested that a representative of Council call on the organizations.

Ralston said he wanted to go on record as opposing such a tax. "We are taxed too heavily now," he said.

Miller said "I'm against taxes, but if I have to pay, I would rather pay in Wellsville."

Nelson remarked he would like to see the proposal, even if it fails in East Liverpool. Taggart said it would work a hardship on families with three or more children. Miller asked Taggart if he would pay in Midland. Taggart said "I'll pay it if forced on me, but I won't force it on anybody else."

1,914 Students Start Classes At Wellsville

Supt. S. E. Daw said the exact count will not be known for a few days.

He said the enrollment in the first grades appears lighter than anticipated while the other grades are about normal.

The attendance last year on opening day was 1,900.

More are expected to enroll in the junior high school, Daw said.

"Phillips wasn't having trouble," Orenzuk said.

Orenzuk said he distributed only pinball machines and as far as he was concerned they were not gambling devices. In his affidavit, he said he understood Phillips distributed slot machines as well as pinball machines.

Phillips was one of two witnesses who were still among the missing today, second day of the commission's inquiry into reported vice in the state's northern panhandle. The other was Charles F. (Chuck) Teemer of McKeesport, Pa., and Florida.

They were among approximately 80 witnesses for whom the commission had issued subpoenas to appear this week at the hearings in the Ohio County Circuit Courtroom here. The subpoenas had been served on all except Teemer and Phillips.

Teemer's case was one of lack of jurisdiction to serve a subpoena on an out-of-state resident. In Phillips' case, commission sources said it was a matter of the sheriff's office in Hancock County not being able to locate him.

Internal Revenue Service records list Teemer as the holder of a federal license for gaming devices at the Club 30, east of Chester on U.S. 30 in Hancock County. Teemer and the Club 30 figured prominently in Tuesday's testimony before the commission.

One witness yesterday who mentioned Teemer and the club was former State Police Maj. Basil E. Wright. He spent almost 24 years in the department and from December, 1956, to November, 1958, was second in command.

Wright testified that after a gambling raid on the Club 30 in June, 1957, Teemer came to his office in the Capitol in Charleston.

"He didn't seem to understand why it had been raided," Wright testified.

Sam Kusic, mayor of Weirton from 1955 to 1959, testified that he once was informed Teemer wanted to see him and that he "reluctantly agreed to go." Weirton is Hancock County's largest municipality.

Kusic said that he met Teemer in a park in Youngstown, Ohio, and that "he asked me if I could help him keep the Club 30 open." Kusic said he replied that there was nothing he could do.

Former State Police Capt. C. L. Hawkins, now the South Charleston police chief, told about an earlier planned raid on the Club 30 which didn't come off. At the time, Hawkins was commander of State Police Company A, which has Hancock County in its territory.

Hawkins, in a written statement filed with the commission, said that State Police Supt. Hazen Fair was notified in advance of the raid, in compliance with Fair's orders.

While State Policemen from a wide area were assembling for the raid, Hawkins continued, "a large black Cadillac" drove up to the club. It's arrival was followed by "considerable scurrying around" in the club. In the belief that there had been a tipoff, State Police called off the raid. Hawkins said that troopers later followed the Cadillac and found it belonged to a J. M. Ravoira. The Hancock County Republican chairman is James M. Ravoira.

Two witnesses yesterday chose to testify in closed session, with the public and newsmen excluded. One was State Police Cpl. D. L. Talbott, formerly stationed at Weirton and now at Marlinton. The other was Lyle Virden of New Cumberland, a member of the Hancock County Court.

Virden told a newsman afterward that he "made accusations against certain law officials in Hancock County for failure to do their duty." He did not elaborate.

The 1960 legislative resolution which created the Crime Commission gave witnesses a choice of testifying in open session or in private.

Two newsmen from broadcasting station KDKA in Pittsburgh, Mike Lavine and Francis George, also were witnesses. The commission listened to playbacks of two August, 1959, broadcasts in which the reporters told of their visit to investigate reports of illegal activity in Hancock County.

Lavine described the Jockey Club, across U.S. 30 from the Club 30, as "a sight to match anything in Las Vegas."

Ray Collins testified that he ordered a crackdown on illegal activities — he mentioned liquor and slot machines — soon after he was elected mayor of Chester last June. He said he believed a majority of people in the town "wanted it that way."

Collins, 38, said he began a crackdown on July 20 by informing Council "My policy is no gambling or illegal sale of whisky." He added that, at the present time, "As far as I know there is neither in Chester."

Following the Council meeting, Collins said he and members of the police department "hit" all 13 taverns and fraternal organizations in Chester. "We found liquor being displayed out in the open and slot machines were found in the two veteran's organizations," the mayor added.

"Since that time, one raid was made but nothing was found. Our policemen make periodic checks of the establishments and haven't found any violations since then."

A petition backing up Mayor Collins' actions was presented to the commission yesterday morning by a delegation of 15 Chester residents. Donald Chaney, a spokesman for the citizens, said the petition "backs up Chester Mayor Ray Collins 100 per cent in his efforts to clean up the city."

James Ravoira Asks For 'Closed' Session

room for a crane to remove the debris, Staats charged.

"The city blames me for all this, but I'll stand up for my rights," Staats said.

Earlier, Cooper indicated the city would seek an injunction action in Common Pleas Court to compel Staats to remove the debris which the municipality claims is responsible for repeated overflows of the run onto Virginia Ave.

After the legislation was approved, Councilman Clinton R. Seevers commented: "This should start some action." Councilman Donald Hancock added: "At least it will determine who is responsible."

James I. Wallover, operator of the Wallover Oil Co. on Virginia Ave., said his firm's two delivery trucks have been affected by the high water several times. It was necessary to remove the wheels and clean the bearings and brake linings before the trucks could be operated again, he said.

"I feel there must be a law in the state of Ohio which prohibits obstructing a free-flowing natural watercourse," he said. "I feel it is up to Council to determine with the solicitor if that run is the responsibility of the city or the property-owners. If that could be cleared up, 90 per cent of the trouble could be eliminated."

A spokesman for the Kerr Lumber Co., also on Virginia Ave., said 8½ feet of water invaded the firm's cellar in the storm, damaging a hot water tank, a wall and other property. It was the third flood within a month, he added.

But a drain underneath the nearby railroad tracks is blocked again, which means "the next rain will flood the street again," he said.

Mrs. Robert Tice, one of the operators of the Bob Tice Grocery on St. George St., deplored the damage caused to her property in the flood, but thanked the city crews for their cleanup work.

"What we want to know is this: What, if anything, is being done about this creek?" she told Council.

Dr. J. K. Rugh of Ohio Ave. told Council of the damage that resulted in his residential area when water poured off Virginia Ave. and across Ohio Ave. before falling over the river bank. He said his lawn was ruined, his driveway was washed out, 18 inches of water came into the cellar of his home and more water flooded his garage.

If the water had not been diverted by neighbors, it would have entered the adjoining home of Dr. W. J. Horger, he said. Dr. Rugh charged that the storm sewer system in the area is non-existent or inadequate.

Part of the trouble apparently resulted from installation of an interceptor sewer to carry waste to the sewage treatment plant in West End, he added.

Smith Scott Jr., 1110 Railroad St., said his basement was flooded, damaging the motor on a clothes washer and drier.

One complaint was filed by a Beechwood resident. Fred Crawford of Anderson Blvd. said slag and mud washed onto his property and those of others nearby. He asked aid in the cleanup work.

Anderson Blvd. had an adequate drainage ditch until three years ago, when it was filled as a prelude to a proposed widening of the street, he said. Although the ditch was closed, the street never was widened and the storm water since has become a problem, he added.

Council also received a petition requesting work on the streets and storm sewer ditches on Center St., Beechwood. It was referred to the director.

gram had been rejected. Robinson said the bid was on asphalt and the specifications called for tar.

Mrs. Mary Rahter, Council president, said that in the future she believes that all bids should be carefully scrutinized. She said an engineer told her that asphalt is just as good as other products for this type of work.

Mayor William J. Shoub said the Board of Control can act legally only on bids that follow the specifications. The successful bidder was the Tri-State Asphalt Co. The mayor became rather heated and said that "things were being intimated." Mrs. Rahter said she did not mean for her remarks to be construed in this manner.

It was pointed out that $7,000 was appropriated for the repair program and $3,240 more is needed to meet the contract.

During the discussion as to where all the money is to come from, Miller said he was resigning, remarking that "everybody around here knows it all, so let them take over."

A motion was then made to appropriate the $3,000 for the street materials fund. Councilmen Nelson, Miller and Robert E. Taggart opposed. But, the motion did not specify where the money was to come from and Solicitor William Bush pointed out the motion was illegal unless the money was to come from the contingency fund.

Another motion was then made to table the first. The request for funds was then referred to the finance committee.

A discussion then arose over the possibility of the city receiving some additional money from the State Liquor Control Board from licenses. The finance committee is to check.

Nelsons's remarks about an income tax came after he made his report as chairman of the refuse committee. He said the committee is considering a rate increase on garbage collections.

"I also would like to have Council consider an income tax. It's the fairest tax you can get," he said, continuing that "if East Liverpool gets it, we should have it also."

Councilman Clarence Cartwright said that it possibly would have a chance if civic organizations asked for it. Mrs. Rahter suggested that a representative of Council call on the organizations.

Ralston said he wanted to go on record as opposing such a tax. "We are taxed too heavily now," he said.

Miller said "I'm against taxes, but if I have to pay, I would rather pay in Wellsville."

Nelson remarked he would like to see the proposal, even if it fails in East Liverpool. Taggart said it would work a hardship on families with three or more children. Miller asked Taggart if he would pay in Midland. Taggart said "I'll pay it if forced on me, but I won't force it on anybody else."

LaCroft, 212; Lincoln, 317; McKinley, 278; Neville, 202; Pleasant Heights, 211; Taft, 219; Westgate elementary, 679, and special education classes, 49.

Enrollment for first-day classes at St. Aloysius Parochial School totaled 520, including 71 first graders, Sister Mary Ritamarie, principal, said.

A brief session was held Tuesday and classes will be dismissed early in the afternoon for the remainder of this week, she said.

1,914 Students Start Classes At Wellsville

Supt. S. E. Daw said the exact count will not be known for a few days.

He said the enrollment in the first grades appears lighter than anticipated while the other grades are about normal.

The attendance last year on opening day was 1,900.

More are expected to enroll in the junior high school, Daw said.

Martin And Mitchell Sing A Duet

There could be a dozen good reasons why William H. Martin and Bernon F. Mitchell left the United States to become citizens of the Soviet Union.

It is shortsighted to look at only the one that they are holding up to view—the reason that says they admired the Soviet Union and hated the United States because they believed it was leading the world into war.

As employes of the National Security Agency, the two men may have become involved in a violation of security regulations that made it imperative for them to flee.

They may have been bought and paid for by the Soviet Union, which is making a great thing of buying ideological canaries that will sing its tunes.

It is possible they may have drifted into some kind of compromising situation that would make them vulnerable to blackmail.

They may have been used to test the possibilities of Soviet-controlled Cuba as the newest thing in "escape routes" for U.S. citizens drawn to the center of the Communist Conspiracy.

The two men may have personality flaws that made them susceptible to the psychological conditioning that still has not been recognized as the most dangerous threat of the Sino-Soviet bid for world domination.

They may be nothing more or less than the kind of young men, ranging from highly educated Americans at one extreme to the illiterate soldiers who defected in Korea at the other extreme, who find it easier to admire what they know nothing about abroad than to condone what they know something about at home.

They could be adventurers, fed up with the monotony of the life they have been living and anxious to try something new.

And we hope sincerely their new country's government will bear in mind that they probably are U.S. spies who have sneaked into the citadel of Marxist Communism in the guise of being discontented Americans.

The Soviet Union will be well advised not to underestimate the Martin-Mitchell duet when it sings. This is a pair that will bear watching, and this is a pair that will be watched as closely as Khrushchev will watch Molotov.

No Russian worth his kopeks will be fooled by bosh about defection. These two fellows were on a reconnaissance flight over Moscow and came down alive and talking, like Francis Powers.

Better Take It Easy, Boys

President Eisenhower has pointed out that the issue should not be agitated, even though it exists.

Sen. Kennedy has asked that the issue be left out of discussion of campaign issues, because it is not a campaign issue.

Former President Truman, on the other hand, has taken an improper and indefensible position by blaming Vice President Nixon for "racial, religious and anti-union bigotry by way of the back door."

Sen. Henry M. Jackson, Democratic national chairman, has taken the same line by blaming Mr. Nixon for religious bigotry in the campaign.

These are serious accusations. They are as serious as if prominent Republicans had accused Sen. Kennedy of being personally guilty of everything reprehensible that has been done or might be done by his friends in the campaign.

Neither Mr. Kennedy nor Mr. Nixon can control all the people who are working for them. Many things will be said and done by Kennedy workers that the candidate, himself, would not have approved of if consulted. Many things will be said and done by Nixon workers that would not have been consented to by their candidate.

Mr. Nixon, of course, is in more danger of being accused of religious bigotry than Mr. Kennedy, because only Mr. Kennedy's religion is involved in the religious issue. This makes Mr. Nixon the target of a charge that is certain to be fired often in the 1960 campaign.

It is bad politics in the United States in 1960 to be accused of religious bigotry. It would be worse politics to be guilty.

It is going to be good politics, on the other hand, to accuse someone else of religious bigotry, which is why Harry Truman has been eager to be first to make the accusation against the only politician of his time he ever was unable to intimidate with his "give-em-hell" technique.

The fact that Mr. Truman was so politically bigoted that he tried to hurt Kennedy by staying away from the Democratic convention is still remembered by the rest of us.

A bigot can be obstinately devoted to his political party, his opinion, or his belief, as well as to his church. Many bigoted Americans are prone to cast the aspersion of bigotry on others, without understanding it.

We are sure that former President Truman is not one of them. He knows what bigotry is as well as he knows that neither Vice President Nixon nor Sen. Kennedy can be held responsible for religious bigotry in the 1960 campaign.

Firebug In The Firehouse

When the president and premier of the Republic of Congo fired each other, it marked the end of all attempts to make sense out of the troubled country's events.

Secretary-General Hammarskjold of the United Nations must be as confused by this time as the rest of us, in spite of his recent first-hand observations. And as each day passes more people will be wanting to know what he thinks about the obvious fact in the Congo muddle.

How does he feel about having a firebug in the U.N. "fire department"?

How does he feel about the Soviet Union's unconcealed role of stirring up the trouble the United Nations must put down before any government can maintain order in the Congo?

Attempts to evaluate the merits of untried Congolese eager to try their hand at running the government are a waste of time, unless the Soviet Union quits throwing gasoline on hot tempers.

As a permanent member of the U.N. Security Council, the Soviet Union has an obligation to support all U.N. efforts, including the one now in progress to cool off hot tempers in the Congo.

Instead, the Soviet Union is being faithful to its ideological zeal to take advantage of every unsettled political situation on earth, with a view to making converts for the Communist Conspiracy.

Secretary-General Hammarskjold is like a fire chief trying to quench all the fires that can be set by a firebug working with thousands of fire brands in the fire house. The U.N. aide's dilemma is showing the world, however, just what the fire threat poses from the Kremlin.

Louisiana Loved Long

In a rational world, Earl K. Long of Louisiana and his brother, Huey P. Long, were top examples of irrational politics in the United States.

Earl and other relatives made meteoric careers out of the demagogic momentum of the first of the Longs to discover what Louisianans loved in politics. The prescription is now an "old family recipe" in all states, but it has special appeal in Louisiana.

Congress had not looked with pleasure on the prospect of having Earl Long in the House of Representatives next year. Even in an irrational world and a state whose politics outdoes the going rate of irrationality, there had been legal doubts of Earl's sanity. Louisiana voters loved him, though.

In a Louisiana voter's world, there isn't much that's rational anyway.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Westinghouse announces device through which housewife can sit in phone booth and cook, start washing machine, defrost refrigerator, turn on lights, etc. at home. It's all done through an electronics relay-box connected with automatic equipment in the home.

Idea of the missus whipping up his dinner from department store basement or drugstore phone may give husband his indigestion in advance. (Suppose the wife gets a wrong number and starts cooking in Mrs. Smith's bungalow by mistake?)

New device links the phone more closely into housework and may mean a new kick to complaint operator: "Lissen, my roast beef didn't start cooking on time. The phone service is terrible."

Westinghouse, when it markets the device, may be going far out on a limb. Suppose something goes wrong, the wife uses the phone to start dinner and the icebox is defrosted instead, or vice versa?

What if she phones to start a flame under the beef stew and, through an electronics error, she bakes a cake?

Science marches on, but won't this devise make the missus more of a gaddabout than ever? This can prolong shopping trips, cocktail parties and garden club meetings and ease household duties to a point where the missus will be as late as the husband getting home, causing many a photo finish.

Next step will be to develop gadget to a point where phone can be used to start an automatic baby sitter, make Little Willie wash behind his ears and leave a message to the old man: "If dinner is not ready call the phone company. Will be late again today. Love. Jennifer."

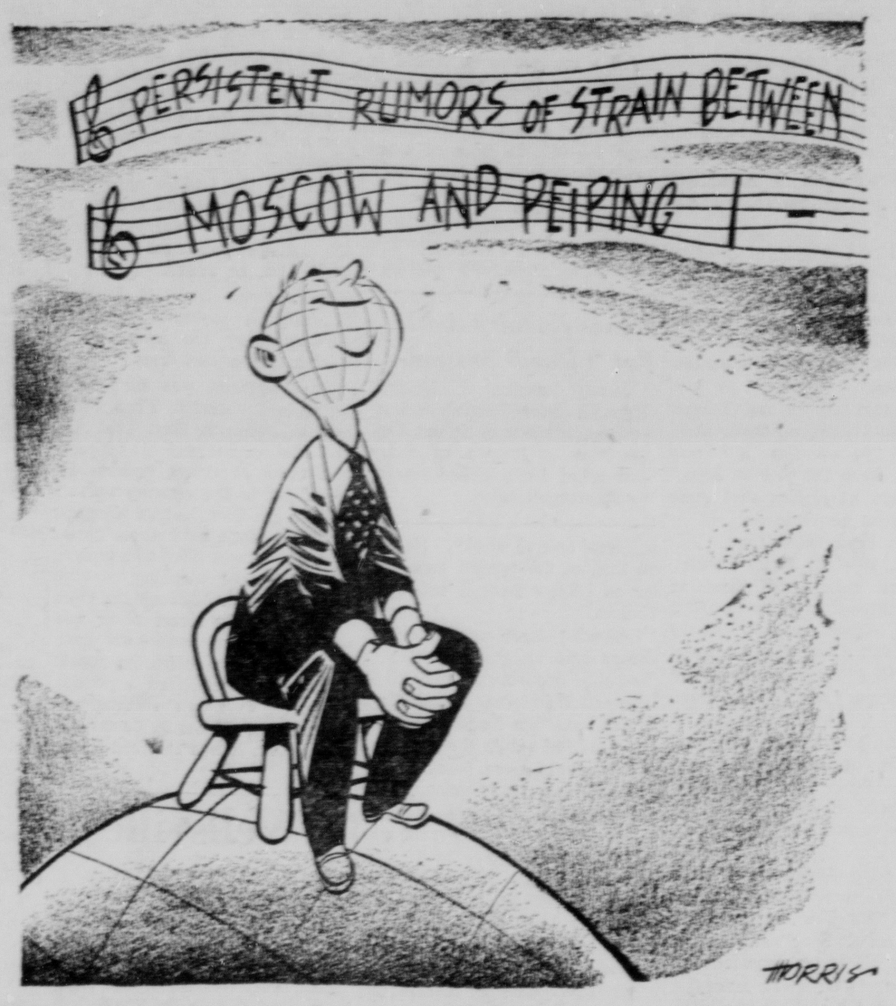

And, of course, if husband complains he will get reply "If you don't like the way I run this house, take it up with the electronics experts."

FIFTY MORE NEW YORK policemen have been found to be working at outside jobs. These are strange days when cops are busy on NON-DUTY.

Summer observation: It's a great life if you don't WEEKEND.

U.S. Fish and Wild Life Service will hold sale of elk and buffalo to public. One hundred and eight dollars will get you a whole buffalo. Elks come at $100 per. That's alive on the hoof, which fails to appeal to us. We are always upset when the bell rings and the man says "I have a buffalo for you." How to get one in the icebox baffles me and we have no buffalo or elk closet.

Machinists' Bid Skipped By Nixon

By Victor Riesel

Victor Riesel

The request, which apparently never reached the vice president's desk was from the leadership of a progressive and rather mammoth union, the International Assn. of Machinists.

After waiting a while, its president, Al J. Hayes, personally telephoned Len Hall' manager of Nixon's forces. They talked and Hayes was told there would be a call back. It never came.

Yet many of the delegates to the Machinists' convention in St. Louis, which the vice president had been asked to address, have considerable influence in California.

It is true that most of the 1,300 convention delegates who are gathering in the Missouri city are more excited about John Kennedy than they have been about any other Democratic candidate since Franklin Roosevelt in 1936. They create JFK in the image of FDR —as do most of their colleagues inside labor.

Yet when Hayes invited Kennedy, the Democrat did not take any vote for granted. He scheduled a speech on a Tuesday night as a stopover on his way to Texas from hectic campaigning in California.

IT IS THIS comaraderie which is tying the labor people to Kennedy. He is reaching them as Adlai Stevenson never could.

That's why topside and many lower echelons are out there breaking their vocal chords and straining their treasuries for him.

Never has Mr. Labor himself, AFL-CIO president, George Meany, been so enthusiastic over a candidate.

In the next few weeks, Meany has scheduled six major talks for Kennedy — and has pledged to hit the hustings with six or eight a week as ballot time rolls in.

One of Meany's pet projects in this drive is the registration campaign. It has a routine sound until you get an inside view of its operation. For this I went over into northern New Jersey the other day.

Sure enough, there I found the unions teaching some of the elders of ancient Democratic machines handed down by such masters as Frank Hague.

The labor people, paced mostly by Walter Reuther's auto organization aides, had seen to it that hundreds of bright college kids were hired early in the summer at $1.50 an hour. The vacationing students were briefed thoroughly on a mass survey "in depth."

THEY WORKED from a script written for use after they knocked on every door. It runs something like this:

"Hello, I'm your neighbor. Are you registered? No. Are you a Democrat or Republican?"

At this point the script said, "Make a polite exit if you find a Republican." Say something about, "Even if we differ, we agree on registration." Then leave.

If it is a Democrat, ask about the others in the family are there any now turning 21; give the neighbor a list of requirements for registration and tell them about Democratic activities.

Before Sept. 29, every house in every residential district will have been surveyed.

As the information pours into a central headquarters, it is broken down and prepared for action in batches of 10 names. These are used on mobile registration days.

ON SUCH DAYS, the election officials open registration places in front of supermarkets, churches and movie houses. The books are open from 6 to 9 p.m.

Each student is handed a batch of 10 cards. He (or she) then gets to his special sector. If any of the 10 Democrats have not yet registered to vote, the student arranges to drive him to the supermarket, etc.

If there are children, the student babysits or calls central for a stand-in sit-in.

Literally tens of thousands have been registered here — and I understand in other northern states —with similar operations.

They're working hard for their man and not missing a single vote if they can help it — and they sure can.

Russia Does It Again

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Once again Russia has forced this country to do what it did in the U2 spy case: admit the whole story only after the Soviets exposed it to the rest of the world.

This time it involves two young mathematicians—William H. Martin and Bernon F. Mitchell—who defected to Russia from their jobs in the highly secret National Security Agency.

It raises a question. Since this government could have taken the sting out of Russian propaganda by revealing the truth before the Russians had a chance to, why didn't it do so?

It failed in the same way when U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers and his plane were brought down over Russia last May. When Premier Nikita Khrushchev disclosed the downing, he said the plane had been spying.

Not knowing whether Khrushchev was guessing or could prove what he said, the State Department denied Powers was on a spy mission. As it turned out, Khrushchev had been merely baiting the trap for such a denial by withholding all he knew.

Then he announced Powers had been captured alive and admitted the spying. The State Department then admitted the spying, too.

Last Aug. 1 the Defense Department announced it was searching for Martin and Mitchell who were overdue, after vacation, in their jobs at NSA, which is involved in very secret communications and codes.

The department said the two men, both bachelors and long-time friends who had served in the Navy together in the mid-1950s, had flown to Mexico City June 24. They were traced to Cuba.

On Aug. 5 the Defense Department said "it must be assumed that there is a likelihood" that the two missing employes "have gone behind the Iron Curtain."

What the Pentagon didn't disclose until Tuesday—and then only when forced into it by Mitchell and Martin—was this:

Early in August government investigators had found in a safe deposit box, where Martin and Mitchell had left it, a letter saying they had defected to Russia.

Tuesday in Moscow the Russians, with a great propaganda whoopdedoo, put the two Americans on exhibition at a news conference before Soviet and foreign newsmen.

The two code clerks, admitting they fled to Russia and expect to become Russian citizens, said the United States spies on its own allies. As an example, they mentioned Turkey. The Defense Department referred to their "false statements," but did not say which were false.

The pair read from what they said was a copy of a statement they had left in a safe deposit box, in Mitchell's name, in a Maryland bank in June.

On the envelope of the original statement, they said, they wrote a request that the contents be made public so that the American people would get an explanation of "why we decided to ask the Soviet Union to grant us political asylum."

Mitchell and Martin charged that the U.S. government took that statement and kept it secret because the "Eisenhower-Nixon administration does not wish certain aspects of its policies to become known to the American people."

Tuesday a Defense Department spokesman was asked why the government had kept this Mitchell-Martin letter under wraps since finding it in early August.

He said it was a statement of "two turncoats," its publication would have served Communist purposes only, and it was part of an investigation.

Mr. K - Gate Crasher

By David Lawrence

Red Leader Unwelcome In United States

So Nikita Khrushchev is coming to the United Nations General Assembly in New York later this month. Maybe, since he is trying to gets lots of publicity, he might even go on Jack Paar's TV show!

David Lawrence

As the Soviet boss will be arriving in the midst of the presidential campaign, he will have an opportunity to add to his insults of the outgoing President of the United States by insulting the next President, too.

The Soviet dictator just a few days ago called both Vice President Nixon and Sen. Kennedy "representatives of big capital" and "lackeys of monopoly capital." He became personal as he spoke contemptuously of Mr. Nixon as "the son of a grocery clerk."

Khrushchev continually shows his lack of understanding of the rules of common courtesy. He comes to this country despite the fact that he has not been invited. He blandly ignores his own action in extending an official invitation to the President of the United States to visit the Soviet Union and then cancelling it in pique.

Because the United Nations buildings happen to be located inside the United States and enjoy a kind of diplomatic status, the Soviet Premier can come to this country as the head of the Soviet delegation to the assembly without requiring any invitation or other action by the United States government.

One thing is clear. President Eisenhower is under no obligation to welcome the Soviet propagandaist-in-chief or to take official notice of his visit to America.

MR. EISENHOWER can make any speeches on disarmament that he wishes to make to the world. It is unlikely that the President will attend those sessions of the United Nations at which the Soviet Premier is present.

Just what is Khrushchev's game or real purpose in coming to the United Nations meeting? Propaganda, of course.

He believes that his speeches will get wider publicity than those on the Soviet viewpoint toward disarmament which might have otherwise been made by his foreign minister.

The Premier, in his own clumsy way, may think also that perhaps he is making a gesture of good will toward this country which will make up for the rudeness he exhibited at the Paris Summit Conference.

He may still be under the illusion that Mr. Eisenhower doesn't stand high in the opinion of the American people.

In fact, Khrushchev's speeches all along have given the impression that he believes the people of this country are friendlier to communism than is their own government and that it's only a question of time—perhaps a generation or two—when American "liberalism" will be indistinguishable from communism.

By coming to America now Nikita Khrushchev may be compounding the blunders has has committed in his previous handling of the United State's government's policies and pronouncements.

HE MADE a gross error by wrecking the Summit Coference at Paris when he might have given a concession here and there and gotten one in return which he could have propagandized before his own people as a big victory for peace.

But shrewd and agile-minded as the Soviet dictator is, he completely misunderstands American psychology. By his insults flung at Mr. Eisenhower at Paris, he did more to unify American public opinion behind the President than anybody on this side of the Atlantic could ever have done.

Today both nominees for the presidency are far from eager to embrace Khrushchev or to sit down with him at summit meetings.

Even so mild a comment as Sen. Kennedy made in a thoughtless moment on the stump a few weeks ago about "expressing regret" to the Soviet Premier has earned him widespread criticism.

It is a safe bet that the Massachusetts senator isn't going to get chummy with the Soviet Premier, either this month or next year if he should be elected President.

What will the people of New York City do or say about the Khrushchev visit?

He isn't officially visiting America but he will have to move to and from the U.N. buildings to the Russian-owned villa on Long Island where he will probably stay.

DEMONSTRATIONS are inevitable. The representatives of the captive countries will doubtless parade the streets with "welcome, murderer" signs.

For the kinsmen of those who were murdered on Khrushchev's order in Hungary cannot be polite to the man who is responsible also for the tyrannies being suffered today by the people of Poland, Czechoslovakia, Romania, Bulgaria, East Germany, Lithuania, Estonia and Latvia.

Just what can Khrushchev ever say about disarmament that anyone will believe?

He has refused to agree to safeguards and inspection systems that would be foolproof.

He keeps on prating about peace and a willingness to refrain from nuclear war.

But the American people are not likely to trust anyone who has so little sense as to insult the President of the United States before the world and at the same time insult a whole nation.

If Khrushchev really wants publicity, maybe he will get some he will not like when he comes to America this time.

Stop Running

By Truman Twill

Dogs have chased cats since the memory of man runneth not to the contrary.

And cats have run away from dogs the same length of time.

If cats would quit running, dogs would quite chasing. It's as simple as that. And as profound, too.

Dogs will chase sheep, cows, horses and other dogs, if these other animals will run. They'd chase elephants, if the elephants would run.

Of all animals they will chase, the one with the least reason to run is the cat, with its sharp claws.

There never was a cat that had any real reason to run from a dog.

We have been watching the cat-dog relationship for many years. It varies from cat to cat and dog to dog, but in general the relationship is one of mutual respect. At the moment, a new dog that has strayed on to our premises and is attaching himself to the organization is learning how it works.

Wherever he goes, there is a cat to chase; there are nine cats in residence. But the novelty of cat-chasing is wearing off. Even the cats that will run are not putting their backs and hearts into it. They have made The Discovery.

The moral is so obvious it cannot be missed. The cat-dog pattern runs through life on earth—the things that flee and are pursued because they run. If they stood still and used the defenses that were theirs by natural right, the things they dread would never happen.

Like the new dog at our house when a kitten that never ran away said, in effect, "So what?" So the new dog, its bluff called, picked up the cat and lugged it around—and the cat didn't mind.

It made cat-chasing seem ridiculous, as it is in fact to dogs that always have lived with cats and vice versa. It gets to be that way when the cats stop running.

Letter To The Editor

This is just my thought concerning the wage tax that will be coming up for a vote at the fall election.

Personally, I am greatly in favor of it, for it will give every one a chance to help our city, in civic improvements, in more ways than one. It will help our property taxpayers of the full burden, and I am not a property owner. But my thoughts against this wage tax, and many whom I have talked with, follow:

To the best of my knowledge, I have not read where the city has specified how long this tax will remain in force to the public. Until they do, I feel for one, as I do for many others, that this tax will be defeated. I for one, as I have already stated am in favor of it, but will vote against it, until they come out flatly and say how long they want it to run in force.

So to the lawmakers of our fair city, let's come out and tell the people how long you will need this tax in force. If you need it for one or two years, then tell the public. Then after one or two years if the public can see what you are doing to improve our city with this tax I feel sure they will come out and vote it in again for what ever time is needed. So, Mr. Editor, you may publish this if you so desire.

MR. EARL EMMONS
743 Avondale St.

(Editor's Note—Under the proposed ordinance, the tax would go into effect Jan. 1, 1961, and continue through Dec. 31, 1963—a period of three years. We have carried this fact in conjunction with news stories on the proposed tax, but apparently you overlooked it.)

Martin And Mitchell Sing A Duet

There could be a dozen good reasons why William H. Martin and Bernon F. Mitchell left the United States to become citizens of the Soviet Union.

It is shortsighted to look at only the one that they are holding up to view—the reason that says they admired the Soviet Union and hated the United States because they believed it was leading the world into war.

As employes of the National Security Agency, the two men may have become involved in a violation of security regulations that made it imperative for them to flee.

They may have been bought and paid for by the Soviet Union, which is making a great thing of buying ideological canaries that will sing its tunes.

It is possible they may have drifted into some kind of compromising situation that would make them vulnerable to blackmail.

They may have been used to test the possibilities of Soviet-controlled Cuba as the newest thing in "escape routes" for U.S. citizens drawn to the center of the Communist Conspiracy.

The two men may have personality flaws that made them susceptible to the psychological conditioning that still has not been recognized as the most dangerous threat of the Sino-Soviet bid for world domination.

They may be nothing more or less than the kind of young men, ranging from highly educated Americans at one extreme to the illiterate soldiers who defected in Korea at the other extreme, who find it easier to admire what they know nothing about abroad than to condone what they know something about at home.

They could be adventurers, fed up with the monotony of the life they have been living and anxious to try something new.

And we hope sincerely their new country's government will bear in mind that they probably are U.S. spies who have sneaked into the citadel of Marxist Communism in the guise of being discontented Americans.

The Soviet Union will be well advised not to underestimate the Martin-Mitchell duet when it sings. This is a pair that will bear watching, and this is a pair that will be watched as closely as Khrushchev will watch Molotov.

No Russian worth his kopeks will be fooled by bosh about defection. These two fellows were on a reconnaissance flight over Moscow and came down alive and talking, like Francis Powers.

Better Take It Easy, Boys

President Eisenhower has pointed out that the issue should not be agitated, even though it exists.

Sen. Kennedy has asked that the issue be left out of discussion of campaign issues, because it is not a campaign issue.

Former President Truman, on the other hand, has taken an improper and indefensible position by blaming Vice President Nixon for "racial, religious and anti-union bigotry by way of the back door."

Sen. Henry M. Jackson, Democratic national chairman, has taken the same line by blaming Mr. Nixon for religious bigotry in the campaign.

These are serious accusations. They are as serious as if prominent Republicans had accused Sen. Kennedy of being personally guilty of everything reprehensible that has been done or might be done by his friends in the campaign.

Neither Mr. Kennedy nor Mr. Nixon can control all the people who are working for them. Many things will be said and done by Kennedy workers that the candidate, himself, would not have approved of if consulted. Many things will be said and done by Nixon workers that would not have been consented to by their candidate.

Mr. Nixon, of course, is in more danger of being accused of religious bigotry than Mr. Kennedy, because only Mr. Kennedy's religion is involved in the religious issue. This makes Mr. Nixon the target of a charge that is certain to be fired often in the 1960 campaign.

It is bad politics in the United States in 1960 to be accused of religious bigotry. It would be worse politics to be guilty.

It is going to be good politics, on the other hand, to accuse someone else of religious bigotry, which is why Harry Truman has been eager to be first to make the accusation against the only politician of his time he ever was unable to intimidate with his "give-em-hell" technique.

The fact that Mr. Truman was so politically bigoted that he tried to hurt Kennedy by staying away from the Democratic convention is still remembered by the rest of us.

A bigot can be obstinately devoted to his political party, his opinion, or his belief, as well as to his church. Many bigoted Americans are prone to cast the aspersion of bigotry on others, without understanding it.

We are sure that former President Truman is not one of them. He knows what bigotry is as well as he knows that neither Vice President Nixon nor Sen. Kennedy can be held responsible for religious bigotry in the 1960 campaign.

Firebug In The Firehouse

When the president and premier of the Republic of Congo fired each other, it marked the end of all attempts to make sense out of the troubled country's events.

Secretary-General Hammarskjold of the United Nations must be as confused by this time as the rest of us, in spite of his recent first-hand observations. And as each day passes more people will be wanting to know what he thinks about the obvious fact in the Congo muddle.

How does he feel about having a firebug in the U.N. "fire department"?

How does he feel about the Soviet Union's unconcealed role of stirring up the trouble the United Nations must put down before any government can maintain order in the Congo?

Attempts to evaluate the merits of untried Congolese eager to try their hand at running the government are a waste of time, unless the Soviet Union quits throwing gasoline on hot tempers.

As a permanent member of the U.N. Security Council, the Soviet Union has an obligation to support all U.N. efforts, including the one now in progress to cool off hot tempers in the Congo.

Instead, the Soviet Union is being faithful to its ideological zeal to take advantage of every unsettled political situation on earth, with a view to making converts for the Communist Conspiracy.

Secretary-General Hammarskjold is like a fire chief trying to quench all the fires that can be set by a firebug working with thousands of fire brands in the fire house. The U.N. aide's dilemma is showing the world, however, just what the fire threat poses from the Kremlin.

Louisiana Loved Long

In a rational world, Earl K. Long of Louisiana and his brother, Huey P. Long, were top examples of irrational politics in the United States.

Earl and other relatives made meteoric careers out of the demagogic momentum of the first of the Longs to discover what Louisianans loved in politics. The prescription is now an "old family recipe" in all states, but it has special appeal in Louisiana.

Congress had not looked with pleasure on the prospect of having Earl Long in the House of Representatives next year. Even in an irrational world and a state whose politics outdoes the going rate of irrationality, there had been legal doubts of Earl's sanity. Louisiana voters loved him, though.

In a Louisiana voter's world, there isn't much that's rational anyway.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Westinghouse announces device through which housewife can sit in phone booth and cook, start washing machine, defrost refrigerator, turn on lights, etc. at home. It's all done through an electronics relay-box connected with automatic equipment in the home.

Idea of the missus whipping up his dinner from department store basement or drugstore phone may give husband his indigestion in advance. (Suppose the wife gets a wrong number and starts cooking in Mrs. Smith's bungalow by mistake?)

New device links the phone more closely into housework and may mean a new kick to complaint operator: "Lissen, my roast beef didn't start cooking on time. The phone service is terrible."

Westinghouse, when it markets the device, may be going far out on a limb. Suppose something goes wrong, the wife uses the phone to start dinner and the icebox is defrosted instead, or vice versa?

What if she phones to start a flame under the beef stew and, through an electronics error, she bakes a cake?

Science marches on, but won't this devise make the missus more of a gaddabout than ever? This can prolong shopping trips, cocktail parties and garden club meetings and ease household duties to a point where the missus will be as late as the husband getting home, causing many a photo finish.

Next step will be to develop gadget to a point where phone can be used to start an automatic baby sitter, make Little Willie wash behind his ears and leave a message to the old man: "If dinner is not ready call the phone company. Will be late again today. Love, Jennifer."

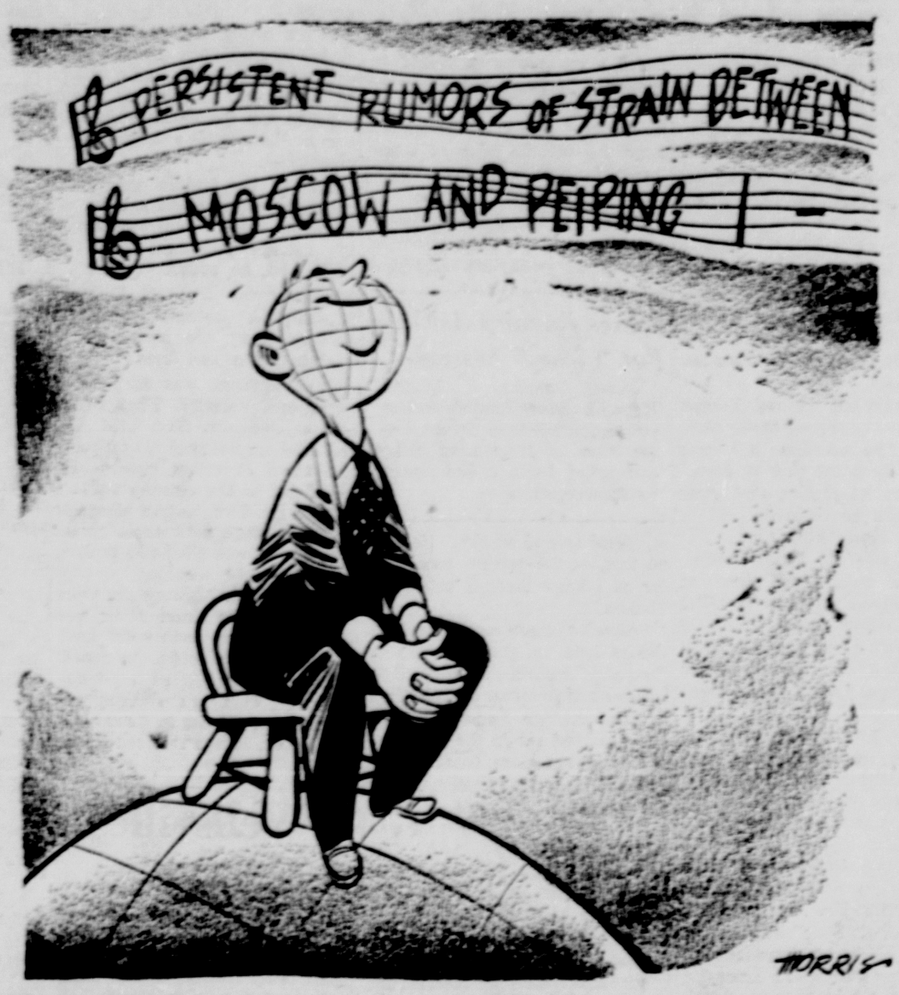

And, of course, if husband complains he will get reply "If you don't like the way I run this house, take it up with the electronics experts."

FIFTY MORE NEW YORK policemen have been found to be working at outside jobs. These are strange days when cops are busy on NON-DUTY.

Summer observation: It's a great life if you don't WEEKEND.

U.S. Fish and Wild Life Service will hold sale of elk and buffalo to public. One hundred and eight dollars will get you a whole buffalo. Elks come at $100 per. That's alive on the hoof, which fails to appeal to us. We are always upset when the bell rings and the man says "I have a buffalo for you." How to get one in the icebox baffles me and we have no buffalo or elk closet.

Machinists' Bid Skipped By Nixon

By Victor Riesel

Victor Riesel

The request, which apparently never reached the vice president's desk was from the leadership of a progressive and rather mammoth union, the International Assn. of Machinists.

After waiting a while, its president, Al J. Hayes, personally telephoned Len Hall' manager of Nixon's forces. They talked and Hayes was told there would be a call back. It never came.

Yet many of the delegates to the Machinists' convention in St. Louis, which the vice president had been asked to address, have considerable influence in California.

It is true that most of the 1,300 convention delegates who are gathering in the Missouri city are more excited about John Kennedy than they have been about any other Democratic candidate since Franklin Roosevelt in 1936. They create JFK in the image of FDR—as do most of their colleagues inside labor.

Yet when Hayes invited Kennedy, the Democrat did not take any vote for granted. He scheduled a speech on a Tuesday night as a stopover on his way to Texas from hectic campaigning in California.

IT IS THIS comaraderie which is tying the labor people to Kennedy. He is reaching them as Adlai Stevenson never could.

That's why topside and many lower echelons are out there breaking their vocal chords and straining their treasuries for him.

Never has Mr. Labor himself, AFL-CIO president, George Meany, been so enthusiastic over a candidate.

In the next few weeks, Meany has scheduled six major talks for Kennedy — and has pledged to hit the hustings with six or eight a week as ballot time rolls in.

One of Meany's pet projects in this drive is the registration campaign. It has a routine sound until you get an inside view of its operation. For this I went over into northern New Jersey the other day.

Sure enough, there I found the unions teaching some of the elders of ancient Democratic machines handed down by such masters as Frank Hague.

The labor people, paced mostly by Walter Reuther's auto organization aides, had seen to it that hundreds of bright college kids were hired early in the summer at $1.50 an hour. The vacationing students were briefed thoroughly on a mass survey "in depth."

THEY WORKED from a script written for use after they knocked on every door. It runs something like this:

"Hello, I'm your neighbor. Are you registered? No. Are you a Democrat or Republican?"

At this point the script said, "Make a polite exit if you find a Republican." Say something about, "Even if we differ, we agree on registration." Then leave.

If it is a Democrat, ask about the others in the family: are there any now turning 21; give the neighbor a list of requirements for registration and tell them about Democratic activities.

Before Sept. 29, every house in every residential district will have been surveyed.

As the information pours into a central headquarters, it is broken down and prepared for action in batches of 10 names. These are used on mobile registration days.

ON SUCH DAYS, the election officials open registration places in front of supermarkets, churches and movie houses. The books are open from 6 to 9 p.m.

Each student is handed a batch of 10 cards. He (or she) then gets to his special sector. If any of the 10 Democrats have not yet registered to vote, the student arranges to drive him to the supermarket, etc.

If there are children, the student babysits or calls central for a stand-in sit-in.

Literally tens of thousands have been registered here — and I understand in other northern states —with similar operations.

They're working hard for their man and not missing a single vote if they can help it — and they sure can.

Russia Does It Again

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Once again Russia has forced this country to do what it did in the U2 spy case: admit the whole story only after the Soviets exposed it to the rest of the world.

This time it involves two young mathematicians—William H. Martin and Bernon F. Mitchell—who defected to Russia from their jobs in the highly secret National Security Agency.

It raises a question. Since this government could have taken the sting out of Russian propaganda by revealing the truth before the Russians had a chance to, why didn't it do so?

It failed in the same way when U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers and his plane were brought down over Russia last May. When Premier Nikita Khrushchev disclosed the downing, he said the plane had been spying.

Not knowing whether Khrushchev was guessing or could prove what he said, the State Department denied Powers was on a spy mission. As it turned out, Khrushchev had been merely baiting the trap for such a denial by withholding all he knew.

Then he announced Powers had been captured alive and admitted the spying. The State Department then admitted the spying, too.

Last Aug. 1 the Defense Department announced it was searching for Martin and Mitchell who were overdue, after vacation, in their jobs at NSA, which is involved in very secret communications and codes.

The department said the two men, both bachelors and long-time friends who had served in the Navy together in the mid-1950s, had flown to Mexico City June 24. They were traced to Cuba.

On Aug. 5 the Defense Department said "it must be assumed that there is a likelihood" that the two missing employes "have gone behind the Iron Curtain."

What the Pentagon didn't disclose until Tuesday—and then only when forced into it by Mitchell and Martin—was this:

Early in August government investigators had found in a safe deposit box, where Martin and Mitchell had left it, a letter saying they had defected to Russia.

Tuesday in Moscow the Russians, with a great propaganda whoopdedoo, put the two Americans on exhibition at a news conference before Soviet and foreign newsmen.

The two code clerks, admitting they fled to Russia and expect to become Russian citizens, said the United States spies on its own allies. As an example, they mentioned Turkey. The Defense Department referred to their "false statements," but did not say which were false.

The pair read from what they said was a copy of a statement they had left in a safe deposit box, in Mitchell's name, in a Maryland bank in June.

On the envelope of the original statement, they said, they wrote a request that the contents be made public so that the American people would get an explanation of "why we decided to ask the Soviet Union to grant us political asylum."

Mitchell and Martin charged that the U.S. government took that statement and kept it secret because the "Eisenhower-Nixon administration does not wish certain aspects of its policies to become known to the American people."

Tuesday a Defense Department spokesman was asked why the government had kept this Mitchell-Martin letter under wraps since finding it in early August.

He said it was a statement of "two turncoats," its publication would have served Communist purposes only, and it was part of an investigation.

Wherever he goes, there is a cat to chase; there are nine cats in residence. But the novelty of cat-chasing is wearing off. Even the cats that will run are not putting their backs and hearts into it. They have made The Discovery.

The moral is so obvious it cannot be missed. The cat-dog pattern runs through life on earth—the things that flee and are pursued because they run. If they stood still and used the defenses that were theirs by natural right, the things they dread would never happen.

Like the new dog at our house when a kitten that never ran away said, in effect, "So what?" So the new dog, its bluff called, picked up the cat and lugged it around—and the cat didn't mind.

It made cat-chasing seem ridiculous, as it is in fact to dogs that always have lived with cats and vice versa. It gets to be that way when the cats stop running.

Letter To The Editor

This is just my thought concerning the wage tax that will be coming up for a vote at the fall election.

Personally, I am greatly in favor of it, for it will give every one a chance to help our city, in civic improvements, in more ways than one. It will help our property taxpayers of the full burden, and I am not a property owner. But my thoughts against this wage tax, and many whom I have talked with, follow:

To the best of my knowledge, I have not read where the city has specified how long this tax will remain in force to the public. Until they do, I feel for one, as I do for many others, that this tax will be defeated. I for one, as I have already stated am in favor of it, but will vote against it, until they come out flatly and say how long they want it to run in force.

So to the lawmakers of our fair city, let's come out and tell the people how long you will need this tax in force. If you need it for one or two years, then tell the public. Then after one or two years if the public can see what you are doing to improve our city with this tax I feel sure they will come out and vote it in again for what ever time is needed. So, Mr. Editor, you may publish this if you so desire.

MR. EARL EMMONS
743 Avondale St.

(Editor's Note—Under the proposed ordinance, the tax would go into effect Jan. 1, 1961, and continue through Dec. 31, 1963—a period of three years. We have carried this fact in conjunction with news stories on the proposed tax, but apparently you overlooked it.)

Members Of Panhandle BPW Will Attend Worship In Group

Plans were made to attend church in a group on Sunday, Oct. 8 when the Panhandle Business & Professional Women's Club met Tuesday night in the Red Cross offices of the Aaron Building in Newell.

They will attend morning worship in the Chester First Christian Church in observance of National Business Women's Week Oct. 2-8.

The applications of four prospective members were voted on and accepted.

A motion was made to revise the by-laws concerning meeting time. The committee to take action includes Mrs. Mary Stoneburner, Miss Phyllis Stoneburner, Mrs. Penny Arnott and Mrs. Martha Hapach. Until the by-laws are revised, all meetings will begin at 8 p. m.

A committee, Mrs. Ruth Sprouse and Mrs. Elma Lowers, was appointed to contact delinquent members.

Paring knives are being sold and prospective purchasers may contact any club member. West Virginia brochures were distributed by Mrs. Gertrude Stephens. Any member who was unable to attend the meeting is asked to pick up her brochure at Mrs. Stephen's home on Harrison St. as early as possible.

Mrs. Marjorie McClung, second vice president, presided for business in the absence of Mrs. Nina France, president. Refreshments were served 14 by Mrs. Edna Hall and Mrs. Ruby Leak, hostesses. The surprise package was won by Mrs. McClung.

A white elephant sale will be held at the next meeting, Oct. 4 at 8 p. m. in the Red Cross offices. A program on "Legislation" will be presented by Mrs. Ruth Sprouse. Hostesses will be Mrs. Sprouse and Mrs. Wilma Elliott.

Venezuela President Ousts Foreign Minister

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — President Romulo Betancourt Tuesday night removed Foreign Minister Ignacio Luis Arcaya from his post.

At the recent San Jose conference of the Organization of American States, Arcaya refused to sign the conference declaration condemnating Communist efforts to use Cuba as a springboard into the Western Hmisphere.

Killed In Collision

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP) —A Detroit, Mich., man, Joseph H. Brawerman, 66, was killed Tuesday when the car he was driving crashed into the rear of a tractor-trailer truck at the intersection of U. S. 6 and 23, about seven miles east of here. The truck driver was not injured.

Slow Pickup Seen In Steel

NEW YORK (AP)—Sluggish demand by automakers indicates a long, slow recovery in steel production, the trade publication Iron Age said today.

The automotive steel picture is becoming increasingly clouded as the auto industry begins production of 1961 models without the usual upsurge in steel orders, the magazine said.

Orders were reported running about 75 to 80 per cent of normal for this period.

Automotive inventories of steel are abnormaly high because makers maintained a relatively high level of steel buying through the summer and changeover period.

Iron Age said market analysts are "up in the air" because there is a strong feeling that the new models will take from 100 to 500 pounds less steel than a parallel 1960 model.

The 1961 models tend to be shorter and narrower and this compounds the effect of more compact cars, which are estimated to represent up to 50 per cent of the total market.

Iron Age said new orders are edging up slightly but added that "the market for steel is likely to be faced with no stronger pickup than that caused by seasonal improvements and some inventory buildup or balancing. This is because the big users other than automotive show little sign of entering the market in any great strength."

Police Start Drunk Check

You Shay You're Sober But You're Real Hilarious

How many ways are there to describe a suspected drunk's attitude?

A minimum of 12, the East Liverpool police department figures, listing them on a new check list on which officers compile data immediately after the arrest of an individual facing a charge of drunken driving.

Termed an "alcoholic influence report" and designed to help the arresting officer decide whether or not the suspect is inebriated, the check list says a drunk can have any of these attitudes: Polite, cooperative, excited, indifferent, hilarious, anatgonistic, talkative, cocky, carefree, combative, sleepy and insulting.

The form also is designed to provide notes for the arresting officer's testimony, should the case go to court. It prescribes the standard tests for intoxication and asks for data on any possible excuse the prisoner could have for appearing intoxicated although he is not. These include illness, a bump on the head, diabetes, lack of sleep and use of medicine, including insulin.

Police Chief Americo Radeschi and Asst. Solicitor Richard J. Clark, prosecutor of city criminal cases in Municipal Court, drew up the printed form for use in all cases of suspected intoxication at the wheel. It is based to a great extent on a form already used by the State Highway Patrol.

The form provides spaces in which officers may check words that describe other aspects of the suspect's appearance, physical condition and co-ordination, including any odor on his breath, the color of his face, the condition of his clothing, his balance, his speech, his balance while walking and turning and his success with the finger-to-nose test and in picking up coins.

For instance, the walk can be described as "sure, fair, swaying, wobbling, sagging knees or falling."

In the test of speech, the form suggests three time-tested tongue twisters: "Electricity, Methodist Episcopal and 'around the rugged rock the ragged rascal ran."

Spaces are provided for a sample of the suspect's hand-writing, in which he may be asked to copy one of the tongue-twisters and then affix his signature.

As some defendants claim their appearance resulted not from alcohol but from illness, lack of sleep or use of medicine, the form asks these questions:

"Are you ill? Have you been to a doctor or dentist lately? If so, when? Are you taking medicine: If so, what? Time of last dose? Do you have diabetes? Are you taking insulin?

Checking on other possible causes, it asks: Are you hurt? Did you get a bump on the head? How much sleep did you have last night? How much today?

If the suspect admits he has been drinking, he is asked to tell when he started, when he took his last drink and what type of beverage he consumed.

After making the examination, the officer sums up his conclusions by indicating that the effects of alcohol are: "Apparently none, slight, obvious or extreme" and adds his opinion of the suspect's ability to drive as "apparently fit, ability impaired or greatly impaired."

There also are spaces for a physician's report of his examination, if one is made, and the outcome of any chemical tests made to determine the quantity of alcohol in the suspect's blood.

2 City Men Will Attend Sessions At Granville

Paul Bloor, a representative of the East Liverpool Merchants Association, and E. R. Chandler, secretary-manager of the Chamber of Commerce, will attend a meeting of the Ohio State Council of Retail Merchants Thursday and Friday at Granville, near Columbus.

They left today, as Chandler will attend a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce Executives of Ohio this afternoon and tonight, also at Granville.

From Granville, Bloor and Chandler will go to Massillon for the East Liverpool - Massillon High School football game Friday night, joining other members of ELMA who will go to the game by chartered bus.

Grandma Moses, 100 Today, Aims At 200-Year Mark

EAGLE BRIDGE, N.Y. (AP)—The century mark arrived today for beloved Grandma Moses, and, with a twinkle in her hazel eyes, she reports: "I'm going to live to be 200."

The diminutive, still active painter, whose primitive rural scenes known around the world, also promises to keep laughing.

That is one of her rules for staying young: Keep busy, keep in young company and keep laughing.

Although Grandma's 100th birthday was today, she celebrated it last Sunday so that working friends and family members could participate in the festivities. There were 125 visitors, each greeted by Grandma at a dining-room table stacked with greetings from many lands.

Enrollment Increases

CLEVELAND (AP)—First - day enrollment in Cleveland public schools reached 134,765 Tuesday—about 1,200 over estimates and 4,040 above opening date last year. In the eight - county Cleveland Catholic diocese, 136,937 pupils reported—101,931 of them in Cuyahoga County.

Barnard College Girls Win 'Battle Of Bermuda Shorts'

NEW YORK (AP)—Never ones to skirt the issue, the rosy-kneed girls at Barnard College have won the battle of Bermuda shorts.

Word has come down from the top brass that shorts worn to class and library when sessions start later this month will be okay if they are not: too short, too bright, or, ahem, too tight.

However, across the street at Columbia University, the girls will simply have to wear long coats over the shorts. There are boys over there.

Barnard's capitulation came after months of smoldering stalemate. A ban on shorts and slacks announced last May brought a howl of protest from the girls and mixed reaction from the boys.

The girls demanded to decide for themselves what to wear and not to wear on campus.

However, at Barnard one male instructor who faced the girls en masse in short-befrocked ranks in his art classes put forward the view that many would do well to cover up.

The school's new rgulations spell out precisely how short the shorts may be.

Results Are Awaited Of Autopsy On Girl

NAPOLEON, Ohio (AP) — Results of an autopsy performed on a Napoleon girl found in the Maumee River will not be known for a day or two, Henry County Coroner William Stough reported. The body of Helen Wenner, 19, was taken from the river three miles east of here Monday.

Dr. Stough said the girl did not drown and there were indications she had been beaten. She was fully clothed, except for stockings.

Police Start Drunk Check

You Shay You're Sober But You're Real Hilarious

How many ways are there to describe a suspected drunk's attitude?

A minimum of 12, the East Liverpool police department figures, listing them on a new check list on which officers compile data immediately after the arrest of an individual facing a charge of drunken driving.

Termed an "alcoholic influence report" and designed to help the arresting officer decide whether or not the suspect is inebriated, the check list says a drunk can have any of these attitudes: Polite, cooperative, excited, indifferent, hilarious, anatgonistic, talkative, cocky, carefree, combative, sleepy and insulting.

The form also is designed to provide notes for the arresting officer's testimony, should the case go to court. It prescribes the standard tests for intoxication and asks for data on any possible excuse the prisoner could have for appearing intoxicated although he is not. These include illness, a bump on the head, diabetes, lack of sleep and use of medicine, including insulin.

Police Chief Americo Radeschi and Asst. Solicitor Richard J. Clark, prosecutor of city criminal cases in Municipal Court, drew up the printed form for use in all cases of suspected intoxication at the wheel. It is based to a great extent on a form already used by the State Highway Patrol.

The form provides spaces in which officers may check words that describe other aspects of the suspect's appearance, physical condition and co-ordination, including any odor on his breath, the color of his face, the condition of his clothing, his balance, his speech, his balance while walking and turning and his success with the finger-to-nose test and in picking up coins.

For instance, the walk can be described as "sure, fair, swaying, wobbling, sagging knees or falling."

In the test of speech, the form suggests three time-tested tongue twisters: "Electricity, Methodist Episcopal and 'around the rugged rock the ragged rascal ran."

Spaces are provided for a sample of the suspect's hand-writing, in which he may be asked to copy one of the tongue-twisters and then affix his signature.

As some defendants claim their appearance resulted not from alcohol but from illness, lack of sleep or use of medicine, the form asks these questions:

"Are you ill? Have you been to a doctor or dentist lately? If so, when? Are you taking medicine: If so, what? Time of last dose? Do you have diabetes? Are you taking insulin?

Checking on other possible causes, it asks: Are you hurt? Did you get a bump on the head? How much sleep did you have last night? How much today?

If the suspect admits he has been drinking, he is asked to tell when he started, when he took his last drink and what type of beverage he consumed.

After making the examination, the officer sums up his conclusions by indicating that the effects of alcohol are: "Apparently none, slight, obvious or extreme" and adds his opinion of the suspect's ability to drive as "apparently fit, ability impaired or greatly impaired."

There also are spaces for a physician's report of his examination, if one is made, and the outcome of any chemical tests made to determine the quantity of alcohol in the suspect's blood.

2 City Men Will Attend Sessions At Granville

Paul Bloor, a representative of the East Liverpool Merchants Association, and E. R. Chandler, secretary-manager of the Chamber of Commerce, will attend a meeting of the Ohio State Council of Retail Merchants Thursday and Friday at Granville, near Columbus.

They left today, as Chandler will attend a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce Executives of Ohio this afternoon and tonight, also at Granville.

From Granville, Bloor and Chandler will go to Massillon for the East Liverpool - Massillon High School football game Friday night, joining other members of ELMA who will go to the game by chartered bus.

Grandma Moses, 100 Today, Aims At 200-Year Mark

EAGLE BRIDGE, N.Y. (AP)—The century mark arrived today for beloved Grandma Moses, and, with a twinkle in her hazel eyes, she reports: "I'm going to live to be 200."

The diminutive, still active painter, whose primitive rural scenes known around the world, also promises to keep laughing.

That is one of her rules for staying young: Keep busy, keep in young company and keep laughing.

Although Grandma's 100th birthday was today, she celebrated it last Sunday so that working friends and family members could participate in the festivities. There were 125 visitors, each greeted by Grandma at a dining-room table stacked with greetings from many lands.

Enrollment Increases

CLEVELAND (AP)—First - day enrollment in Cleveland public schools reached 134,765 Tuesday—about 1,200 over estimates and 4,040 above opening date last year. In the eight - county Cleveland Catholic diocese, 136,937 pupils reported—101,931 of them in Cuyahoga County.

Barnard College Girls Win 'Battle Of Bermuda Shorts'

NEW YORK (AP)—Never ones to skirt the issue, the rosy-kneed girls at Barnard College have won the battle of Bermuda shorts.

Word has come down from the top brass that shorts worn to class and library when sessions start later this month will be okay if they are not: too short, too bright, or, ahem, too tight.

However, across the street at Columbia University, the girls will simply have to wear long coats over the shorts. There are boys over there.

Barnard's capitulation came after months of smoldering stalemate. A ban on shorts and slacks announced last May brought a howl of protest from the girls and mixed reaction from the boys.

The girls demanded to decide for themselves what to wear and not to wear on campus.

However, at Barnard one male instructor who faced the girls en masse in short-befrocked ranks in his art classes put forward the view that many would do well to cover up.

The school's new rgulations spell out precisely how short the shorts may be.

Results Are Awaited Of Autopsy On Girl

NAPOLEON, Ohio (AP) — Results of an autopsy performed on a Napoleon girl found in the Maumee River will not be known for a day or two, Henry County Coroner William Stough reported. The body of Helen Wenner, 19, was taken from the river three miles east of here Monday.

Dr. Stough said the girl did not drown and there were indications she had been beaten. She was fully clothed, except for stockings.

Salary Raise Plans Delayed

NEW CUMBERLAND — Action on a request for a raise in salary for the city clerk was postponed by Council Tuesday night after a member protested an increase.

The raise was asked by Mrs. Harry Newburn, clerk, at the August meeting. Councilman Blair Patterson presented his objection but listed no specific reason. Nick Nardo presided in the absence of Mayor Albert Fuccy.

Thomas McKenzie, solicitor, was asked for a ruling on the legality of a purchase made by the city for the Town Hall. An air conditioning unit was purchased from the Monongahala Power Co. and installed.

Patterson questioned the legality, contending the unit had been purchased without first advertising for bids. Funds for the air conditioner were included in the 1960-61 budget as an improvement for the Town Hall.

Atty. McKenzie cited the law which requires advertising for bids for all purchases by the town. He advised that since the unit had been installed, the bill should be paid. No action was taken.

A motion of Walter Swearingen was approved that Jacob Baxter, acting police chief, begin a strict enforcement of an ordinance which requires all New Cumberland motorists to purchase a city driver's license. The ordinance affects all persons who claim New Cumberland as their residence, and those employed in other cities and states and college students.

Patterson also noted that the Fire Board should file a detailed report with Council on its activities.

Girl Scouts Win At Fair

Catherine Toft, 11, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Toft, 829 Chester Ave., captured first prize in the Junior Division for her oil painting. A member of Intermediate Troop 23, which meets at St. Aloysius Parochial School Hall, she painted the picture after a nature walk through Tomlinson Run State Park.

Elaine Shattenburg, 14, shows her bracelet which won a first-place ribbon. Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rollin Shattenberg, 1187 Oakwood Ave., she belongs to Intermediate Troop 66, which meets at the Pleasant Heights School. Her bracelet is made from ripened walnut shells, sliced with a power saw, then threaded.

A third-place ribbon was won by Carol Jack, 12, of Troop 72 for huck weaving. Her towel included an original design in Swedish embroidery and she also did the fringing and machine stitching.

Honorable mention was won by Vicki Deshler and Jennie Cochran for hucking and Brenda Owens for an apron. Vicki and Jennie are members of Intermediate Troop 72 which meets at Lake Marwin, and Brenda belongs to Troop 34 of Horace Mann School.

Hancock Retarded Council Discusses Need Of Volunteer

The need for a volunteer worker to aid with a special class was discussed by the North Hancock County Council for Retarded Children at a meeting Tuesday night in the Newell American Legion home.

The council is interested in securing the services of a volunteer "who likes children" to aid with the class for a few hours a day without pay.

A class of 11 attends from 8:45 a. m. to 2:45 p. m. Monday through Friday in the Jefferson School. Mrs. Rachel McCoy is teacher.

Mrs. Edith Williams of East Liverpool has been employed as a driver to transport five of the children to daily classes, the council said.

The Legion post has agreed to begin donating $20 a month to the council to help with the transportation expenses. The driver is paid $65 a month.

Plans were made to sponsor a public card party Sept. 27 at 8 p. m. in the post home. Co-chairmen are Mrs. Mae Hupp and Mrs. Nancy Laneve.

The next meeting will be Oct. 4 at 8 p. m. in the Chester Legion home.

Hancock Coal Contract Let

Hancock County commissioners Tuesday night awarded a contract to the Fuccy Hauling & Excavating Co. of New Cumberland on its low bid for supplying coal to the Courthouse for the year.

The firm, operated by Mayor Albert (Jakie) Fuccy, bid $7.50 a ton. The contract was held last year by Herman Laurine of Weirton.

Approved as notaries public were the applications of Earl Jackson, Earl Jackson Jr., both of Chester, and Sam Noyes of Weirton.

Commissioners authorized $250 to the Newell volunteer fire department for purchasing new equipment. The funds were earmarked for the department earlier when the annual budget was adopted.

Purchase of new equipment for a health clinic in the Professional Building in Weirton also was authorized by Commissioners William C. Graham, Lyle F. Virden and David N. Thomas, president.

Clinics have been held in the past in the Christian Center, which is being renovated. The Weirton clinic is the largest of those held weekly in the county, commissioners explained.

The next meeting will be Oct. 3 at 7:30 p. m. in the Courthouse, Donald Stewart, clerk, reported.

Designed by Mrs. Edith Cordes of New Brighton, the separate trees represented each family, featuring green paper leaves for the living and gold for the deceased. A large tree represented the main branch and the deceased brothers and sisters.

Approximately 55 attended the buffet dinner served at 2 o'clock. Mrs. Dorotha Burlingame, Mrs. Alice Conkle and Mrs. Cordes formed the social committee.

Games, contests and group singing were pastimes. Prizes were awarded Mrs. Jeanette Pinney, eldest; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brown, largest family; Mr. and Mrs. Leon Whipple and family, traveled the farthest; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Burlingame, latest newlyweds, and Debra Lynn Corsetti, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sonny Corsetti, youngest.

Mrs. Pinney and Mrs. Laura Brown were retained as a secretary and treasurer. The 1961 reunion will be held Sept. 3 at the park.

Mrs. Grace Thompson of Glenmoor was honored with a dinner party Sunday, celebrating her 70th birthday anniversary, which was Aug. 31.

The dinner was served on the lawn of the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Thompson, of Calcutta, who were assisted by another son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Thompson. About 15 attended.

Among the guests were Mrs. Gertrude Spicer and the honoree's sisters, Mrs. Edna Wolford and Mrs. Annie Read of Columbiana and Mrs. Ella Bradfield.

Future projects were outlined at the meeting of the Altar and Rosary Society Friday night at St. Aloysius Parochial School Hall.

A bake sale is scheduled Nov. 12 at the hall and a rummage sale the week of Nov. 12 with the place pending. Plans were discussed to paint the church sanctuary.

Miss Florence Farrar, president, conducted business. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Beryl Buchheit, Mrs. Dolores Satow and Mrs. Alice Laughlin.

The next meeting is Oct. 7.

The 42nd annual reunion of the families of Eli Cope was held Sunday at Lake Marwin with some 32 attending. The coverdish dinner was served at 2 o'clock.

Guests were from Martins Ferry, Tiltonsville, Hammondsville, Irondale, Warren, Steubenville, Salineville and Wheeling.

Frank Cope was elected president, and Mrs. Philip Walker, secretary, for 1961. Mrs. W. J. Thomas was the eldest and Diane Lynn Cope, 6 weeks, the youngest.

Other 1961 officers will be Mrs. Isabel Allison, secretary; Mrs. Kathleen Barker, treasurer; Lawrence Cline, picnic chairman, and Mrs. Helen Rayburn, Mrs. Dorothy Hughes and Mrs. Marian Miller, entertainment committee.

Awards were presented Max Goppert, eldest; Gretchen Ibbs, 2, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Ibbs, youngest; Mr. and Mrs. William Hall of Southgate, Calif., traveled the farthest; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rayburn, youngest grandparents, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Young of East Rochester, the largest family.

The 1961 reunion will be held Sept. 3 at the lake.

The Sara Watson Class of the Calvary Methodist Church will hold a 6 o'clock coverdish dinner Friday with Miss Ruth Brooks of Dresden Ave.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Edwin Allison and children, Shirley and Robert of Columbus, Mr. and Mrs. Thayer W. Allison and son, Johnny, or Orlando, Fla., Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stier and children, Ricky, Randy and Gretchen, of Coshocton, and Misses Lou Jones, Marlene Wissman and Helen Couch of Columbus.

CHICAGO (AP)—Traffic accidents killed 415 persons during the three-day Labor Day weekend, the lowest for the holiday since 1954.

The final toll also was less than the National Safety Council's preholiday estimate of 460 and the record Labor Day total of 461, set in 1951.

100 At Beaver Camp

Area Youths Given Offices With Senior-Hi Fellowship

A local youth and one from Wellsville were among officers elected at the annual retreat of the Senior-Hi Fellowship of the United Presbyterian Youth of the Steubenville Presbytery which ended Monday noon at the Beaver Creek Camp at Grimms Bridge. Approximately 100 attended. The session began Friday noon.

Tom Fannn of the Trinity church was elected District 1 chairman and Phil Baldwin of the Wellsville Covenant church was named fellowship chairman. Other officers are: Tom Cox, Toronto, moderator; Pam Hutchison, Minerva, vice moderator; Eldon Trubee, Minerva, stated clerk, and Cheryl Evans, Brilliant, treasurer.

A leadership training school highlighted the event with officers who attended the summer conference at Muskingum in charge. The theme was "The Servant Lord and His Servant People," with Scripture reference from John 6: 13.

The Rev. Emmett Kelawae of Richmond conducted daily devotions. He was assisted in heading the conference by Mrs. Leroy Antram of Malvern. They are Senior-Hi advisors of the Presbytery.

The campfire service Sunday night, supervised by the Rev. Gene Toot of Hopedale, was followed by a Communion service in the recreation hall conducted by the Rev. Robert Tanguy of the Glenmoor church.

Group discussions followed the daily conferences with the departments of outreach, faith, witness and fellowship stressed.

Announcements were made of two Senior-Hi rallies — Oct. 23 at Brilliant and Oct. 30 at Scio.

Baldwin, who was one of the to chosen as delegates from the Synod of Ohio to attend the National Youth Consultative Conference recently in Tulsa, Okla., spoke on his experiences. He will speak Sunday morning for the Youth Department of the Trinity church.

Other councilors were Cliff Aitken of Brilliant, Mrs. Norman Reidesel and daughter, Miss Charlotte Reidesel, of Toronto, Miss Marsha Hatcher of Steubenville and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Baxter of the Trinity church.

Area youth attending were Kathy Baumgarner, Lysbeth Arner, Lu Anne Miller, Terry Persohn, Karen Neff, Cheryl Swoger, Jerry Hoskinson, James Baxter, Mike Baxter and Fannin of the Trinity church; Linda McIntosh of the Grace church, Jerry Croft, First United church, and Baldwin of Wellsville.

Mr. and Mrs. George Reynolds and son, George Reynolds Jr., were cooks.

Bakery's Awning Damaged As Pair Hurls Large Sign

An awning over the display window of Varian's Bakery, 109 E. 6th St., was damaged early today when two vandals hurled a large sidewalk sign urging voters to register for the November general election, police said.

Patrolman Jack Strobel, wh oinvestigated, said the damage occurred about 3:38 this morning at the bakery operated by Emmett L. Varian. His report named the two men responsible and indicated charges would be filed.

The sign was one of a series placed in the business district by the Democratic Central Committee. The sign also was damaged, the officer reported.

Another vandalism case was reported Tuesday at Garfield School in East End. Cookies, candy, paper and other debris were thrown through a window which a custodian left open to air the building after oiling the floors, police said. The vandalism took place some time between Friday and yesterday, police were told.

Knights Of Columbus Plans Picnic Sept. 18

Carroll Council 509, Knights of Columbus, completed plans at a meeting Tuesday evening for a picnic Sept. 18 for members of the parishes of St. Aloysius and St. Ann Churches.

It will be held at Thompson Park beginning at noon. Harold McNicol was named chariman of the annual Youth Fund drive which opens Saturday, Sept. 17.

A meeting of the Carroll Club will follow the regular council session Tuesday at 8 p. m. in the K. of C. Hall. Kevin O'Brien, grand night, presided.

35 Booths Due In Rotary Fair

Between 30 and 35 booths provided by stores and business firms will give away free samples of their products at the Midland Rotary Club's annual fund-raising Sample Fair, Thursday at 7 p. m. in the Steelworkers Hall.

Admission will be $1. Proceeds will be used for charity and civic projects of the club, including aid to crippled children, buying eyeglasses and helping midget baseball, Mike Hornick, general chairman, said.

Donald Green is president.

About 1,000 attended the fair last year. Members of the club will meet at 6 p. m. for dinner at the New Riviera Restaurant and then go to the hall to assist.

Regulation Urged Against Dumping

LISBON — Many spots along township, county and state roads are being used as dumps for garbage and refuse and have become feeding grounds for one of man's worst enemies — rats, according to Harry Stockdale, Columbiana County sanitarian.

The only practical way to control and eliminate these sores in the county is through action of the various municipalities and townships to regulate the collection and disposal of such refuse.

Action was taken recently by one city and the County Health Department to eliminate two of the worst dumps in the county and to exterminate the many thousands of rats which have been infesting it over 30 years.

This is but the first step in a plan to rid the county of these dumps and the rodents. In the immediate future other municipalities will be called on for similar co-operation and action, Stockdale said.

The State Department of Health places the responsibility for well regulated refuse programs as a direct obligation of the elected officials of all municipalities." Certainly, without the necessary ordinances and regulations, these officials are guilty of sloppy housekeeping and are depriving responsible citizens of a vitally needed service," he said.

Valve Installed In Water Main

Special equipment was used Tuesday afternoon to install a valve under pressure in a 6-inch water line on Midland Ave. opposite 1st St. School in Midland.

The device allowed residents water service while the valve was being installed and also prevented closing of the school for the day.

The valve was inserted by W. Paul Brooks & Sons of Beaver Falls, contractors for the installation of a new water line on Midland Ave. which began about July 15. The firm has 90 days to complete the $23,303.50 project.

Donald Craik, water department manager, explained that a gasoline engine runs a flexible steel cable inside a hose to the machine. The cable powers a blade which cuts out a piece of the 6-inch line. The piece is withdrawn by the machine.

The machine is taken apart and a valve inserted. The machine then installs the valve, all with the water pressure on.

City Woman Cited In Cycle Mishap

An East End woman was cited Tuesday afternoon near Lisbon after she made a turn in front of an oncoming motorcyclist from Greenford, resulting in a collision that hospitalized the 18-year-old cyclist, the State Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

Louis Mann Jr. of Greenford is in Salem City Hospital today with multiple lacerations of the face, scalp and shoulder in the mishap on Route 45 a half mile north of Lisbon at 12:15 p. m.

Earl Temple, 30, of 311 E. 3rd St. was cited by the patrol after a minor collision on the Sprucevale Rd. about 50 feet north of Route 170 at Calcutta last night at 8:15.

Officers said Temple backed his pickup truck out of a private drive into the path of an auto operated by Bruce Costanzo, 27, of R. D. 1. Damage was minor, according to officers, who cited Temple for improper backing.

Such widely separated places as Kailua Kona, Hawaii, Two Dot, Mont., Paris, France and Skovde, Sweden were represented when Yale sounded its call for varsity football candidates.

Council Cites Curfew

Complaint Made Of Corner Gangs

Councilmen conceded Tuesday night in response to a complaint that East Liverpool may need new juvenile legislation to prevent youngsters from congregating in noisy crowds in residential neighborhoods on summer nights to the annoyance of the nearby residents.

The question was raised by Floyd Tweed of W. 3rd St. and Peach Alley, who said he has been disturbed repeatedly by crowds of 15 to 20 boys and girls who gather on the corner "and plague the neighborhood every night from 6 to 11."

"IT'S SO noisy you can't hear the television unless you close your doors and windows," Tweed asserted. But he said he feels the fault lies with the parents, rather than the youngsters, because better control is not exercised. Tweed said the youngsters come "from two blocks in each direction" to congregate in his neighborhood.

Officers have dispersed the crowds in response to complaints, but the youngsters gather again in the same spot shortly, he added.

Councilman Donald Smith, replying to Tweed, read the curfew ordinance out of the city code book, pointing out that it requires children under 16 to be off the streets Sunday through Thursday by 10 p. m. and Friday and Saturday by 11 p. m. Children under 18 are required to be off the streets Sunday through Thursday by 11 p. m. and not later than midnight on Friday and Saturday, he added.

The ordinance also provides that violators will be taken to City Hall by police and held until they are picked up by a parent or guardian. For a second offense, the parent or guardian can be fined $10 and $25 and for a third offense the penalty ranges from $25 to $50.

BUT TWEED said the curfew law is no solution to his problem, pointing out that most of the noisy meetings take place inside the limit of hours set by the law.

"I feel the ordinance committee should investigate to find if the regulations can be amended," Councilman John Melvin asserted. "I have had similar complaints from North Side, particularly in the vicinity of the Irwin Drug-store."

In another juvenile problem, Melvin said he has continued to receive complaints of youngsters riding noisy motorbikes. The complaints have come principally from 3rd St., Bradshaw Ave. and St. Clair Ave., he said. Many of the motorbike riders are 15-18 and may not have the driver's licenses required for such a vehicle, he said.

Melvin pointed out the city has an ordinance against noisy mufflers and declared it should be enforced against motorbike riders as well as motorists.

Three requests were referred to the street committee for investigation.

DENNIE AND George Singer, owners of warehouse property near the riverfront, and Howard Parsons, president of the Parsons Coal Co. at the foot of Jackson St., filed a petition jointly asking Council to vacate 1st St. between Market and Jackson Sts. and Peach Alley from the south line of the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. right-of-way to the river. The petition pointed out the three already own all the abutting ground.

Atty. G. William Brokaw, appearing as counsel for R. E. Hoopes of Donora, Pa., the owner, asked Council to accept the dedicated plat for the fourth allotment of Fisher Park. In accepting, Council would dedicate the streets for public use and assume their upkeep. The new allotment contains 21 lots.

A petition with 16 signatures asked Council to establish one-way traffic south on Union St. between E. 3rd and 2nd Sts. Asserting the street "is too narrow for two-way traffic," the petition pointed out one-way traffic already is in effect in the Union St. stretch between E. 4th and E. 3rd Sts.

COUNCIL ACCEPTED a second petition requesting vacation of Carroll Ln. from Sanford Ave. south to the south line of Lot 6333. The petition carried 11 signatures. Owners of abutting property seek to continue to use the ground as a neighborhood "park" and playground.

Council ordered publication of a legal notice of the intended vacation. The vote was 6-1, with Smith dissenting. The advertisement must run for six weeks before further action can be taken.

The new petition is a substitute for another filed in July, which was not signed by all the affected property-owners and did not define fully the area sought to be vacated, Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper told Council.

Council enacted a resolution approving a bid of 3¼ per cent interest filed by Ryan, Sutherland & Co. of Toledo Friday for purchase of a $20,000 bond issue to finance an off-street parking lot on W. 6th St. established in 1959.

COUNCIL ALSO approved a resolution to pay a $75 claim of Walter and Lillian Crawford, 822 Daisy Ln., for damage to their home in February when a sewer backed up as it was being cleaned by city employes.

The claims committee was given a $15 bill from Robert Bailey of Bank St., who said a tire on his auto was cut on a manhole cover on Maine Blvd. The meeting opened with invocation by the Rev. Glenn Brunstetter of the Pennsylvania Ave. Methodist Church.

'Mr. Tobacco' Dies

MOUNT KISCO, N.Y. (AP)—Vincent Riggio, 82, former president and board chairman of the American Tobacco Co., died Tuesday. Riggio, known in the trade as "Mr. Tobacco," entered the tobacco business in 1917 and retired in 1951.

Boy, 5, Hurt In Tree Fall

An East End boy injured in a fall from a tree was admitted Tuesday to City Hospital. Six youngsters and adults were treated and released after separate mishaps.

John Albert (Jay) Rife, 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Rife, 1440 Pennsylvania Ave., is in "fairly good" condition with a fractured right arm suffered in the fall from the tree while playing.

Mrs. Helen Haun, 1943 Pennsylvania Ave. Ext., was treated late last night for a head injury suffered when she bumped against a piece of pipe yesterday afternoon while at work at the Riverview Florists greenhouse.

Theodore Higgins, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Higgins, 937 W. 8th St., suffered a laceration of the ear when hit by another player in a football contest.

Earl Golling, 38, of 315 Carolina Ave., Chester, a plumber, was treatd for flash burns of the eyes suffered while welding.

Council Cites Curfew

Complaint Made Of Corner Gangs

Councilmen conceded Tuesday night in response to a complaint that East Liverpool may need new juvenile legislation to prevent youngsters from congregating in noisy crowds in residential neighborhoods on summer nights to the annoyance of the nearby residents.

The question was raised by Floyd Tweed of W. 3rd St. and Peach Alley, who said he has been disturbed repeatedly by crowds of 15 to 20 boys and girls who gather on the corner "and plague the neighborhood every night from 6 to 11."

"IT'S SO noisy you can't hear the television unless you close your doors and windows," Tweed asserted. But he said he feels the fault lies with the parents, rather than the youngsters, because better control is not exercised. Tweed said the youngsters come "from two blocks in each direction" to congregate in his neighborhood.

Officers have dispersed the crowds in response to complaints, but the youngsters gather again in the same spot shortly, he added.

Councilman Donald Smith, replying to Tweed, read the curfew ordinance out of the city code book, pointing out that it requires children under 16 to be off the streets Sunday through Thursday by 10 p. m. and Friday and Saturday by 11 p. m. Children under 18 are required to be off the streets Sunday through Thursday by 11 p. m. and not later than midnight on Friday and Saturday, he added.

The ordinance also provides that violators will be taken to City Hall by police and held until they are picked up by a parent or guardian. For a second offense, the parent or guardian can be fined $10 and $25 and for a third offense the penalty ranges from $25 to $50.

BUT TWEED said the curfew law is no solution to his problem, pointing out that most of the noisy meetings take place inside the limit of hours set by the law.

"I feel the ordinance committee should investigate to find if the regulations can be amended," Councilman John Melvin asserted. "I have had similar complaints from North Side, particularly in the vicinity of the Irwin Drug-store."

In another juvenile problem, Melvin said he has continued to receive complaints of youngsters riding noisy motorbikes. The complaints have come principally from 3rd St., Bradshaw Ave. and St. Clair Ave., he said. Many of the motorbike riders are 15-18 and may not have the driver's licenses required for such a vehicle, he said.

Melvin pointed out the city has an ordinance against noisy mufflers and declared it should be enforced against motorbike riders as well as motorists.

Three requests were referred to the street committee for investigation.

DENNIE AND George Singer, owners of warehouse property near the riverfront, and Howard Parsons, president of the Parsons Coal Co. at the foot of Jackson St., filed a petition jointly asking Council to vacate 1st St. between Market and Jackson Sts. and Peach Alley from the south line of the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. right-of-way to the river. The petition pointed out the three already own all the abutting ground.

Atty. G. William Brokaw, appearing as counsel for R. E. Hoopes of Donora, Pa., the owner, asked Council to accept the dedicated plat for the fourth allotment of Fisher Park. In accepting, Council would dedicate the streets for public use and assume their upkeep. The new allotment contains 21 lots.

A petition with 16 signatures asked Council to establish one-way traffic south on Union St. between E. 3rd and 2nd Sts. Asserting the street "is too narrow for two-way traffic," the petition pointed out one-way traffic already is in effect in the Union St. stretch between E. 4th and E. 3rd Sts.

COUNCIL ACCEPTED a second petition requesting vacation of Carroll Ln. from Sanford Ave. south to the south line of Lot 6333. The petition carried 11 signatures. Owners of abutting property seek to continue to use the ground as a neighborhood "park" and playground.

Council ordered publication of a legal notice of the intended vacation. The vote was 6-1, with Smith dissenting. The advertisement must run for six weeks before further action can be taken.

The new petition is a substitute for another filed in July, which was not signed by all the affected property-owners and did not define fully the area sought to be vacated, Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper told Council.

Council enacted a resolution approving a bid of 3¼ per cent interest filed by Ryan, Sutherland & Co. of Toledo Friday for purchase of a $20,000 bond issue to finance an off-street parking lot on W. 6th St. established in 1959.

COUNCIL ALSO approved a resolution to pay a $75 claim of Walter and Lillian Crawford, 822 Daisy Ln., for damage to their home in February when a sewer backed up as it was being cleaned by city employes.

The claims committee was given a $15 bill from Robert Bailey of Bank St., who said a tire on his auto was cut on a manhole cover on Maine Blvd. The meeting opened with invocation by the Rev. Glenn Brunstetter of the Pennsylvania Ave. Methodist Church.

Boy, 5, Hurt In Tree Fall

An East End boy injured in a fall from a tree was admitted Tuesday to City Hospital. Six youngsters and adults were treated and released after separate mishaps.

John Albert (Jay) Rife, 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Rife, 1440 Pennsylvania Ave., is in "fairly good" condition with a fractured right arm suffered in the fall from the tree while playing.

Mrs. Helen Haun, 1943 Pennsylvania Ave. Ext., was treated late last night for a head injury suffered when she bumped against a piece of pipe yesterday afternoon while at work at the Riverview Florists greenhouse.

Theodore Higgins, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Higgins, 937 W. 8th St., suffered a laceration of the ear when hit by another player in a football contest.

Earl Golling, 38, of 315 Carolina Ave., Chester, a plumber, was treatd for flash burns of the eyes suffered while welding.

Council Confirms Board's Sale Of Land To Company

Wellsville City Council Tuesday night adopted resolutions confirming action by the Board of Control in selling a tract of land to the Freeport Sulphur Co. of New Orelans and granting the firm permission to erect a walkway and pipelines across the floodwall.

Freeport plans to erect a $1½ million liquid sulphur terminal below 25th St. and is in the process of purchasing land from the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. for the erection of storage tanks.

The firm purchased 3.221 acres from the city for $9,111. The ground will be used for docking facilities.

A LETTER from Freeport to the Army Corps of Engineers at Pittsburgh said 4 cells, 15 to 20 feet in diameter, will be erected in the river to serve as docks for the barges.

Councilman William Stroble made the motion. Councilman Donald Miller said he believes the other members of the department should share in the praise as they also worked long hours. Stroble said he believes this is a special case as the officer was out of Columbiana County, operating with a deputy sheriff.

Councilman Clarence Cartwright asked if the man was on official duty. Chief John Hephner answered from the audience that he was on official duty as he had been assigned by Capt. Pete Trainer to work with the deputy.

MILLER SAID that he believes all members of the department need recognition for working on their own time in other cases and robberies. Both he and Councilman Wilmer Ralston commented that Wellsville "has a good police department."

Council authorized erection of 100 feet of guardrail along Highland Ave. and approved a new street light on Buckeye Ave.

Following a lengthy discussion, permission was granted the Potters Bank & Trust to cut 57 feet of curb at the rear of the building to make a private parking lot. The city also granted permission for part of the sidewalk to be used as parking space. The cars will extend out onto the sidewalk, leaving about 5-foot clearance.

Solicitor William Bush said that conceivably both the city and the bank could be liable should anyone be injured on the section of cars sticking out onto the walk. Councilmen Paul Nelson and Miller opposed the motion.

COUNCIL ordered a letter be sent to the State Highway Department asking that a representative meet with Council to inform members as to the exact route of the relocation of Route 7 through Wellsville. It has been proposed that the new highway follow Buckeye Ave. Stroble said residents do not want to make improvements if this is so.

A discussion was held on the possibility of making Commerce St. one way between 9th and 15th Sts., with traffic flowing west. The street already is one-way between 3rd and 9th Sts.

Stroble complained the 18th St. railroad crossing needs repairs. A letter was ordered sent the Pennsylvania Railroad, asking that emergency repairs be made, regardless of the current strike.

Safety-Service Director William S. Robinson said that signs have been received directing that Main St. traffic, headed over the crossing, yield the right-of-way to traffic from the Nevada St. side.

COUNCILMAN Robert Taggart suggested that the sanitary sewers be flushed continually to keep them from backing up. Robinson said this is done frequently.

Bush said he had received a reply from the Pennsylvania Railroad on the city's query about reversionary rights to a strip of ground along Main St. below 12th St.

An old deed states the ground reverts back to the city when the firm discontinued passenger service. Bush said the railroad is concerned over who will maintain a retaining wall along the section and wants to know what the ground will be used for. Council informally has agreed that the area be cleaned up and pine trees planted as a beautification program.

CARTWRIGHT inquired about having directional lanes painted for traffifc making left turns at Wells Ave. and Route 45. He also asked why some catchbasins are lower than the street. Robinson said they are left this way for better draining.

Council set Sept. 17 as a deadline for Bill Mangano of East Liverpool to have the old Whitacre Apartment building completely razed. Bush was directed to take the matter to Common Pleas Court if the work is not completed by the deadline.

Miller complained of seeing young boys on the streets "boozed up." He said he passed some who were "drunk as monkeys." Chief Hephner said a check is made continually on the taverns and that many times the boys buy beer in another state.

Permission was granted the McLain Fire Brick Co. to break 30 feet of curbing on Buckeye Ave. across from the Buckeye Works office to create a parking lot.

COUNCIL ORDERED a resolution accepting $523.05 for the perpetual care of the grass of Frank L. Custer at Springhill Cemetery.

Mayor William J. Shoub's report for August showed $1,046.10 collected in fines and fees.

A letter was read from McGill & Smith, consulting engineers of Cincinnati, contending that Wellsville's sewage disposal plant is adequate and that a statement by a citizen last month was erroneous.

Action to prohibit residents from connecting storm drains into sanitary sewers was defeated last month.

Cartwright said he had heard a statement that he "wasn't doing his job as a councilman." He said "if anyone thinks so they can find someone else for his post."

Sixth Pre-Natal Clinic Will Begin On Sept. 14

LISBON — The sixth in a series of pre-natal clinics will be held Wednesday, Sept. 14, in the Columbiana County Health Department's offices from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m., according to Dr. C. S. Palmer, county health commissioner.

Mrs. Violet Peterson, county health nurse, is the instructor. The classes will be held each Wednesday afternoon for six weeks.

Those interested in attending should call the department and register. The class will be limited to 15 persons.

Police Chief To Quit

AMHERST, Ohio (AP) — Paul Pikey, police chief of this Lorain County village of 4,000 for 15 years, will resign Sept. 15. In a letter to Council Tuesday night he said he no longer would work because of shoulder and spine injuries received last Oct. 8 when he bumped into a parking meter while running after a man.

2 Draw Fines In Beer Party

Roderick Torrence, 22, of Steubenville and Jack Crites, 21, of Mingo Junction R. D. 1 were fined $50 and costs each and given suspended 6-month jail terms at hearing Tuesday before Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin at Lisbon on charges of contributing to the delinquency of a 17-year-old Mingo Junction youth as the aftermath of a beer-drinking party July 15 at the Twin Truck Stop north of Salineville in which a number of juveniles allegedly participated.

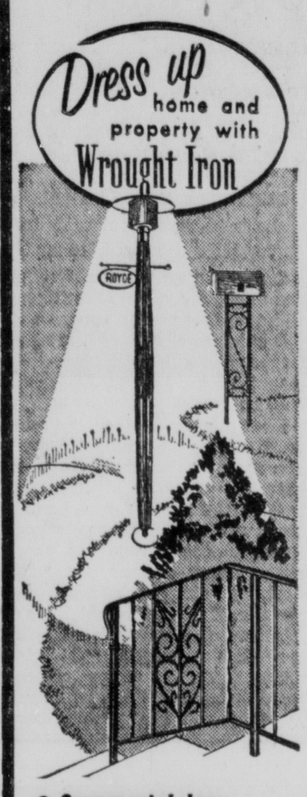

Norman Butler of Salineville, owner and operator of the truck stop, pleaded not guilty before Judge Tobin on charges of contributing to the delinquency of minors. His bond was set at $2,000 for a hearing Wednesday, Sept. 21, at 9:30 a. m. Butler recently was released from a Pittsburgh hospital.

The jail terms of Torrence and Crites were suspended provided they remain out of Columbiana County for a year, not associate with anyone under 18 and be available to testify in Juvenile Court if called upon.

Woman, 34, Jailed On Pretense Charge

LISBON — "Things to Make Out of Wire Clothes Hangers" will be the theme of the Hanover Township Home Demonstration Group Thursday from 10 a. m. to 2:30 p. m. at the Presbyterian Church in Hanoverton, according to Miss Julia Shank, county extension agent in home economics. Camille Kelton will be leader and members are to bring wire clothes hangers and pliers and a coverdish.

2 Draw Fines In Beer Party

Roderick Torrence, 22, of Steubenville and Jack Crites, 21, of Mingo Junction R. D. 1 were fined $50 and costs each and given suspended 6-month jail terms at hearing Tuesday before Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin at Lisbon on charges of contributing to the delinquency of a 17-year-old Mingo Junction youth as the aftermath of a beer-drinking party July 15 at the Twin Truck Stop north of Salineville in which a number of juveniles allegedly participated.

Norman Butler of Salineville, owner and operator of the truck stop, pleaded not guilty before Judge Tobin on charges of contributing to the delinquency of minors. His bond was set at $2,000 for a hearing Wednesday, Sept. 21, at 9:30 a. m. Butler recently was released from a Pittsburgh hospital.

The jail terms of Torrence and Crites were suspended provided they remain out of Columbiana County for a year, not associate with anyone under 18 and be available to testify in Juvenile Court if called upon.

Woman, 34, Jailed On Pretense Charge

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Elizabeth Linsey, 34, who moved to Springfield from Fayetteville, N. C., just three weeks ago, is in jail here pending federal action on a charge of receiving medical care under the pretense of being a dependent wife of a serviceman. She was arrested Tuesday by the FBI, and U. S. Commissioner George C. Collins bound her over to a federal grand jury under $1,000 bond.

Instruct Poor Reader To Sound Words

If your child is a poor reader or poor speller and is in the second, third or fourth grade, you may do something to help him. Notice as he reads what he does when he comes to a new word. Does he guess what to call it? Does he figure from the context what it might be? Does he estimate what it might be from its length or its similarity to some other words he knows? Or does he recognize familiar sounds in it? Maybe he has no notion about looking for the sounds it might have. He may have never learned at school the simple elements of phonics. If he is reading aloud, it may be well just to tell him what the new word is. If you make him stop to sound out the word, he may feel hampered.

Garry C. Meyers

BUT AFTER HE has finished the sentence or paragraph, or is trying to spell a new word, it may be well to sound out the word for him and to encourage him to sound out with you some similar words.

It may be well to have him see a number of words which begin with the same letter and sound, as boat, ball, balloon.

First practice him on words which begin with a simple consonant. After he has caught on well, have him see words in which two letters together make a certain sound at the beginning of words, as chair, chain, child; or plow, place, please; or train, try, trap.

After he has practiced on simple words of one syllable, you might practice him on words with two syllables, especially short familiar words like dishpan, blackboard, mousetrap. Then you might say words with two syllables, having him tap as you say each syllable, as horseshoe, camel, ready.

YOU COULD even go on in this way with words of more syllables, as grasshopper, elephant, hippopotamus. Later practice him on simple words with the long or short sounds of the vowels.

Suppose your child is only four or five and you read a great deal to him, including some nursery rhymes.

After reading one rhyme several times, you might pause instead of saying the rhyming word, letting him supply it. Or, as you say a word like ball, you might ask him to say some words which sound like and rhyme with it.

Water Pollution Report Lists City Checking Unit

The City Water Department and the Ohio Department of Health were among the co-operating agencies in the National Water Quality Network of the U. S. Public Health Service, which has issued its second annual report of a continuous study of pollution in major interstate waters.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I make a less-messy and dirty job of cleaning out my fireplace?

A. If you'll keep a piece of newspaper burning in one corner of the fireplace while you're removing the ashes, the cloud of dust you raise will then be drawn up the chimney in the draft created by the flames, instead of blown all over the room.

Q. How can I "revitalize" my tape measure, which has become too limp for easy use ?

A. Place the tape between two sheets of waxed paper and press it with a moderately hot iron. The wax from the paper will provide just the right amount of stiffening.

Q. Can you suggest any use for fermented jellies?

A. Try cooking them with a little sugar and water, adding cornstarch for thickening, and then using them for hot dessert sauces.

Lisbon Couple To Mark 50th Anniversary At Open House

An open house observance Sunday will mark the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Bonar of Lisbon, who will receive friends and relatives from 2 until 5 p.m. at their home at 302 E. Chestnut St.

They were married Sept. 10, 1910, at Moundsville, W. Va., and came to Lisbon the next day. Bonar then was with the R. Thomas Co. pottery where he was employed for 24 years.

Went To Many States

In 1936, he became affiliated with the Grinnell Pipe Construction Co., which took him to many states with Mrs. Bonar. He retired in 1955 and returned to Lisbon.

Meanwhile, he supervised some of the work on the Salem City Hospital addition and at the Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co.'s new office building.

Mrs. Bonar was the former Bessie L. Dakan of Rosbys Rock, W. Va.

No formal invitations have been issued but all friends and relatives are welcome.

Women of the Trinity Episcopal Church will hold their first fall T.G.S. Whitney administering Communion at noon. A sack lunch will follow and a business session will be held at 1 with Mrs. Raymond Morris, president, in charge.

Coverdish Supper Set

The Crusaders Class of the First Presbyterian Church will hold a coverdish supper Thursday evening at 6 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Lowry of the Lisbon-Columbiana Rd.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Ferguson and children,, Marsha and David, of N. Jefferson St. returned Monday from a 10-day vacation trip.

Clarence Robinson of E. Washington St. and granddaughter, Cynthia Lee Robinson, visited in the Kenneth Robinson home in Toledo Saturday and Sunday and were accompanied home by Mrs. Robinson, who had spent the past week there. Mr. and Mrs. George Hiner and family of S. Lincoln Ave. spent the weekend in Toledo as guests of the Robinsons, arriving home Tuesday.

Visit In Westerville

Mr. and Mrs. George Gonzales of Harrison St. spent the weekend in Westerville with their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Raley. Gonzales also attended the reunion of the 332nd Field Hospital Unit of World War I in Columbus.

Mr. and Mrs. Vern Thomas of Steubenville visited over the weekend with Atty. and Mrs. Lynn Riddle at their summer home on the Rollercoaster Rd.

Larry Lafferty of Lorain spent the weekend with his parents, Atty. and Mrs. George Lafferty, of E. Lincoln Way.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Willet and sons of Bay Village spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Shattuck, of E. Pine St.

Mrs. Evelyn Wilhelm, Mrs. Nora Henry, Miss Virginia Raney and Miss Helen Crawford vacationed over the weekend at Shady Beach Hotel at Geneva-On-The-Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gunn and family returned Monday to Cincinnati after spending the past week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Gunn, of W. Lincoln Way.

Civil Service Test Set For Custodial Laborer

The U. S. Civil Service Commission announced today it will hold an examination for the post of custodial laborer at the East Liverpool Post Office.

Both residents and non-residents may apply, but applications will be accepted only from those eligible for veteran preference, the commission said.

The deadline for filing for the post, which pays $3,670 yearly, is Sept. 29.

Sailor Returns

SALINEVILLE — Boilerman 3C Carl R. Lindner, 109 W. Get Your Gas Furnace Ready For Winter NOW!

Now — while the weather is mild — is the time to make sure your Gas furnace is in tip-top working order. By calling your heating contractor or dealer early, you avoid the rush for service when cold weather strikes. You assure your family they'll have heat when they need it.

And, you protect your furnace. Like anything mechanical, your Gas heating equipment will last longer and give better service if you give it proper care. Periodic check-ups insure continuous, efficient, economical operation of your Gas heating plant.

Make arrangements now to have your heating dealer clean your furnace . . . check burners and pilot light . . . inspect vents and flues for stoppages . . . replace clogged, dirty filters if you have a forced-air system. The cost for these important services is low, and you'll be glad later that you acted early to put your furnace in shape for better service all winter long.

Now is the time, too, to join our Budget Heating Plan. Ask about this helpful plan which lets you spread your winter heating bills evenly over 10 months, starting in October.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My father went to the dentist and got all new teeth. He looks a lot better but he refuses to eat what my mother puts on the table. All he wants to do is drink beer.

This is causing lots of arguments in our house. Mom says he will die of starvation if he doesn't eat some solid food.

Pop says beer is nourishing and he can live on it just fine.

Mom says if he plans to live on beer he'd better do it someplace else (he gets pretty noisy around 10 o'clock, and by midnight he's asleep on the couch).

He claims he's tired from working so hard. Mom says he's passing out.

Any advice you can give will be welcome — NERVOUS AT 11.

Dear Nervous: Your dad isn't eating because his teeth aren't comfortable. He should go back to the dentist and get his dentures adjusted. If he keeps on that beer diet he could wind up an alcoholic in no time.

No Trial Marriage

Dear Ann: I'm a girl who has a terrible home life. My folks fight all the time. There are only three bedrooms in this house for 10 people.

My aunt and uncle moved in six months ago and they sleep in the living room. I can't have any company over here because diapers are strung all over the house.

A fellow, 24, has asked me to marry him. He's very nice but he was born in the old country and has old-country ways. He also talks like a foreigner and it embarrasses me.

Ezra has his own business and makes good money. I know he could give me some of the nice things in life.

The problem is, Ezra wants me to move in with him and his mother for a month to see how we could get along. What do you think?

Tell him no thank you on the 30-day free-trial offer. If he had minimum respect for you he wouldn't suggest such a thing.

Departing Guests

Dear Ann: This may seem, at first glance, a trifling matter. But, please, before you discard it, give it a minute's thought.

The other evening we were visiting in the home of friends. When we left they slammed the door shut on us seconds after we walked out. It made me feel uncomfortable, as if they couldn't wait to get rid of us. This has happened to us before.

When people visit in our home my wife and I always walk with them to their car or, if the weather is bad, we stand in the doorway until they drive off. It seems rude to do otherwise. Or am I old-fashioned? — HOSPITALITY UNLIMITED. ....

Dear Unlimited: Apparently you and your wife are more gracious than the people you visit. It's bad manners to slam the door shut on people the moment they leave. It is flattering to departing guests to spend the extra minutes with them.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Road Signs Eyed At Lawrenceville

Plans to erect traffic warning signs in the Lawrenceville area in a safety campaign were made at a meeting of the American Legion Post 163 Tuesday night at the post home.

The post will obtain the signs, such as slow, school and speed limit designations, from the State Road Commission at Moundsville.

Robert Hood was elected publicity officer to succeed Wilbur Mellott, who was elected finance officer. Graven Lyle and Richard Brown were elected to the Board of Directors, and Brown was named child welfare officer.

Brown, Lyle and William Schladen were appointed an auditing committee.

Plans were made for a party and dance to be held Friday night at 8 at the post home. Lunch was served 15 by John Grimes. Ed Brewer, commander, was in charge.

The next meeting will be Sept. 19.

Bargaining Slated On Regional Level For Milk Prices

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Great Lakes Milk Marketing Federation, representing seven dairy cooperatives and 30,000 farmers, will bargain for milk prices on a regional basis.

This was announced Tuesday by Charles K. Laughton, manager of the Milk Producers Federation of Cleveland, who said the Great Lakes federation had named a committee to develop plans for regional bargaining.

"Many cooperatives have been hampered in their bargaining efforts because they can influence only local market prices," explained Harry B. Rowland, of Wellington, MPF representative to the federation.

"But milk markets do not stop at state lines and neither can our bargaining efforts. We have to bargain on a broader basis if we are to improve the net returns to our dairy farmer members."

In addition to the Cleveland federation, the Great Lakes agency also represents Akron Milk Producers,, Inc.; Stark County Milk Producers Association of Canton; Northwestern Cooperative Sales Association of Toledo; Michigan Milk Producers Association; Wayne Cooperative Milk Producers Association of Fort Wayne, Ind., and Dairymen's Cooperative Sales Association of Pittsburgh.

Council Provides Funds For School Guard Staff

Council approved legislation Tuesday night providing an additional $1,200 to pay the salaries of 10 adult school crossing guards who started their duties today as classes got under way for the 1960-61 term.

A total of $1,700 now will be available for the guards' pay, as $500 remained from the appropriation for the latter part of the 1959-60 term, Councilman Clinton R. Seevers, chairman of the finance committee, explained.

The funds were provided in an amended appropriation ordinance in which Council also transferred $645 to pay for maintenance of police cruisers. The money was shifted from other funds in the police department appropriation, principally $262 remaining for "incidentals" and $218 set aside for stationery.

Commissioners Clear Change For Salem Plat

LISBON—County commissioners Tuesday approved the replat of lots 21, 22 and 23 in the Marie K. Harper Addition of Section 31 in Perry Township, which borders Highland Ave. and 11th St. in Salem. The change divides the three lots into two lots.

The commissioners also visited Chestnut Alley in Middleton to check on a request to vacate it. A public hearing on the vacation will be held Monday at 2 p. m. in the commissioners' office. The next regular meeting is set Thursday.

Dear friends,

We think the custom of expressing sympathy by sending flowers is a beautiful one. There is comfort in these floral expressions.

Those who say "I prefer to give my flowers to the living rather than to the dead" should remember that flowers at a funeral ARE for the living. Flowers may also convey a tribute to the deceased, but this again is for the comfort of the family.

Respectfully,

Richard C. Martin

New TV Mystery Has Old-Fashioned Appeal

"Diagnosis Unknown" has its heart in the right place. It's a mystery series with the violence mercifully kept out of sight. The interest is on the mystery, an old-fashioned way of approaching these things which I happen to like, and the story is seen through the eyes of the law, rather than those of the hoodlum. Also, it is taped in the East, a very healthy trend.

John Crosby

The hero of "Diagnosis Unknown" is Dr. Coffee, very well played by Patrick O'Neal, a pathologist who solves crimes—or helps to solve them—by analyzing the blood stains and that sort of thing, for the police department. It runs heavily to dialogue like:

"Yes, we've cultured the parthogenesis of the spinal fluid. I have the report here from the blood scrapings—Rh negative."

Well, this is a scientific age.

DR. COFFEE'S sidekick in all this is a cop played by that old prop, Chester Morris, looking hardly a day older than he did years ago in "moom pitchers."

The stories are unusual, with striking settings. One, for example, opened with a scene from "Hamlet" in which the actor playing Hamlet literally kills the man playing Polonius. Another went in strongly for gypsy incantations.

There's a sturdy effofrt toward characterization; much of the dialogue has intelligence and flashes of humor. But still "Diagnosis Unknown" leaves an unsatisfied taste. I suspect those stories aren't right. Some of them are awfully talky and occasionally whole scenes are pretty awkward.

JUST THE SAME, I like the idea of the sophisticated mystery series shot in New York and I hope we have some more of them.

"Diagnosis Unknown" has been a summer replacement for Garry Moore and is due to go off the air on Sept. 20. Its producer, Bob Banner, feels strongly that tape is the only way the East will wrest control of some television dramatic production from the West Coast, which clearly holds all the trump cards in film production.

Some of the show was even taped on location. (Tape makes a better picture than film.) The movement needs encouragement, of only to take some of the deadening sameness out of TV drama of this nature.

SPEAKING OF diagnoses, I generally take the pulse of the country by listening to its songs. The mood in that department is grim, grim. Every time I turn on the radio, someone is mowing someone else down, and getting sentenced to 99 years.

In "Delia's Gone," an old folk song, a lover chops down his inamorata and wishes he hadn't. He gets 99 years and, as he says, the joke's on the judge because he has a cousin who has been sentenced to 999 years.

You all must have heard "Badman's Blunder," about a guy who was "feeling kind of mean" and who shoots a deputy down. He, too, got 99 years, "and all I did was shoot a deputy down."

The airwaves are alive with death and, what with Billy Graham predicting the end of the world and the lovers singing of death, it's been a morbid summer.

THE HOMICIDES in the song field aren't always murder. On the way up the best seller list is a young lady—"Dig My Grave and Dig It Deep"—who killed herself over a faithless lover.

There's "Tell Laura I Love Her," a tremendously long morbid saga about a guy who killed himself in a stock car race. This one has a sequel, "Tell Tommy I Miss Him," which contains the immortal line: "Why did he do such a reckless thing?"

The most ghoulish song of all is the revival of an old 1890s number called "Lady in Crepe." It's about a lady out fishing whose "line grew heavy as lead. When up came a creature whose every feature resembled her husband dead." The creature pulled the lady right down to her watery grave with him.

What does it all mean?. Jack Gold, who publishes some of these songs, has an interesting theory:

"Do you remember in "Tom Sawyer" when Tom and Huck went to their own funeral? They had all the fun of dying without dying. It's a childish feeling—'you'll be sorry when I'm gone.' Everyone gets stabbed, but nobody bleeds."

Congressman Breaks Ground For Post Office

The new building will be located on Route 68 in Ohio View and is considered the initial step in obtaining a business district.

Baker is president of Dawson Ridge Farms, which will lease the Post Office half of the building to the postal department and sell the Borough Building half to the borough on a lease-purchase agreement amounting to $9,650.

Construction will begin this week and the project is to be completed in 60 days. Roy F. Johns of Aliquippa is general contractor.

Exams Slated On City Posts

An examination for the position of public health and school nurse will be held by the Wellsville Civil Service Commission Thursday night while another to create a new eligibility list for the fire department will be held Monday, Sept. 26.

Meanwhile, it has been announced that 10 of 14 received passing grades in a test held last week for the posts of janitors in the Wellsville school system.

Names of the six top men were submitted to the Board of Education. They are Carl Channels, 1230 Commerce St., Wayne Hamilton of R. D. 1, James Judge, 405 15th St., Morgan Williams, 1754 Clark Ave., Berdette Smith, 715 Main St., and George Wilson of Russell Heights.

There are three posts to be filled and possibly a fourth. Janitors are needed at McKinley and Fairview Schools and a night man is needed in the high school building. A fourth may be named to assist at the high school.

Mrs. Lucille F. Mato, clerk, said five have obtained applications for the nurse test. Only one has been turned in, she said. The examination will be given at 7:30 at Wellsville City Hall Council Chambers.

The vacancy was created when Mrs. Jennie Calhoun retired in July after 25 years service.

The board will act on the appointments at a meeting Monday night at 7:30.

There are no vacancies at present on the fire department but a new eligibility list must be made every two years. Anyone between the ages of 21 and 31 may apply. The exam also will be held at 7:30 p. m. at the Council Chambers.

Chester Mothers Plan Lunch Stand At Games

About 13 attended a meeting of the Chester Football and Basketball Mothers Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Emil Rice of 5th St., president.

Plans were made to operate a lunch stand at home football games starting Friday night with the Chester-South Side game. Plans were also made to serve a lunch to players and cheerleaders after each home game.

The group is selling Christmas candy to raise money for projects. Lunch was served by the hostess and Mrs. Donald Hissam. The next meeting will be Oct. 3.

Chester Mothers Plan Lunch Stand At Games

About 13 attended a meeting of the Chester Football and Basketball Mothers Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Emil Rice of 5th St., president.

Plans were made to operate a lunch stand at home football games starting Friday night with the Chester-South Side game. Plans were also made to serve a lunch to players and cheerleaders after each home game.

The group is selling Christmas candy to raise money for projects. Lunch was served by the hostess and Mrs. Donald Hissam. The next meeting will be Oct. 3.

Famed Pilot Dies

DETROIT (AP)—Frederick B. Fitch, 61, a World War I flying ace who shot down 17 German aircraft, died Monday. He served with the British Royal Air Force on detached service from the United States Army.

CINCINNATI (AP)—A dip in a private swimming pool without the owner's permission ended in the drowning Tuesday of Chester Evans, 13, of Cincinnati, police reported.

25 Attend Civil Defense Platoon Group Meeting

Twenty-five attended a meeting of the 2nd and 5th Platoons of the 31st Mobile Support Group of Civil Defense Tuesday night at the Liverpool Township West volunteer fire station in LaCroft.

William Lockhart, instructor, presided. Clarence Ammon, CD police captain, said his unit will work at Beaver Local School Saturday to help in handling traffic and parking cars for the football game. The unit also will work all other home games.

Kenneth Mills, CD fire chief, asked that some of the police report to the Glenmoor fire station at noon Saturday to aid in taking the trucks out for an inspection.

Refreshments were served. The next meeting will be Sept. 20 at Glenmoor.

Stumbling Blocks To Reducing

Two big stumbling blocks in reducing are discouragement and boredom. The spirit of camaraderie and good will which are the very heart of reducing clubs helps overweights to hurdle these obstacles. This eagerness to help others lose the burden of fat was shown in letters from members of T.O.P.S. clubs in response to a particular column. One homemaker who weighed 282 pounds wrote that she looked in the door of a T.O.P.S. meeting. She turned back because the members were a mere 20 to 40 pounds overweight and she was afraid they might laugh at her. Happily, one of the letters from a club member came from the very town in Ohio in which our homemaker lives. Here is the helpful spirit she will find in that group, and in all T.O.P.S. clubs.

By Ida Jean Kain

"I AM WRITING to your in connection with the lady who weighs 282 pounds and has mustered the courage to start reducing.

"I am especially interested in her reference to a T.O.P.S. club. Please urge her to go to one of their meetings. I am sure they will not laugh at her. After all, they are all there for the same purpose, to lose weight, whether in large or small amounts.

"I have belonged to a T.O.P.S. group for over a year now and have lost 45 pounds. I have 10 more to lose. I had tried dieting many times and would only lose a few unnoticed pounds. Knowing that I would be weighed in every week . . . we meet on Wednesday evenings . . . made me stay on my diet. I was queen for our small club last year so I got to attend the T.O.P.S. convention in Detroit. Believe me, that was an eye-opener. Women were there from all over the country, Alaska, and Canada.

"They were all sizes and shapes, but what astonished me were the many, many women who had lost a hundred pounds or more. Seeing their 'before' pictures was just amazing.

"REDUCING CLUBS have no magic cure - all, for there just isn't an easy or magic way to lose weight safely and surely. But it does help so much to be with a group of women, all with the same problems and helping each other. We all follow and enjoy your morale - boosting columns and often read them at our club meetings."

An unhappy overweight couldn't help but take heart from that welcoming letter. T.O.P.S., which means to Take Off Pounds Sensibly, has headquarters in Milwaukee, Wis. To Learn more about this excellent organization, write to TOPS National Headquarters, 2306 South Howell Ave., Milwaukee 7.

You will all be happily surprised to know that the homemaker in today's story has now reduced 20 pounds. That's tomorrow's column.

2 Midland Men Enter Dogs In Beaver Show

Two Midland men have entries in a show scheduled Saturday by the Beaver Valley Kennel Club at Bradys Run Park off Route 51, near Beaver Falls.

They are Councilman Steve Germusa and Carmen Cananzi. A field of 256 entries is expected. All proceeds will go to the Beaver County Humane Society, the club announced.

The show will be open from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. and judging will be between the same hours in both the bench and obedience classes.

Rotary Shown Racing Films

A color movie of the first 500-mile stock car race held at the new Daytona International Speedway was screened for the program at the Rotary Club's noon luncheon meeting Tuesday in the Travelers Hotel.

The 2½-mile long oval, built at a cost of $3 million, was designed for testing and racing "cars that haven't been built yet," the movie pointed out.

One of the nation's fastest tracks, the Daytona speedway was constructed recently to permit autos to race at greater speeds than are possible on the sandy beaches of the Florida city.

The first 500-mile race was won by a yard by Lee Petty, who averaged 135.52 miles-per-hour. The track's banked, asphalt curves are designed with enough slope to permit autos to take the turns at speeds of 200 miles-per-hour.

The movie was screened by John Buchanan of Claysville, Pa., territorial manager for the Champion Spark Plug Co. Buchanan was introduced by Chan Keys, program chairman.

George Hargraves, president, announced that the district governor will make an official visit at next Tuesday's meeting. A club assembly will follow.

It's The Flora-Cheque

New Form Of Currency Making Bow This Month

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—There's a new form of paper currency making its debut this month on the crowded and complicated international scene.

It's the flora-cheque, in three denominations each representing so many fleurins.

The fleurin is an unminted monetary unit pegged at 25 U. S. cents or one Swiss franc. And there's a clearing house in Detroit and another in Zurich, Switzerland, to square international accounts in fleurins.

The fleurin, and now also its paper token the flora-cheque, are accepted at some 24,000 spots around the world—even behind the Iron Curtain. But they aren't redeemable in money—only in flowers or plants.

The fleurin and the flora-cheque are unlikely to rival the U. S. dollar and the British pound sterling as a basic medium of international trade. But they are counted upon to boost the sale of flowers and to make things easier for those who want to give flowers to overseas relatives or friends.

A side benefit for the customer is skipping the vagaries of foreign exchange. The fleurin goes unchanged in value while other more orthodox currencies may fluctuate. And the customer doesn't have to worry about what sudden changes in money valuations might do to his gift between his visit to his local florist and delivery of the flowers half way around the globe. The international clearing houses adjust the minor daily fluctuations.

Now with the new flora-cheque he can mail a nonfluctuating bit of scrip and let the recipient choose his own flowers.

The flora-cheque comes in denominations of $5, $7.50, and $10, good in any of the 24,000 member shops of the Florists' Telegraph Delivery Assn. and its international affiliate, Interflora Inc.

The recipient of your gift has to buy flowers or plants—he can't use it for a night on the town.

If you leave the whole thing up to your ltcal florist, the fleurin works this way: Say you want to send $10 worth of roses to friends in Rome celebrating their wedding anniversary. You pay the money to your local florist and he tells his Interflora Roman counterpart to send your friends 40 fleurin worth of roses.

Remarks That Tire Them

About Hat Check Girls

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks that hat check girls get tired of hearing:

"You still here, Gloria? I thought you'd have a movie contract by now."

"I'm coming in tomorrow night with a client I want to impress. There'll be an extra two bits in it if you'll remember to call me by my first name. It's Joe."

"Here's a nickel for my hat, young lady, and a nickel for you."

"You got change for a twenty, kid? I gotta make a phone call."

"Yeh, she does look a little like the Mona Lisa — but she looks even more like Whistler's mother."

"I hear she's working her son's way through college—or is it her grandson?"

"Don't think her tips don't add up. I hear she's a silent partner in Standard Oil."

"You'll have to put this one on the cuff, baby. The smallest I've got is a $10 bill."

"I know you usually get two bits a hat, but I'm wearing a cap today. Is fifteen cents okay?"

"I guess I get in on a free pass tonight, Gloria. I left my hat in the office."

"I came by to pick up the hat my husband thinks he left here last week. I don't know the size or style, but you ought to remember my husband. He's small, bald, has a mole on his right cheek—and pinches every girl he meets."

"Could I also please check my rubbers, this package, my umbrella, these flowers for my wife, my briefcase, my raincoat, this newspaper and—"

"Seen any pith helmets lately?"

"How about me picking you up when the joint closes, and ten we can park my hat in your house? Whaddaya say, baby?"

"Is that wedding ring you're wearing a prop—or is it for real?"

"Do you have special rates for the clergy? No, I'm not a minister. I was just curious."

"I do her dental work. When she smiles, take a good long look at her left bicuspid. I'm pretty proud of that."

"Let's play nursery games. You be little Red Riding Hood—and I'll be the wolf."

"I bought this hat for $7.50 in 1955. I been eating here twice a week for five years, and each time it has cost me 25 cents to check my hat. You know what that adds up to? It adds up to $130. It's an outrage!"

"Sure it's okay to give her a Canadian quarter. She's got a cousin in Ontario."

Teachers Receive Welcome To Area At Tour, Program

Forty-three attended a luncheon program Tuesday noon at Tice's Restaurant, climaxing a reception for 28 new teachers in the East Liverpool and Beaver Local school systems arranged by the public education committee of the Chamber of Commerce and the East Liverpool Teachers Association.

T. Fred Edwards, Chamber president, extended a formal welcome to the new instructors. Each teacher and businessman introduced himself. The invocation was by Judson English. The Board of Education was represented by C. W. Ashbaugh, also a member of the Chamber committee.

The luncheon followed an auto tour of the East Liverpool district to familiarize the teachers with points of scenic and civic interest. Cars were furnished by East Liverpool auto dealers.

The Chamber group and the association served coffee and rolls prior to a general teachers' meeting at Westgate yesterday morning. Coffee, iced tea and cookies were served by the same groups after the meeting. The tour followed.

The Chamber committee planning the event was headed by Edwin Maloney. The committee for the association was headed by Miss Mildred McGregor. Milton Watson is president of the association.

THE EAST LIVERPOOL Potters will be seeing a lot of this trio Friday night at Massillon. The three speedsters are in the Tiger backfield. Left-to-right are right halfback Bob Herring (140), fullback Martin Gugov (6[illegible]) and halfback Art Hastings (165), the team's No. 1 back who was a first team All-State choice last season as a junior.

Potter Coach Announces Lineup For Grid Opener

Either Tom Kraft, a 145-pound sophomore, or Gene Wolfe, a 170-pound junior will start. The left halfback spot was up for grabs after Cookie Goodballet, the leading candidate for the spot, suffered a leg injury in a scrimmage with Campbell Memorial last Wednesday.

Saturday, Kraft moved into the slot but came up with a sprained ankle in a scrimmage. However, Kraft returned to practice Tuesday.

The other three members of the backfield are ready with Kenny Cunningham at quarterback, speedy Joe Thompson at halfback and the veteran John Goodballet at fullback.

The forward wall puts Tim Archer and Mike Geon at the end spots, while Joe Smith, a 175-pound senior, and a surprise to Venditti so far, will be at one tackle along with letterman Skip Hall, a 185-pounder at the other tackle spot.

Another veteran Larry Crook, who only played defense last season, will be at one offensive guard with Glenn Mays at the other spot. Mays is up from the reserve team.

One substitution on defense will see Craig O'Neil go to a corner spot with Montgomery coming out of the lineup.

Here's This Week's District Grid Card

Friday's Games

East Liverpool at Massillon
South Side at Chester
Midland at Beaver Falls
Lisbon at Wellsville
Northwestern at New Cumberland
Stanton Local at Hopedale
Akron Hoban at Salem

Saturday's Games

Follansbee St. Anthony at Newell
Goshen Union at United Springfield Local at Beaver Local

Nonpareil Club Hears Report On Memebrship

George Mueller, drive chairman, reported over $500 had been collected in memberships when the Blue and White Nonpareil Club met Tuesday at the YMCA.

Frank Dawson and Don Burbick were appointed co-chairmen of a football party to be held within a week after the 1960 season ends.

A "Parents Night" was set for Sept. 23 when East Liverpool meets Girard. H. A. "Hap" Tullis was named chairman of the affair.

An annual donation of $50 was made to the YMCA.

A discussion was held on the development of a recreation center during the summer months at Thompson Park. The plan is only in its talking stage. The Nonpareil Club voted to help defray expenses.

Rocky Paid Not To Blast Homers

DETROIT (AP) —Rocky Colavito, whom the Detroit Tigers acquired for his slugging ability, is getting paid not to drive the ball out of the park.

The big outfielder is getting an extra $1,000 for curbing his home run output in favor of a fatter batting average.

The deal originally was made by Frank Lane when Colavito was with the Cleveland Indians. It was honored by the Tigers.

Bill Dewitt, Detroit president, said Colavito already has the money.

Colavito hit 42 homers last year and has 28 this season with some 20 games remaining.

Lane, Cleveland's general manager, confirmed he offered the outfielder "an extra $1,000 if he didn't hit 40 home runs in 1960." Lane said he made the proposal in an effort to boost Colavito's batting average of .257 last year. He's now hitting .254.

Oakland 9 Wins In Church Playoff

Behind the three-hit pitching of Dan Barton, Oakland Free Methodist edged Calvary Methodist, 2-1, in the YMCA-Church League playoffs Monday.

Mort paced the winners with two hits and R. Waite drove in the winning run in the top of the seventh.

Wallace, Murkowski Run Bucks In Drills

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State junior Jack Wallace of Middletown, the Buckeye's No. 2 signal-caller, and soph Bill Murkowski of Elyria took turns running the first team Tuesday as the football squad went through another morning - afternoon workout. First - string quarterback Tom Matte sat out the practice with a sprained ankle.

Coach Woody Hayes, apparently pleased with the drill, said, "We worked pretty hard and did not have a single injury. This could mean we're toughening up."

Bucs Find Win Over Braves Costly

Groat Is Injured, Out For Campaign

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Can Pittsburgh make it without Dick Groat?

Groat, a top contender for the NL's Most Valuable Player award, was struck on the wrist by a slider from Milwaukee right-hander Lew Burdette in the first inning of the Pirates' comeback, 5-3 victory over the Braves.

With Groat, runner-up in the NL bat race with a .325 average to Norm Larker's .331 for Los Angeles, out of business, the shortstop job falls to Dick Schofield, the one-time $40,000 bonus baby of the St. Louis Cardinals who has spent his time on the bench with a big glove and a smallbat.

The Cardinals move into Forbes Field for their final shot at the Pirates tonight. They took over second place while idle Tuesday as the Braves, now 7½ games behind, dropped their second decision in the three-game set at Pittsburgh. Los Angeles beat San Francisco 7-0, and Cincinnati won 6-1 at Philadelphia in 10 innings.

In the American League, the Baltimore Orioles padded their lead to 1½ games while idle as Boston walloped the second-place New York Yankees 7-1. Chicago's third-place White Sox toppled 4½ games behind with a 3-2 loss at Kansas City. Cleveland beat Detroit 10-8 in 10 innings in the only other game.

The Pirates, after blowing a 2-0 lead, battled back and beat Warren Spahn for the second time in two days. The Milwaukee left-hander, now 17-9, couldn't retire a man when he came on in relief of Burdette in the eighth with a 3-2 lead. Dick Stuart and Roberto Clemente greeted the southpaw ace with consecutive doubles that tied it, and Smoky Burgess then followed with a single for a clinching 4-3 lead. Mickey Vernon, recently switched from coach to the active roster, delivered a pinch single off reliever Ron Piche to make it a three-run inning.

Right-hander Don Drysdale (13-13) won his seventh in a row at the Los Angeles Coliseum—where he said no one could win—with a six-hitter. He struck out eight, walked none. Norm Larker's fourth home run, with a man on defeated Georges Maranda (1-4) in the first inning. The Dodgers, helped by one of Willie Mays' infrequent errors, scored their other five in the third on Gil Hodges' three-run double and a two-run triple by Drysdale.

Five singles and Ted Lepcio's error on a doubleplay ball gave the Reds five in the 10th at Philadelphia and beat Johnny Buzhardt (4-14). Jim Brosnan (7-2) was the winner in relief.

Pickins, Nichols Win Club's Labor Day Golf Event

Al Nichols and Mrs. William Pickin combined for a 37-43-80 to record low gross in the Scotch foursome event held Labor Day at the East Liverpool Country Club.

Low net went to J. S. Probst and Mrs. T. A. Farnsworth who fired 89-22-67.

A tie at 69 each for second low net came between Dr. and Mrs. C. W. McCutcheon and a team of T. A. Farnsworth and Mrs. J. A. Probst

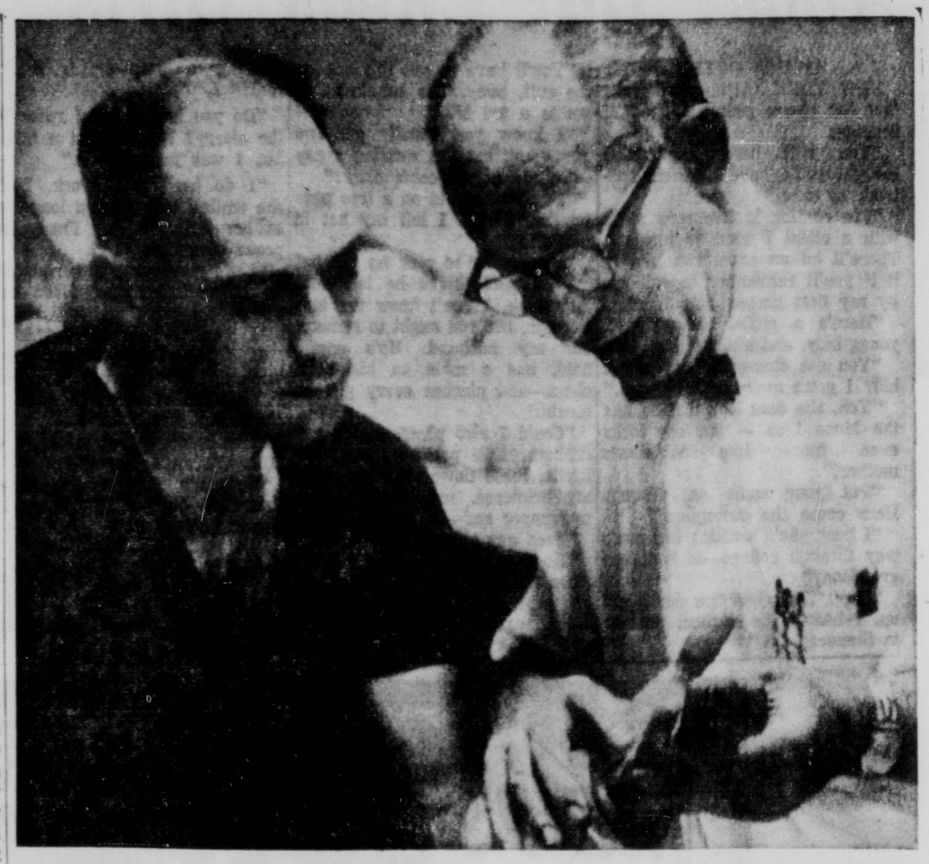

In the second division, a 42-44-86 earned low gross for Mr. and Mrs. Richard Crable while low net was won by Mr. and Mrs. Okey Ludwig with 101-38-63.

A. Purinton Jr. and Mrs. M. Burnett combined for second low net of 99-35-64

Wins Chess Tourney

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Jack Witeczek of Lorain won seven matches without a defeat last weekend to capture the Ohio chess championship in the state's annual tournament.

By GIB STALEY

PITTSBURGH (AP)— Shortstop Dick Groat, the sparkplug of the league-leading Pittsburgh Pirates, will be lost for the rest of the season because of a broken left wrist.

Groat, who gained fame as an All-America basketball player before coming off the Duke University campus to join the Pirates, didn't believe at first the injury was serious. He stayed in the Pirate clubhouse, getting ice pack treatment until after the game.

As the Bucs ran into the clubhouse, celebrating a three-run eighth-inning rally which gave them a 5-3 victory over the Braves Groat stood at the door and shook the hand of each teammate.

His wrist was swathed in a big bandage but Groat said: "I don't think the wrist is broken—but I'm going to the hospital to get it X-rayed just the same."

General Manager Joe Brown was visibly shaken as he announced a short time later that Groat's wrist was broken.

Groat has been battling for the league batting championship. He was hitting at a .325 clip—second in the National League—and riding an 11-game hitting streak.

Burdette said the pitch was a slider and "it just got away from me. I threw it too fast, I guess."

Bulle Rock was the first thoroughbred of record in the United States. The horse was imported from England about 1730.

Bucs Find Win Over Braves Costly

Potter Coach Announces Lineup For Grid Opener

Either Tom Kraft, a 145-pound sophomore, or Gene Wolfe, a 170-pound junior will start. The left halfback spot was up for grabs after Cookie Goodballet, the leading candidate for the spot, suffered a leg injury in a scrimmage with Campbell Memorial last Wednesday.

Saturday, Kraft moved into the slot but came up with a sprained ankle in a scrimmage. However, Kraft returned to practice Tuesday.

The other three members of the backfield are ready with Kenny Cunningham at quarterback, speedy Joe Thompson at halfback and the veteran John Goodballet at fullback.

The forward wall puts Tim Archer and Mike Geon at the end spots, while Joe Smith, a 175-pound senior, and a surprise to Venditti so far, will be at one tackle along with letterman Skip Hall, a 185-pounder at the other tackle spot.

Another veteran Larry Crook, who only played defense last season, will be at one offensive guard with Glenn Mays at the other spot. Mays is up from the reserve team.

One substitution on defense will see Craig O'Neil go to a corner spot with Montgomery coming out of the lineup.

Groat Is Injured, Out For Campaign

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Can Pittsburgh make it without Dick Groat?

Groat, a top contender for the NL's Most Valuable Player award, was struck on the wrist by a slider from Milwaukee right-hander Lew Burdette in the first inning of the Pirates' comeback, 5-3 victory over the Braves.

With Groat, runner-up in the NL bat race with a .325 average to Norm Larker's .331 for Los Angeles, out of business, the shortstop job falls to Dick Schofield, the one-time $40,000 bonus baby of the St. Louis Cardinals who has spent his time on the bench with a big glove and a smallbat.

The Cardinals move into Forbes Field for their final shot at the Pirates tonight. They took over second place while idle Tuesday as the Braves, now 7½ games behind, dropped their second decision in the three-game set at Pittsburgh. Los Angeles beat San Francisco 7-0, and Cincinnati won 6-1 at Philadelphia in 10 innings.

In the American League, the Baltimore Orioles padded their lead to 1½ games while idle as Boston walloped the second-place New York Yankees 7-1. Chicago's third-place White Sox toppled 4½ games behind with a 3-2 loss at Kansas City. Cleveland beat Detroit 10-8 in 10 innings in the only other game.

The Pirates, after blowing a 2-0 lead, battled back and beat Warren Spahn for the second time in two days. The Milwaukee left-hander, now 17-9, couldn't retire a man when he came on in relief of Burdette in the eighth with a 3-2 lead. Dick Stuart and Roberto Clemente greeted the southpaw ace with consecutive doubles that tied it, and Smoky Burgess then followed with a single for a clinching 4-3 lead. Mickey Vernon, recently switched from coach to the active roster, delivered a pinch single off reliever Ron Piche to make it a three-run inning.

Right-hander Don Drysdale (13-13) won his seventh in a row at the Los Angeles Coliseum—where he said no one could win—with a six-hitter. He struck out eight, walked none. Norm Larker's fourth home run, with a man on defeated Georges Maranda (1-4) in the first inning. The Dodgers, helped by one of Willie Mays' infrequent errors, scored their other five in the third on Gil Hodges' three-run double and a two-run triple by Drysdale.

Five singles and Ted Lepcio's error on a doubleplay ball gave the Reds five in the 10th at Philadelphia and beat Johnny Buzhardt (4-14). Jim Brosnan (7-2) was the winner in relief.

Pickins, Nichols Win Club's Labor Day Golf Event

Al Nichols and Mrs. William Pickin combined for a 37-43-80 to record low gross in the Scotch foursome event held Labor Day at the East Liverpool Country Club.

Low net went to J. S. Probst and Mrs. T. A. Farnsworth who fired 89-22-67.

A tie at 69 each for second low net came between Dr. and Mrs. C. W. McCutcheon and a team of T. A. Farnsworth and Mrs. J. A. Probst

In the second division, a 42-44-86 earned low gross for Mr. and Mrs. Richard Crable while low net was won by Mr. and Mrs. Okey Ludwig with 101-38-63.

A. Purinton Jr. and Mrs. M. Burnett combined for second low net of 99-35-64

Groat Hit By Pitch, Wrist Broken

By GIB STALEY

PITTSBURGH (AP)— Shortstop Dick Groat, the sparkplug of the league-leading Pittsburgh Pirates, will be lost for the rest of the season because of a broken left wrist.

Groat, who gained fame as an All-America basketball player before coming off the Duke University campus to join the Pirates, didn't believe at first the injury was serious. He stayed in the Pirate clubhouse, getting ice pack treatment until after the game.

As the Bucs ran into the clubhouse, celebrating a three-run eighth-inning rally which gave them a 5-3 victory over the Braves Groat stood at the door and shook the hand of each teammate.

His wrist was swathed in a big bandage but Groat said: "I don't think the wrist is broken—but I'm going to the hospital to get it X-rayed just the same."

General Manager Joe Brown was visibly shaken as he announced a short time later that Groat's wrist was broken.

Groat has been battling for the league batting championship. He was hitting at a .325 clip—second in the National League—and riding an 11-game hitting streak.

Burdette said the pitch was a slider and "it just got away from me. I threw it too fast, I guess."

Bulle Rock was the first thoroughbred of record in the United States. The horse was imported from England about 1730.

Nonpareil Club Hears Report On Memebrship

George Mueller, drive chairman, reported over $500 had been collected in memberships when the Blue and White Nonpareil Club met Tuesday at the YMCA.

Frank Dawson and Don Burbick were appointed co-chairmen of a football party to be held within a week after the 1960 season ends.

A "Parents Night" was set for Sept. 23 when East Liverpool meets Girard. H. A. "Hap" Tullis was named chairman of the affair.

An annual donation of $50 was made to the YMCA.

A discussion was held on the development of a recreation center during the summer months at Thompson Park. The plan is only in its talking stage. The Nonpareil Club voted to help defray expenses.

Rocky Paid Not To Blast Homers

DETROIT (AP) —Rocky Colavito, whom the Detroit Tigers acquired for his slugging ability, is getting paid not to drive the ball out of the park.

The big outfielder is getting an extra $1,000 for curbing his home run output in favor of a fatter batting average.

The deal originally was made by Frank Lane when Colavito was with the Cleveland Indians. It was honored by the Tigers.

Bill Dewitt, Detroit president, said Colavito already has the money.

Colavito hit 42 homers last year and has 28 this season with some 20 games remaining.

Lane, Cleveland's general manager, confirmed he offered the outfielder "an extra $1,000 if he didn't hit 40 home runs in 1960." Lane said he made the proposal in an effort to boost Colavito's batting average of .257 last year. He's now hitting .254.

Oakland 9 Wins In Church Playoff

Behind the three-hit pitching of Dan Barton, Oakland Free Methodist edged Calvary Methodist, 2-1, in the YMCA-Church League playoffs Monday.

Mort paced the winners with two hits and R. Waite drove in the winning run in the top of the seventh.

Wallace, Murkowski Run Bucks In Drills

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State junior Jack Wallace of Middletown, the Buckeye's No. 2 signal-caller, and soph Bill Murkowski of Elyria took turns running the first team Tuesday as the football squad went through another morning - afternoon workout. First - string quarterback Tom Matte sat out the practice with a sprained ankle.

Coach Woody Hayes, apparently pleased with the drill, said, "We worked pretty hard and did not have a single injury. This could mean we're toughening up."

America Suffers Blow In Javelin

By TED SMITS
Associated Press Sports Editor

ROME (AP) — The United States' 1,600-meter relay team, featuring the gold medal-winning Davis boys, flashed into the semi-finals at the Olympic Games today but America's field prestige took another heavy blow when world record holder Bill Alley of Short Hills, N.J., failed to qualify for the javelin finals.

Otis Davis of Los Angeles, who won the 400-meter run in world record time Tuesday, and 400-meter hurdles champion Glenn Davis of Columbus, Ohio, triggered the 1,600-meter relay quartet into the afternoon semifinals. Jack Yerman and Earl Young ran the two other legs for Uncle Sam's foursome which won the last of four qualifying heats eased up in 3 minutes, 10.4 seconds.

Alley, 6-foot-3, 222-pound former Kansas University star, had three attempts to top the qualifying minimum of 242 feet, 9⅜ inches but the best he could manage was 225-⅜. His world record, set recently in an Olympic warm-up meet, is 283-4⅜.

Thirteen of the 28 competitors matched or passed the qualifying minimum for Thursday's final, seven from the first group and six from the second.

Al Cantello, Norristown, Pa., hit 261-6⅝ on his third and last attempt to avert a U.S. whitewash in the preliminaries. The third American entry, Terry Beucher, Overland Park, Kan., didn't make it.

The fastest time of the 12 qualifiers for the 1,600-meter relay semifinals was turned in by the British West Indies' quartet. Anchored by Illinois star George Kerr, they won the second heat in 3:09.1. Other heat winners were Germany in 3:10.5, and Switzerland in 3:10.7.

One American, Neomia Roger of Roba, Ala., was among the 15 qualifiers for the women's high jump finals. Miss Rogers cleared the qualifying height of 5-5 on her second try. The two other Americans, Barbara Brown, New York, and Jean Geartner, Los Angeles, missed out at 5-1.

Competition also began in the individual equestrian jumping event and George Morris, New Canaan, Conn., and Hugh Wiley, Towson, Md., were up among the leaders.

Two Americans and Australia's Herb Elliott gave 40,000 track and field fans their money's worth in a day of incredible performances Tuesday.

Otis Davis of Los Angeles, an active competitor for only two years, won the 400-meter dash in the world record time of 44.9 seconds. Germany's Karl Kaufmann made it almost a dead heat with a finishing lunge that almost caught the flying American.

Elliott, the world record holder for the mile and metric mile broke his world standard for the 1,500 meters in 3 minutes, 35.6 seconds. Elliott's old record of 3:36 was set in 1956. He was an incredible 15 meters ahead of the field at the tape—and pulled the next five finishers under the former Olympic mark of 3:41.2 set at Melbourne four years ago by Ireland's Ron Delany.

Dryol Burleson, Cottage Grove, Ore., who finished sixth in the nine-man field, was timed in 3:40.9. Jim Grelle of Portland, Ore., was eighth.

The United States had another ace in the wings, and he came in under the floodlights. He was Rafer Johnson, the California strongman who set an Olympic record with 8,392 points for a slim edge over his long-time friend, Chuang Yang of Formosa and UCLA. Yang finished with 8,334 points, 58 points behind.

Johnson, from Kingsburg, Calif., the world record holder with 8,683 points, had to come from behind in the discus, the second event of the day and seventh in the 10-event torture.

Russia's Vasily Kuznetsov was third with 7,809 points.

The third world record of the day went to Poland's Josef Schmidt with a mark of 55 feet, 1¾ inches in the hop, step and jump. The old record was 54-9½, by Russia's O. Pedoseev. Ira Davis of Philadelphia was fourth with 53-10.

The United States still trailed in the unofficial over-all team point tabulation. Russia had 446½ to 416½ for the U.S.

U.S. entries pulled surprises in yachting and freestyle wrestling. The Minotaur, skippered by George O'Day of Dover, Mass., clinched a gold medal in the 5.5-meter class of the regatta.

Johnson Wins Gold Medal By 58-Point Difference

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

ROME (AP) — It took Rafer Johnson 26 hours to win an Olympic gold medal similar to the one Armin Hary of Germany grabbed in 10.2 seconds.

Johnson, a giant Negro from Kingsburg, Calif., won his medal in the decathlon, the 10-event killer competition that decides an all-around champion. Hary won his in the 100-meter dash.

"Winning this compensates for every ounce of energy and every hour of time I put into it," said Johnson.

"There is satisfaction in putting your body and mind to a great test and coming through. I get far more satisfaction out of this, than I would from winning a single event, although the over-all reward is the same."

Johnson came through in the two-day decathlon series Tuesday, edging Formosa's Chuang Yang, a student buddy at UCLA, and the Soviet Union's Vasily Kuznetsov in the classic event of the Olympic Games.

Johnson, a silver medal winner in 1956 behind the now retired Yank, Milt Campbell, realized his lifetime ambition when he won the gold medal by a 58-point margin.

It took a super-human effort in the final event of the program, the 1,500-meter run, for the 6-3, 200-pound star to pull off his greatest triumph.

Johnson finished with 8,392 points, an Olympic record. Yang totaled 8,344 and Kuznetsov 7,809.

In 36 hours he had only five hours of sleep. He started the grind Monday morning, and continued it until near midnight after a violent rainstorm had interrupted the program.

He had to rise Tuesday at 6 a. m. and begin again. The decathlon ended some 15 hours later.

'Weekend Player' Pulls Big Upset In Nationals

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. (AP)—The most feared player in the National Tennis Championships was sitting at a Wall Street desk today, deeply involved in the high finance of stocks and bonds.

His name is Hamilton Richardson. He's 27 and an ex-U. S. Davis Cupper. He takes his tennis in small doses these days while working as a customer's man among the bulls and bears of the big street.

But Tuesday, he scored the biggest upset in the tournament, eliminating Roy Emerson, Australian Davis Cupper, 3-6, 6-4, 9-7, 8-6.

The victory immediately brought up the logical question: If he can beat the Aussies as a weekend player, couldn't he do it in the Davis Cup?

Answer: Not interested.

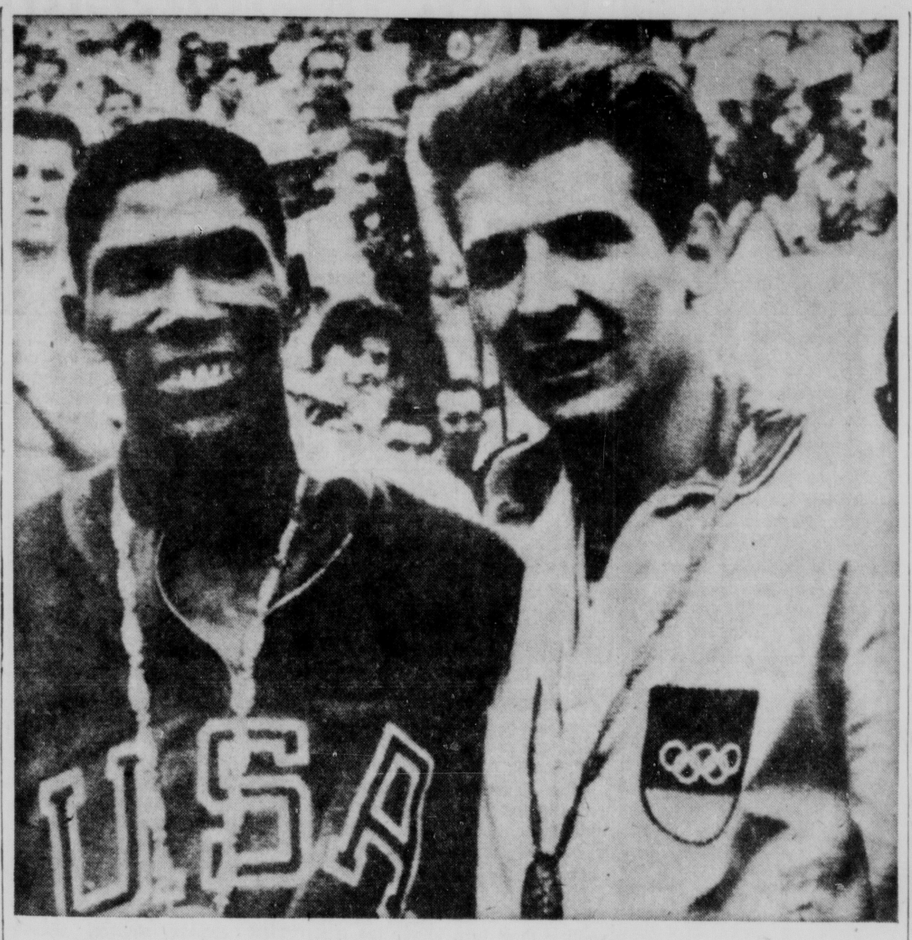

"There's no pressure on me now," said the unseeded Richardson, who walked out on the Davis Cup team in a feud with then-captain Perry Jones two years ago.

"If I win, great. And if I lose, I'm just a weekend player."

Top-seeded Neale Fraser of Australia, the defending champion, and Earl (Butch) Buchholz of St. Louis, seeded No. 4, both advanced. Fraser downed Gerald Moss of Miami Beach 6-3, 6-2, 6-4. Buchholz eliminated Jim McManus of Berkeley, Calif., 6-1, 6-2, 7-5.

Maria Bueno of Brazil, the defending champion and seeded No. 1, led the way into the quarterfinals of the women's division with a 6-1, 6-4 triumph over Barbara Browning of Burbank, Calif.

Newcomer Davis Is Big Surprise In 400-Meters

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

ROME (AP) — A year ago, Otis Davis never even dreamed he would be a member of the U.S. Olympic team.

Now the 28-year-old ex-GI from the University of Oregon owns the Olympic gold medal for the 400-meter run and the world record of 44.9 seconds after only two years of running.

To make fact even more stranger than fiction, the virtual unknown is the only American male to win a championship in these 17th Olympic Games in a flat race.

Flat races up to 800 meters once were a Yank monopoly. But it took a newcomer to give Uncle Sam his first running old medal after the titles in the 100, 200 and 800 meters were wrested from American control.

It was so close that both were clocked in :44.9. That eclipsed American Lou Jones' world record of :45.2, set in 1956, and the Olympic record of :45.5, established by Davis in the semifinals.

Davis, from Los Angeles, didn't start running competitively until he went to Oregon on a basketball scholarship. He was only a reserve and he got tired of sitting on the bench. He turned to track and tried high jumping.

He didn't go too well, and he turned to sprinting.

Oregon Coach Bill Bowerman made a 400-meter runner out of him a year ago. He barely made the Olympic team, finishing third in the trials.

20 Veterans Raise Hopes In Minnesota Grid Camp

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—A veteran squad that includes 20 lettermen boosts Minnesota's hopes of finishing in the first division of the Big Ten football race this season.

"We have more experience and more depth, and we hope to be faster generally in the line," says Coach Murray Warmath, whose Gophers wound up last in the 1959 conference campaign with a 1-6 record.

Of the lettermen, 10 were starters or regulars last year.

Despite the seasoned agenda, two sophomores may break into the starting lineup and several others must be dovetailed into it under the two-platoon system to give the added speed in the line that Warmath plans.

The best rookie back is Bill Munsey at right half. He is 5-11, 192 pounds and was routed to Minnesota from Uniontown, Pa.

"Munsey likely is the best soph back I've had in seven years," says Warmath. Currently, Munsey is listed on the second team behind senior Bill Kauth.

Top sophomore lineman is tackle Bob Bell, a 6-4, 216-pounder who played fullback in high school at Shelby, N. C. Bell is among five newcomers who have been converted from fullback to linemen in an effort to insert more nimbleness in the front wall.

"The key to our success this season," says Warmath, "is whether or not the fullback shifts into the line can become effective fast enough, and if our quarterbacking has improved enough to play winning football."

The three veteran quarterbacks are Sandy Stephens, Larry Johnson and Joe Salem. "Stephens is a quick runner but so far is a thrower instead of a passer," evaluates Warmath. "Johnson is a drop-back type of passer but is only a little more accurate than Stephens. Salem has a good mind and is a deceptive ball handler. If I could tie all of them into one man, I would have a good quarterback."

Senior Roger Hagbera is the No. 1 fullback at present, backed by two other seniors, punting specialist Tom Robbins and Jim Rogers. At left half is junior Judge Dickson, a strong runner who averaged 4.3 yards a carry and never was thrown for a loss last season. Junior Dave Mulholland is behind him.

At ends are senior Dick Larson, who has shown improvement defensively, and junior Bob Deegan. But a lot will be seen of Tom Hall, who in 1959 as a sophomore caught 22 passes against Big Ten opposition for 322 yards.

Robin Tellor, 221-pound junior, and senior Tom Brown, outstanding 238-pounder, have the guard positions under control. Captain Greg Larson nails down the center spot and Frank Brixius, a 262-pound senior, has a starting tackle assignment.

Yesterday's Stars

Pitching — Billy Muffett, Red Sox, beat Yankees 7-1 with a three-hitter, walking two, striking out three and pitching a two-single shutout until Mickey Mantle homered with two out in the ninth.

Hitting — Ken Aspromonte, Indians, had three hits in four trips and broke up the game with two-run homer in the 10th inning for 10-8 victory over Tigers.

Davis Boys Will Lead U.S. Relay Team Into Semi-Finals

America Suffers Blow In Javelin

By TED SMITS
Associated Press Sports Editor

ROME (AP) — The United States' 1,600-meter relay team, featuring the gold medal-winning Davis boys, flashed into the semi-finals at the Olympic Games today but America's field prestige took another heavy blow when world record holder Bill Alley of Short Hills, N.J., failed to qualify for the javelin finals.

Otis Davis of Los Angeles, who won the 400-meter run in world record time Tuesday, and 400-meter hurdles champion Glenn Davis of Columbus, Ohio, triggered the 1,600-meter relay quartet into the afternoon semifinals. Jack Yerman and Earl Young ran the two other legs for Uncle Sam's foursome which won the last of four qualifying heats eased up in 3 minutes, 10.4 seconds.

Alley, 6-foot-3, 222-pound former Kansas University star, had three attempts to top the qualifying minimum of 242 feet, 9⅜ inches but the best he could manage was 225-⅜. His world record, set recently in an Olympic warm-up meet, is 283-4⅜.

Thirteen of the 28 competitors matched or passed the qualifying minimum for Thursday's final, seven from the first group and six from the second.

Al Cantello, Norristown, Pa., hit 261-6⅝ on his third and last attempt to avert a U.S. whitewash in the preliminaries. The third American entry, Terry Beucher, Overland Park, Kan., didn't make it.

The fastest time of the 12 qualifiers for the 1,600-meter relay semifinals was turned in by the British West Indies' quartet. Anchored by Illinois star George Kerr, they won the second heat in 3:09.1. Other heat winners were Germany in 3:10.5, and Switzerland in 3:10.7.

One American, Neomia Roger of Roba, Ala., was among the 15 qualifiers for the women's high jump finals. Miss Rogers cleared the qualifying height of 5-5 on her second try. The two other Americans, Barbara Brown, New York, and Jean Geartner, Los Angeles, missed out at 5-1.

Competition also began in the individual equestrian jumping event and George Morris, New Canaan, Conn., and Hugh Wiley, Towson, Md., were up among the leaders.

Otis Davis of Los Angeles, an active competitor for only two years, won the 400-meter dash in the world record time of 44.9 seconds. Germany's Karl Kaufmann made it almost a dead heat with a finishing lunge that almost caught the flying American.

Elliott, the world record holder for the mile and metric mile broke his world standard for the 1,500 meters in 3 minutes, 35.6 seconds. Elliott's old record of 3:36 was set in 1956. He was an incredible 15 meters ahead of the field at the tape—and pulled the next five finishers under the former Olympic mark of 3:41.2 set at Melbourne four years ago by Ireland's Ron Delany.

Dryol Burleson, Cottage Grove, Ore., who finished sixth in the nine-man field, was timed in 3:40.9. Jim Grelle of Portland, Ore., was eighth.

The United States had another ace in the wings, and he came in under the floodlights. He was Rafer Johnson, the California strongman who set an Olympic record with 8,392 points for a slim edge over his long-time friend, Chuang Yang of Formosa and UCLA. Yang finished with 8,334 points, 58 points behind.

Russia's Vasily Kuznetsov was third with 7,809 points.

The third world record of the day went to Poland's Josef Schmidt with a mark of 55 feet, 1¾ inches in the hop, step and jump. The old record was 54-9½, by Russia's O. Pedoseev. Ira Davis of Philadelphia was fourth with 53-10.

The United States still trailed in the unofficial over-all team point tabulation. Russia had 446½ to 416½ for the U.S.

U.S. entries pulled surprises in yachting and freestyle wrestling. The Minotaur, skippered by George O'Day of Dover, Mass., clinched a gold medal in the 5.5-meter class of the regatta.

Johnson Wins Gold Medal By 58-Point Difference

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

ROME (AP) — It took Rafer Johnson 26 hours to win an Olympic gold medal similar to the one Armin Hary of Germany grabbed in 10.2 seconds.

Johnson, a giant Negro from Kingsburg, Calif., won his medal in the decathlon, the 10-event killer competition that decides an all-around champion. Hary won his in the 100-meter dash.

"Winning this compensates for every ounce of energy and every hour of time I put into it," said Johnson.

"There is satisfaction in putting your body and mind to a great test and coming through. I get far more satisfaction out of this, than I would from winning a single event, although the over-all reward is the same."

Johnson came through in the two-day decathlon series Tuesday, edging Formosa's Chuang Yang, a student buddy at UCLA, and the Soviet Union's Vasily Kuznetsov in the classic event of the Olympic Games.

Johnson finished with 8,392 points, an Olympic record. Yang totaled 8,344 and Kuznetsov 7,809.

In 36 hours he had only five hours of sleep. He started the grind Monday morning, and continued it until near midnight after a violent rainstorm had interrupted the program.

He had to rise Tuesday at 6 a. m. and begin again. The decathlon ended some 15 hours later.

'Weekend Player' Pulls Big Upset In Nationals

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. (AP)—The most feared player in the National Tennis Championships was sitting at a Wall Street desk today, deeply involved in the high finance of stocks and bonds.

His name is Hamilton Richardson. He's 27 and an ex-U. S. Davis Cupper. He takes his tennis in small doses these days while working as a customer's man among the bulls and bears of the big street.

But Tuesday, he scored the biggest upset in the tournament, eliminating Roy Emerson, Australian Davis Cupper, 3-6, 6-4, 9-7, 8-6.

The victory immediately brought up the logical question: If he can beat the Aussies as a weekend player, couldn't he do it in the Davis Cup?

Answer: Not interested.

"There's no pressure on me now," said the unseeded Richardson, who walked out on the Davis Cup team in a feud with then-captain Perry Jones two years ago.

"If I win, great. And if I lose, I'm just a weekend player."

Top-seeded Neale Fraser of Australia, the defending champion, and Earl (Butch) Buchholz of St. Louis, seeded No. 4, both advanced. Fraser downed Gerald Moss of Miami Beach 6-3, 6-2, 6-4. Buchholz eliminated Jim McManus of Berkeley, Calif., 6-1, 6-2, 7-5.

Maria Bueno of Brazil, the defending champion and seeded No. 1, led the way into the quarter-finals of the women's division with a 6-1, 6-4 triumph over Barbara Browning of Burbank, Calif.

Newcomer Davis Is Big Surprise In 400-Meters

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

ROME (AP) — A year ago, Otis Davis never even dreamed he would be a member of the U.S. Olympic team.

Now the 28-year-old ex-GI from the University of Oregon owns the Olympic gold medal for the 400-meter run and the world record of 44.9 seconds after only two years of running.

To make fact even more stranger than fiction, the virtual unknown is the only American male to win a championship in these 17th Olympic Games in a flat race.

Flat races up to 800 meters once were a Yank monopoly. But it took a newcomer to give Uncle Sam his first running old medal after the titles in the 100, 200 and 800 meters were wrested from American control.

It was so close that both were clocked in :44.9. That eclipsed American Lou Jones' world record of :45.2, set in 1956, and the Olympic record of :45.5, established by Davis in the semifinals.

Davis, from Los Angeles, didn't start running competitively until he went to Oregon on a basketball scholarship. He was only a reserve and he got tired of sitting on the bench. He turned to track and tried high jumping.

He didn't go too well, and he turned to sprinting.

Oregon Coach Bill Bowerman made a 400-meter runner out of him a year ago. He barely made the Olympic team, finishing third in the trials.

20 Veterans Raise Hopes In Minnesota Grid Camp

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—A veteran squad that includes 20 lettermen boosts Minnesota's hopes of finishing in the first division of the Big Ten football race this season.

"We have more experience and more depth, and we hope to be faster generally in the line," says Coach Murray Warmath, whose Gophers wound up last in the 1959 conference campaign with a 1-6 record.

Of the lettermen, 10 were starters or regulars last year.

Despite the seasoned agenda, two sophomores may break into the starting lineup and several others must be dovetailed into it under the two-platoon system to give the added speed in the line that Warmath plans.

The best rookie back is Bill Munsey at right half. He is 5-11, 192 pounds and was routed to Minnesota from Uniontown, Pa.

"Munsey likely is the best soph back I've had in seven years," says Warmath. Currently, Munsey is listed on the second team behind senior Bill Kauth.

Top sophomore lineman is tackle Bob Bell, a 6-4, 216-pounder who played fullback in high school at Shelby, N. C. Bell is among five newcomers who have been converted from fullback to linemen in an effort to insert more nimbleness in the front wall.

"The key to our success this season," says Warmath, "is whether or not the fullback shifts into the line can become effective fast enough, and if our quarterbacking has improved enough to play winning football."

The three veteran quarterbacks are Sandy Stephens, Larry Johnson and Joe Salem. "Stephens is a quick runner but so far is a thrower instead of a passer," evaluates Warmath. "Johnson is a drop-back type of passer but is only a little more accurate than Stephens. Salem has a good mind and is a deceptive ball handler. If I could tie all of them into one man, I would have a good quarterback."

Senior Roger Hagbera is the No. 1 fullback at present, backed by two other seniors, punting specialist Tom Robbins and Jim Rogers. At left half is junior Judge Dickson, a strong runner who averaged 4.3 yards a carry and never was thrown for a loss last season. Junior Dave Mulholland is behind him.

At ends are senior Dick Larson, who has shown improvement defensively, and junior Bob Deegan. But a lot will be seen of Tom Hall, who in 1959 as a sophomore caught 22 passes against Big Ten opposition for 322 yards.

Robin Tellor, 221-pound junior, and senior Tom Brown, outstanding 238-pounder, have the guard positions under control. Captain Greg Larson nails down the center spot and Frank Brixius, a 262-pound senior, has a starting tackle assignment.

Perry Shoots For 16th Win Against Birds

CLEVELAND (AP)—Jim Perry will get his sixth chance at a 16th victory tonight when the Cleveland Indians open a two-game series with the league-leading Baltimore Orioles to begin a 16-game home stand.

Te 24-year-old right-hander has made five starts since his last victory Aug. 13. Three ended in defeat for him and he did not figure in the decision in the other two games.

Perry (15-7) will be opposed tonight by Milt Pappas, another young right-hander who has won 13 and lost 8.

The Orioles, who lead the New York Yankees by a game and a half, will play their last game of the season here Thursday night. Dick Stigman will open for the Indians and will be opposed by Jack Fisher.

Washington will be here for games Friday night and Saturday afternoon, then the Indians meet the Yankees in a doubleheader Sunday.

Then come two games with Boston, four with Kansas City, one wih Detriot and three with Chicago.

Ken Aspromonte hit a two-run homer in the 10th inning that gave the Indians a 10-8 victory over the Tigers at Detroit Tuesday night. The triumph was the sixth in the last seven games for the Indians and moved them within one-half game of fourth-place Washington.

The winner was Frank Funk, recently purchased from Toronto of the International League, who pitched the last four innings and gave up only one hit. The win was the second straight for Funk since he joined the club Sept. 1. He walked ahead of Aspromonte's game-winning home run.

Shortstop Woodie Held also drove in two runs with his 20th homer of the season—fifth in five games—in the fourth inning. He scored behind Tito Francona, who doubled.

The Indians knocked out starter Pete Burnside with a three-run rally in the first inning and added three more in the second when Francona doubled with the bases loaded.

The Tigers picked up a run in the first, two in the second, three in the fifth and tied the score at 8-8 in the sixth on a two-run single by Charley Maxwell.

Machen, Liston Clash Tonight In 12-Round Fight

SEATTLE (AP) —Eddie Machen of Portland, Ore., and Sonny Liston of Philadelphia clash tonight in a 12-round bout which will put the victory — both fighters hope — on the threshhold of a crack at Floyd Patterson's world heavyweight title.

"I believe public opinion will insist upon a title chance for the winner," Sid Flaherty, Machen's manager, said today. Liston is rated No. 1 among the contenders; Machen No. 2.

Machen, with a 75-inch reach only about 196 pounds, figures his chances will brighten if he can fend off the Liston fists through the early rounds.

The nationally televised scrap will go on at 6 p.m. (9 p.m. EST), sending most fans directly from their offices to the baseball field where the ring is set up at the pitcher's mound.

THE PICTURE of batting grace shows Ted Williams swinging away at Yankee Stadium Tuesday. The Boston Red Sox defeated the Yanks, 7-1, with the highlight of the 9-hit attack being Ted's 26th home run of the season and the 518th of his career. (UPI Telephoto)

Yankees Lose Half-Game To Orioles When Boston Captures 7-1 Victory

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

With Chicago's defending champion White Sox awash, and the New York Yankees stumbling, the first-place Baltimore Orioles open an 11-game road trip tonight that could settle the American League pennant scrap.

In between, the Orioles play two at Chicago, one at Kansas City and two at Detroit. Thus far, they've had a 23-12 record in the West.

The second-place Yankees lost a half-game to the idle Orioles Tuesday, taking a 7-1 walloping from the Boston Red Sox. It was the Yanks' fifth loss in seven games.

The third-place White Sox fell 4½ games behind in a 3-2, ninth-inning loss at Kansas City. Cleveland defeated Detroit 10-8 on Ken Aspromonte's two-run homer in the 10th inning in the only other AL game.

Los Angeles whipped San Francisco 7-0, and Cincinnati beat Philadelphia 6-1 in 10 innings in the other NL games.

Right-hander Billy Muffett won his fifth for the Red Sox with a three-hitter. He had the Yankees shut out on two singles until Mickey Mantle hit his 32nd home run with two out in the ninth.

The Red Sox tagged Eli Grba (3-4) with the defeat, building a 5-0 lead in the first five frames. Pumpsie Green started it with a leadoff, inside-the-park home run in the first inning. Ted Williams bagged it with a three-run shot in the fifth—his 26th home run of the season and No. 518 lifetime.

Kansas City made it two straight over the White Sox with two runs in the ninth on Hank Bauer's bases-loaded single. Ken Johnson (4-9) was the winner in relief.

Woodie Held hit a two-run homer for the Tribe, his 20th, and Tito Francona drove in four runs with a single and two doubles among the Indians' 16 hits. The Tigers had 15 hits, but were blanked over the last four innings by winning reliever Frank Funk (2-0).

Picture Used In Attempt At Extortion

ODENTON, Md. (AP) — Ed Runge says a photograph taken of himself and another American League umpire, Bill McKinley, with two women in a motel room, was used in an extortion attempt.

Runge told a magistrate's hearing Tuesday that he and McKinley had been in the motel room in suburban Washington, D.C., "no time at all—five to 10 minutes" Aug. 28 when two men "broke in and took a picture."

Magistrate J. Nelson Clark held Anderson, Waldron and one of the women in a total of $12,500 bail for action of the grand jury which convenes Oct. 17.

Brown Looks For Versatile Grid Players

With that in mind, he had Bob Denton, a newcomer from College of the Pacific, working out as middle linebacker during the afternoon practice session at League Park.

Denton also has been tested at offensive guard and tackle, but may see linebacking action when the Browns meet the Chicago Bears in an exhibition game Saturday night at Akron.

"We think Denton has potential," said Brown. "That's why we're checkng him at linebacker."

The performances of rookies Larry Stephens and Jim Prestel at the tackles on defense against the San Francisco 49ers at Portland, last Saturday night have created a problem for Brown when it comes time to further trim the squad.

"I'd like to keep them both," the coach said. "They seem to have all the qualities you need in a good pro tackle."

Willie McClung, a regular most of last season and a veteran of four previous seasons in pro football, also is in the defensive tackle competition. Bob Gain and Floyd Peters are rated as the regulars.

The Browns Tuesday trimmed their squad to 42 players, one under the required number for this date, with the release of three rookies.

Waivers were asked on Dan Callahan, linebacker from Wooster; John Cash, a guard from Allen University, and Clyde Washington, a punter and defensive back from Purdue.

Ohio Colleges Are Slated For 207 Football Contests

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's collegiate gridders travel far and wide, and will repel invaders from everywhere, during the 1960 campaign.

The slate calls fo 207 games, stretching from Saturday, Sept. 17, through Saturday, Nov. 19. Before the curtain drops 50 teams from 17 of the Buckeye battlefields, and the Ohio squadrons will invade 14 states for 54 contests.

Although the Ohioans will indulge in 18 Mid-American, 15-Mid-Ohio, 13 Presidents' and 49 Ohio Conference frays, 104 of the 207 games will be against out-of-state opponents. A total of 57 night games will be played.

Ohio State, fighting back from the doldrums of one of its most disastrous campaigns (three wins, five losses and a tie), plays its usual big-time schedule.

But the 34 smaller schools also have some interesting opponents dotting their programs. Among the always-threatening squads to face the Buckeye teams this season are Kentucky, Villanova, Wichita, Louisville, Holy Cross, Qantico Marines, Army, Tulsa, North Texas State, Boston Univ., Hardin-Simmons, Bradley and California Poly.

Michigan will furnish the greatest number of foes for the Ohioans, with Wolverine teams playing a dozen games on the Buckeye grids, and 12 at home against Ohio squads.

The opposition will come from coast to coast and border to border. In addition to the free-for-all with Michigan, Ohio schools will travel to West Virginia, Indiana, Pennsylvania, Kansas, Illinois, Texas, Missouri, Connecticut, New York, Kentucky, Massachusetts, Iowa and Wisconsin.

Invaders will pour over the borders from West Virginia, Virginia, Texas, Illinois, California, Pennsylvania, Kansas, Kentucky, Wisconsin, Oklahoma, New York, Tennessee, Indiana, Minnesota, North Carolina and Connecticut. Thus, the Buckeyes will meet teams from 20 other states.

Last season, in 102 interstate contests, Ohio teams won 55 and lost 47, piling up a 1,901 to 1,514 scoring advantage.

The teams swing into the campaign with Wooster and Heidelberg (5-1) as defending co-champions of the Ohio Conference, Bowling Green (6-0) as king of the rugged Mid - American, Bluffton (5-0) Mid-Ohio standard-bearer, and John Carroll (6-0) as the Presidents' Conference ruler.

Richmond Hurler Is 'Culprit' In Jersey City Plans

By The Associated Press

The Richmond right - hander gave the Reds only one hit Tuesday night in wnning 2-0. The loss left JC in fifth place in the International League, a half game behind fourth-place Buffalo, which lost to Montreal 6-5 in 10 innings, as the two continue their torrid struggle for the last playoff spot before the season concludes Sunday.

Ray Schearer's infield single, a slow roller to second base leading off the third inning, was the only Jersey City hit off Gabler (4-4). He was erased one out later on a double play as Gabler retired the last 21 batters in order.

Joe Tanner's 10th inning homer beat the Bisons.

Columbus was the recipient of five Miami errors for six unearned runs. The Jets' only earned run was Johnny Powers' 24th homer. Curt Raydon was the winner as Columbus moved a game and a half ahead of the Marlins in the battle for sixth place.

Perry Shoots For 16th Win Against Birds

CLEVELAND (AP)—Jim Perry will get his sixth chance at a 16th victory tonight when the Cleveland Indians open a two-game series with the league-leading Baltimore Orioles to begin a 16-game home stand.

Te 24-year-old right-hander has made five starts since his last victory Aug. 13. Three ended in defeat for him and he did not figure in the decision in the other two games.

Perry (15-7) will be opposed tonight by Milt Pappas, another young right-hander who has won 13 and lost 8.

The Orioles, who lead the New York Yankees by a game and a half, will play their last game of the season here Thursday night. Dick Stigman will open for the Indians and will be opposed by Jack Fisher.

Washington will be here for games Friday night and Saturday afternoon, then the Indians meet the Yankees in a doubleheader Sunday.

Then come two games with Boston, four with Kansas City, one with Detriot and three with Chicago.

Ken Aspromonte hit a two-run homer in the 10th inning that gave the Indians a 10-8 victory over the Tigers at Detroit Tuesday night. The triumph was the sixth in the last seven games for the Indians and moved them within one-half game of fourth-place Washington.

The winner was Frank Funk, recently purchased from Toronto of the International League, who pitched the last four innings and gave up only one hit. The win was the second straight for Funk since he joined the club Sept. 1. He walked ahead of Aspromonte's game-winning home run.

Shortstop Woodie Held also drove in two runs with his 20th homer of the season—fifth in five games—in the fourth inning. He scored behind Tito Francona, who doubled.

The Indians knocked out starter Pete Burnside with a three-run rally in the first inning and added three more in the second when Francona doubled with the bases loaded.

The Tigers picked up a run in the first, two in the second, three in the fifth and tied the score at 8-8 in the sixth on a two-run single by Charley Maxwell.

Machen, Liston Clash Tonight In 12-Round Fight

SEATTLE (AP) —Eddie Machen of Portland, Ore., and Sonny Liston of Philadelphia clash tonight in a 12-round bout which will put the victory — both fighters hope — on the threshhold of a crack at Floyd Patterson's world heavyweight title.

"I believe public opinion will insist upon a title chance for the winner," Sid Flaherty, Machen's manager, said today. Liston is rated No. 1 among the contenders; Machen No. 2.

Liston, weighing around 212 pounds and equipped with an 86-inch reach, holds the role of favorite because of his size and reputation for quick knockouts.

Machen, with a 75-inch reach only about 196 pounds, figures his chances will brighten if he can fend off the Liston fists through the early rounds.

The nationally televised scrap will go on at 6 p.m. (9 p.m. EST), sending most fans directly from their offices to the baseball field where the ring is set up at the pitcher's mound.

Yankees Lose Half-Game To Orioles When Boston Captures 7-1 Victory

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

With Chicago's defending champion White Sox awash, and the New York Yankees stumbling, the first-place Baltimore Orioles open an 11-game road trip tonight that could settle the American League pennant scrap.

The Baby Birds, taking off with a 1½-game lead, start the 12-day run in Cleveland and end it with four games at Yankee Stadium.

In between, the Orioles play two at Chicago, one at Kansas City and two at Detroit. Thus far, they've had a 23-12 record in the West.

The second-place Yankees lost a half-game to the idle Orioles Tuesday, taking a 7-1 walloping from the Boston Red Sox. It was the Yanks' fifth loss in seven games.

The third-place White Sox fell 4½ games behind in a 3-2, ninth-inning loss at Kansas City. Cleveland defeated Detroit 10-8 on Ken Aspromonte's two-run homer in the 10th inning in the only other AL game.

In the National League, Pittsburgh gained a seven-game bulge by beating Milwaukee 5-3, but lost triggerman Dick Groat for the rest of the season. Former Sportscaster Claimed In Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A lingering illness ended in death Tuesday for William (Bill) Sutherland, 53, former announcer and sportscaster in Pittsburgh. Sutherland died in West Penn Hospital.

For the past several years Sutherland was vice president of the Smith, Taylor and Jenkins advertising agency. He began his radio career at radio station KDKA in 1931 as an announcer. He later was chief announcer and also helped broadcast University of Pittsburgh football games.

Ohio Colleges Are Slated For 207 Football Contests

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's collegiate gridders travel far and wide, and will repel invaders from everywhere, during the 1960 campaign.

The slate calls fo 207 games, stretching from Saturday, Sept. 17, through Saturday, Nov. 19. Before the curtain drops 50 teams from 17 of the Buckeye battlefields, and the Ohio squadrons will invade 14 states for 54 contests.

Although the Ohioans will indulge in 18 Mid-American, 15-Mid-Ohio, 13 Presidents' and 49 Ohio Conference frays, 104 of the 207 games will be against out-of-state opponents. A total of 57 night games will be played.

Ohio State, fighting back from the doldrums of one of its most disastrous campaigns (three wins, five losses and a tie), plays its usual big-time schedule.

But the 34 smaller schools also have some interesting opponents dotting their programs. Among the always-threatening squads to face the Buckeye teams this season are Kentucky, Villanova, Wichita, Louisville, Holy Cross, Qantico Marines, Army, Tulsa, North Texas State, Boston Univ., Hardin-Simmons, Bradley and California Poly.

Michigan will furnish the greatest number of foes for the Ohioans, with Wolverine teams playing a dozen games on the Buckeye grids, and 12 at home against Ohio squads.

The opposition will come from coast to coast and border to border. In addition to the free-for-all with Michigan, Ohio schools will travel to West Virginia, Indiana, Pennsylvania, Kansas, Illinois, Texas, Missouri, Connecticut, New York, Kentucky, Massachusetts, Iowa and Wisconsin.

Invaders will pour over the borders from West Virginia, Virginia, Texas, Illinois, California, Pennsylvania, Kansas, Kentucky, Wisconsin, Oklahoma, New York, Tennessee, Indiana, Minnesota, North Carolina and Connecticut. Thus, the Buckeyes will meet teams from 20 other states.

Last season, in 102 interstate contests, Ohio teams won 55 and lost 47, piling up a 1,901 to 1,514 scoring advantage.

The teams swing into the campaign with Wooster and Heidelberg (5-1) as defending co-champions of the Ohio Conference, Bowling Green (6-0) as king of the rugged Mid - American, Bluffton (5-0) Mid-Ohio standard-bearer, and John Carroll (6-0) as the Presidents' Conference ruler.

Richmond Hurler Is 'Culprit' In Jersey City Plans

By The Associated Press

The Richmond right - hander gave the Reds only one hit Tuesday night in wnning 2-0. The loss left JC in fifth place in the International League, a half game behind fourth-place Buffalo, which lost to Montreal 6-5 in 10 innings, as the two continue their torrid struggle for the last playoff spot before the season concludes Sunday.

Ray Schearer's infield single, a slow roller to second base leading off the third inning, was the only Jersey City hit off Gabler (4-4). He was erased one out later on a double play as Gabler retired the last 21 batters in order.

Joe Tanner's 10th inning homer beat the Bisons.

Columbus was the recipient of five Miami errors for six unearned runs. The Jets' only earned run was Johnny Powers' 24th homer. Curt Raydon was the winner as Columbus moved a game and a half ahead of the Marlins in the battle for sixth place.

Named City Manager

ASHTABULA, Ohio (AP) — City Council has named David DeLuca, 37, city manager to succeed C. D. Lambros, who resigned last week to become assistant state welfare director. DeLuca was serving his first term as council president and is a former vice president of the Ohio League of Young Democrats.

Deaths and Funerals

Illness Takes Woman At 98

NEW CUMBERLAND — Mrs. Maggie Richardson, one of the oldest natives of Hancock County, died this morning at 6 at the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. Robert Bossick, of Hopedale, after an illness of about a week. She was 98.

Mrs. Richardson, a former resident of New Cumberland, had made her home with her granddaughter for several years. She was born in Hancock County July 8, 1862, a daughter of the late James and Mary Gallagher Stewart. She was a member of the Presbyterian Church and a charter member of the Women's Benefit Association of New Cumberland.

Mrs. Richardson leaves two daughters, Mrs. Florence Cochran of Hopedale and Mrs. Maude Murray of New Cumberland; a sister, Mrs. Orpha McElfresh of Wheeling, and 13 grandchildren, 37 great-grandchildren and 16 great-great-grandchildren. Her husband, Ezra Richardson, and two sons and two daughters preceded her in death.

Services will be conducted at the Fields Funeral Home at 11 a. m. Friday by the Rev. Allen S. Fields of the Christian Church. Burial will be in New Cumberland Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home.

Mrs. Katie Crum

NEW WATERFORD — Mrs. Katie Florence Crum, 77, of R. D. 1 died Tuesday night at 9:09 at Salem City Hospital, following a 2-week illness with a heart ailment.

Born Jan. 30, 1883, in Unity Township, she was a daughter of Simon and Mary Smith Rummell. She was married in 1903 to Harry Crum, who died in July.

She was a member of the New Springfield Lutheran Church.

Services will be held Friday afternoon at 2 at the Seederly-Beilhart Funeral Home of North Lima by the Rev. William Zimman. Burial will be in Forest Lawn Cemetery at Youngstown.

Chester Holds Youth At Father's Request

A 17-year-old Belington (W. Va.) youth is being held at the Chester jail today at the request of his father, who told Chester police a warrant has been issued for the boy.

The youth showed up at the City Hall Tuesday night to ask Patrolman Clarence Lennens for lodging and food, claiming he had no money but was looking for work.

Lennens phoned the youth's parents, and the father asked Lennens to detain the boy for State Police in Barbour County, where the warrant was filed. The father did not say what the charge was, Lennens said, but the officer is awaiting word from the authorities.

The youth said he went by bus Monday to Cleveland, and hitchhiked to Chester.

Voting Signup Pace Boosted

With just 3 weeks remaining before the deadline Sept. 28, the County Election Board has noted an increase in registrations for the Nov. 8 general election, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, said today.

Although the registration campaign has been under way for several weeks, the response was apathetic until the last few days, O'Hanlon said.

East Liverpool has an estimated 10,425 qualified voters as of today, an increase of 395 from the 10,030 on the books at the beginning of 1960.

The board expects the tempo of registration will quicken almost daily as the deadline nears. The city's voter enrollment generally attains its high point once in four years—in time for the presidential election.

Meanwhile, Washington Township trustees filed a resolution asking a vote at the general election on a new 2-mill levy to provide funds for road improvements. It would be in effect five years. The action raises to 43 the number of special questions and issues filed for the November election.

Baltimore-Cincinnati Run Dropped By B&O

BALTIMORE (AP)—"The Diplomat," a passenger train that operates between Baltimore and Cincinnati, will be discontinued Sept. 18, the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad announced Tuesday.

The notice was given to the Maryland Public Service Commission. The Public Service Commission of West Virginia and the Ohio Public Utilities Commission previously approved discontinuance of the service in those states. The B&O said the move will result in a monthly saving of about $100,000 and assist in continuing other passenger trains along the route involved.

Deaths and Funerals

Illness Takes Woman At 98

NEW CUMBERLAND — Mrs. Maggie Richardson, one of the oldest natives of Hancock County, died this morning at 6 at the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. Robert Bossick, of Hopedale, after an illness of about a week. She was 98.

Mrs. Richardson, a former resident of New Cumberland, had made her home with her granddaughter for several years. She was born in Hancock County July 8, 1862, a daughter of the late James and Mary Gallagher Stewart. She was a member of the Presbyterian Church and a charter member of the Women's Benefit Association of New Cumberland.

Mrs. Richardson leaves two daughters, Mrs. Florence Cochran of Hopedale and Mrs. Maude Murray of New Cumberland; a sister, Mrs. Orpha McElfresh of Wheeling, and 13 grandchildren, 37 great-grandchildren and 16 great-great-grandchildren. Her husband, Ezra Richardson, and two sons and two daughters preceded her in death.

Services will be conducted at the Fields Funeral Home at 11 a. m. Friday by the Rev. Allen S. Fields of the Christian Church. Burial will be in New Cumberland Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home.

Mrs. Katie Crum

NEW WATERFORD — Mrs. Katie Florence Crum, 77, of R. D. 1 died Tuesday night at 9:09 at Salem City Hospital, following a 2-week illness with a heart ailment.

Born Jan. 30, 1883, in Unity Township, she was a daughter of Simon and Mary Smith Rummell. She was married in 1903 to Harry Crum, who died in July.

She was a member of the New Springfield Lutheran Church.

Survivors include a son, Olin Crum at home, and three grandchildren.

Services will be held Friday afternoon at 2 at the Seederly-Beilhart Funeral Home of North Lima by the Rev. William Zimman. Burial will be in Forest Lawn Cemetery at Youngstown.

Chester Holds Youth At Father's Request

A 17-year-old Belington (W. Va.) youth is being held at the Chester jail today at the request of his father, who told Chester police a warrant has been issued for the boy.

The youth showed up at the City Hall Tuesday night to ask Patrolman Clarence Lennens for lodging and food, claiming he had no money but was looking for work.

Lennens phoned the youth's parents, and the father asked Lennens to detain the boy for State Police in Barbour County, where the warrant was filed. The father did not say what the charge was, Lennens said, but the officer is awaiting word from the authorities.

The youth said he went by bus Monday to Cleveland, and hitchhiked to Chester.

Salineville PTA Slates 'Meet Staff' Program

SALINEVILLE — "Meet the Staff" will be the theme of a meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association Thursday night at 8 at the high school cafeteria where the faculty members will be introduced.

Ruth Davis and Sandra Cole, seniors who attended Girls State in June, will discuss their experiences. Lunch will be served. Mrs. Helen McClellan is president.

4-H News

Ten Columbiana County 4-H Club members have been selected by the awards and recognition committee to attend the Ohio 4-H Club Congress Saturday through Wednesday, on the Ohio State University campus, according to Joseph V. Burger, county extension agent in 4-H work.

Janie Heinbuch of Salem R. D. 2, winner of the Northeast District safety speaking contest, will also compete in the safety speaking contest finals.

"Learn, Grow, Serve and Live Through 4-H" is the theme for the 43rd congress.

Members selected are Mary Lou Alexander, R. D. 2, and Sandra Hawkins, R. D. 3, Salem; Alpheus Bartholow and Norma Shade, R. D. 1, Leetonia; Evelyn Boyd, Wellsville R. D. 1; Marion Bohem, Lisbon R. D. 4; John Isenschmid and Dale McKarns, Hanoverton R. D. 1; Chal Thorne, Salineville R. D. 1, and Margaret Wallace, Homeworth.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Milliken, advisors of the Salem Township Junior Farmers and Farmerettes Club, will be chaperones.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

Temperatures will average 5-8 degrees above normal. Normal high 78 north 81 south, normal low 57-59. Hot Thursday through Saturday, cooler Sunday or Monday. Precipitation will total ¼ to ½ inch in possible showers Sunday or Monday.

Voting Signup Pace Boosted

With just 3 weeks remaining before the deadline Sept. 28, the County Election Board has noted an increase in registrations for the Nov. 8 general election, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, said today.

Although the registration campaign has been under way for several weeks, the response was apathetic until the last few days, O'Hanlon said.

East Liverpool has an estimated 10,425 qualified voters as of today, an increase of 395 from the 10,030 on the books at the beginning of 1960.

The board expects the tempo of registration will quicken almost daily as the deadline nears. The city's voter enrollment generally attains its high point once in four years—in time for the presidential election.

Meanwhile, Washington Township trustees filed a resolution asking a vote at the general election on a new 2-mill levy to provide funds for road improvements. It would be in effect five years. The action raises to 43 the number of special questions and issues filed for the November election.

Baltimore-Cincinnati Run Dropped By B&O

BALTIMORE (AP)—"The Diplomat," a passenger train that operates between Baltimore and Cincinnati, will be discontinued Sept. 18, the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad announced Tuesday.

The notice was given to the Maryland Public Service Commission. The Public Service Commission of West Virginia and the Ohio Public Utilities Commission previously approved discontinuance of the service in those states. The B&O said the move will result in a monthly saving of about $100,000 and assist in continuing other passenger trains along the route involved.

Campaigns In Oregon

Kennedy Urges Federal Action To Aid Education

EUGENE, Ore. (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy said today the federal government must fill the tax vacuum that has left the nation short 50,000 teachers and 132,000 classrooms.

The Democratic presidential nominee shuttled his campaign into Oregon today after telling a crowd of about 5,000 in Seattle's Civic Auditorium Tuesday night that whether he likes it or not the next president is going to have to submit to Congress "a whole new set of defense goals."

On his way toward a major speech in Portland tonight, Kennedy turned to what he called difference on many issues between the Democrats and the Republicans.

The Massachusetts senator avoided mentioning his rival, Vice President Richard M. Nixon, but he struck hard at what he said was the Republican responsibility for failure of Congress to pass an aid-to-education bill.

"It is time to realize that we are faced with new frontiers in education," Kennedy said in a prepared speech.

"The old philosophy of leaving the financing of public school education to state and local taxpayers and the financing of college education primarily to parents is no longer sufficient."

Kennedy said the time has come for emergency federal action "to help halt the decline in American education." He said this does not mean federal control nor federal replacement of local effort.

Kennedy carried his campaign into Oregon after what was generally accounted as a moderately successful excursion Tuesday from Pocatello, Idaho, to Spokane, Wash., and to Seattle.

Fraudulent Oil, Gas Leases Serious Matter, DiSalle Says

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. Michael V. DiSalle says sale of fraudulent oil and gas leases is becoming a serious problem in Ohio.

The governor told newsmen Tuesday that the state's Division of Securities sent eight "cease and desist" orders to oil and gas lease companies last month and 12 in July.

He said most of these firms are in other states or Canada, adding that deals involving more than a million dollars presently are under investigation.

DiSalle also announced that he will make at least 14 appearances around the state in the next three weeks.

Wednesday — Noon meeting of the Warren Rotary Club; Geauga County Democratic Club in Chardon.

Saturday — Probably introduce Robert Kennedy, the Democratic presidential candidate's brother, at a Toledo steer roast; Adams County Jefferson-Jackson dinner in West Union.

Sunday—Dinner for Senate candidate Leo Dugan in Akron.

Sept. 14 — Gallipolis Kiwanis Club and Gallia County Jefferson-Jackson dinner.

Sept. 15—Mental Health Federation in Columbus.

Sept. 16—Ohio Trade Association in Granville; Ohio Democratic convention (Sept. 17 also).

Sept. 19—State Highway Department tour of Akron and Mansfield area.

Sept. 21—Ohio Municipal League in Cincinnati.

Sept. 24—Clermont County Democratic dinner.

New Efforts Opened To Clear Legal Issues Involving Hoffa

WASHINGTON (AP) — Both compromise and court efforts were under way today to clear up the tangled legal morass involving the Teamsters Union and its president, James R. Hoffa.

There were these developments:

1. An effort has been launched by U.S. Dist. Judge F. Dickinson Letts to get attorneys for all litigants together in a new compromise.

2. The U.S. Court of Appeals arranged for a hearing this morning on whether Letts can go ahead with his proposed installation of former FBI agent Terence F. McShane as chairman of the three-man Teamsters Board of Monitors.

The monitor board was established by Judge Letts to guard against corruption in the 1,600,000-member Teamsters Union. Hoffa and his union are seeking to block McShane's appointment. McShane participated in several federal investigations of Hoffa.

3. The Teamsters Executive Board opens a meeting here today, with Hoffa presiding.

Letts held a preliminary meeting in his chambers Tuesday with attorneys for the Teamsters and the monitors trying to work out a voluntary settlement. These compromise efforts are to be resumed Thursday.

The legal situation goes back to late 1957 when Hoffa was elected Teamsters president. A group of union members charged in a lawsuit he had rigged his election through alleged illegal choice of delegates. This litigation was compromised to permit Hoffa to take office provisionally under supervision of the monitors.

The monitors and Hoffa have never gotten along. The most recent monitor chairman, Martin F. O'Donoghue, resigned several months ago saying he despaired of getting Hoffa to accept suggested reforms.

1 Killed, 4 Injured In Head-On Collision

MCCONNELSVILLE, Ohio (AP) —A 2-year-old Morgan County girl was killed and four persons were injured in a head-on collision on Ohio 266 south of here Tuesday, the Highway Patrol reported. Dead is Martha Joe Tippie of Stockport. She was a passenger in a car driven by Herman E. Tracey, 21, of Painesville.

Tracey and two other passengers in his car—his wife, Carolyn, 19, and the dead girl's mother, Thelma, 39—were injured. The fourth injured person was the driver of the other car, Adam J. Miller of Chauncey. The injured were taken to Marietta Memorial Hospital.

Alcatraz Seeks Reason Why 250 Didn't Work

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Authorities at Alcatraz federal prison today sought the reason why most of the 250 inmates refused to answer work call Tuesday morning.

There was no noise and no violence in the strange and unexplained work stoppage. The convicts in the offshore penitentiary for some of the country's toughest prisoners were kept in their cells throughout the day.

Prison authorities said each prisoner denied knowledge of who ordered the work stoppage or why it was ordered. They said each prisoner was afraid of reprisal if he went back to work.

LEGAL NOTICES

NOTICE OF ELECTION ON TAX LEVY IN EXCESS OF THE TEN MILL LIMITATION

Campaigns In Oregon

Kennedy Urges Federal Action To Aid Education

EUGENE, Ore. (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy said today the federal government must fill the tax vacuum that has left the nation short 50,000 teachers and 132,000 classrooms.

The Democratic presidential nominee shuttled his campaign into Oregon today after telling a crowd of about 5,000 in Seattle's Civic Auditorium Tuesday night that whether he likes it or not the next president is going to have to submit to Congress "a whole new set of defense goals."

On his way toward a major speech in Portland tonight, Kennedy turned to what he called difference on many issues between the Democrats and the Republicans.

The Massachusetts senator avoided mentioning his rival, Vice President Richard M. Nixon, but he struck hard at what he said was the Republican responsibility for failure of Congress to pass an aid-to-education bill.

"It is time to realize that we are faced with new frontiers in education," Kennedy said in a prepared speech.

"The old philosophy of leaving the financing of public school education to state and local taxpayers and the financing of college education primarily to parents is no longer sufficient."

Kennedy said the time has come for emergency federal action "to help halt the decline in American education." He said this does not mean federal control nor federal replacement of local effort.

Kennedy carried his campaign into Oregon after what was generally accounted as a moderately successful excursion Tuesday from Pocatello, Idaho, to Spokane, Wash., and to Seattle.

Fraudulent Oil, Gas Leases Serious Matter, DiSalle Says

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. Michael V. DiSalle says sale of fraudulent oil and gas leases is becoming a serious problem in Ohio.

The governor told newsmen Tuesday that the state's Division of Securities sent eight "cease and desist" orders to oil and gas lease companies last month and 12 in July.

He said most of these firms are in other states or Canada, adding that deals involving more than a million dollars presently are under investigation.

DiSalle also announced that he will make at least 14 appearances around the state in the next three weeks.

New Efforts Opened To Clear Legal Issues Involving Hoffa

WASHINGTON (AP) — Both compromise and court efforts were under way today to clear up the tangled legal morass involving the Teamsters Union and its president, James R. Hoffa.

There were these developments:

1. An effort has been launched by U.S. Dist. Judge F. Dickinson Letts to get attorneys for all litigants together in a new compromise.

2. The U.S. Court of Appeals arranged for a hearing this morning on whether Letts can go ahead with his proposed installation of former FBI agent Terence F. McShane as chairman of the three-man Teamsters Board of Monitors.

The monitor board was established by Judge Letts to guard against corruption in the 1,600,000-member Teamsters Union. Hoffa and his union are seeking to block McShane's appointment. McShane participated in several federal investigations of Hoffa.

3. The Teamsters Executive Board opens a meeting here today, with Hoffa presiding.

Letts held a preliminary meeting in his chambers Tuesday with attorneys for the Teamsters and the monitors trying to work out a voluntary settlement. These compromise efforts are to be resumed Thursday.

The legal situation goes back to late 1957 when Hoffa was elected Teamsters president. A group of union members charged in a lawsuit he had rigged his election through alleged illegal choice of delegates. This litigation was compromised to permit Hoffa to take office provisionally under supervision of the monitors.

The monitors and Hoffa have never gotten along. The most recent monitor chairman, Martin F. O'Donoghue, resigned several months ago saying he despaired of getting Hoffa to accept suggested reforms.

1 Killed, 4 Injured In Head-On Collision

MCCONNELSVILLE, Ohio (AP) —A 2-year-old Morgan County girl was killed and four persons were injured in a head-on collision on Ohio 266 south of here Tuesday, the Highway Patrol reported. Dead is Martha Joe Tippie of Stockport. She was a passenger in a car driven by Herman E. Tracey, 21, of Painesville.

Tracey and two other passengers in his car—his wife, Carolyn, 19, and the dead girl's mother, Thelma, 39—were injured. The fourth injured person was the driver of the other car, Adam J. Miller of Chauncey. The injured were taken to Marietta Memorial Hospital.

Alcatraz Seeks Reason Why 250 Didn't Work

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Authorities at Alcatraz federal prison today sought the reason why most of the 250 inmates refused to answer work call Tuesday morning.

There was no noise and no violence in the strange and unexplained work stoppage. The convicts in the offshore penitentiary for some of the country's toughest prisoners were kept in their cells throughout the day.

Prison authorities said each prisoner denied knowledge of who ordered the work stoppage or why it was ordered. They said each prisoner was afraid of reprisal if he went back to work.

NOTICE OF ELECTION ON TAX LEVY IN EXCESS OF THE TEN MILL LIMITATION

Rev. Code, Secs. 345.03; 3501.11(G); 5705.191, 5705.25

Notice is hereby given that in pursuance of a Resolution of the Council of the City of East Liverpool, Columbiana County, Ohio, passed on the 15th day of August, 1960, there will be submitted to a vote of the people of said City of East Liverpool at a General Election to be held in the City of East Liverpool, Columbiana County, Ohio, at the regular places of voting therein, on Tuesday, the 8th day of November, 1960, the question of levying a tax, in excess of the ten mill limitation, for the benefit of the City of East Liverpool, for the purpose of providing an adequate amount for current expenses, to-wit: providing funds to supplement General Funds appropriation for the collection and disposal of public garbage and trash and expenses incident thereto.

Said tax being: A renewal of an existing tax of two (2) mills to run for five years at a rate not exceeding two (2) mills for each one dollar of valuation, which amounts to Twenty cents ($0.20) for each one hundred dollars of valuation, for five (5) years, being the tax years 1960, 1961, 1962, 1963 and 1964, including a levy upon the tax duplicate of the current year.

The Polls for said Election will be open at 6:30 o'clock A. M. and remain open until 6:30 o'clock P. M. Eastern Standard Time of said day.

By order of the Board of Elections, of Columbiana County, Ohio.

C. L. Stacey, Chairman
Frank R. O'Hanlon, Clerk

Dated August 17, 1960.

Stranahans To Face Court On $1 Million Tax Claim

CLEVELAND (AP) — A tax claim of $1,056,788 against a Toledo couple is one of 52 cases on the calendar for a two-week session of the U.S. Tax Court which opens here Monday.

The Stranahans had set up 18 trusts in 1932 for relatives. The government contends the profits of these trusts went to the Stranahans rather than to the trust funds.

According to the government the tax on the couple's joint return for 1953 should have been $1,395,038 while records show they paid $338,250.

Other cases on the calendar include a claim against the estate of Otto L. Hankison of Toledo, who was principal owner of Midwest Haulers, Inc., and claims totaling $50,645 against James R. (Jimmy) Dudley, broadcaster of the Cleveland Indians baseball games.

Hankison acquired control of Midwest Haulers in 1936 and gave 12 shares of stock to his wife and three children. He died Jan. 10, 1955. His estate paid a tax of $44,505 on a return of $187,119. The government claims the estate was worth $3,220,837 and the tax should have been $1,340,399.

The government figures are based on the contention that the stock, which represents approximately $2 million, was not given as complete gifts to the wife and children. The government says profits went to the estate.

Dudley owes $44,733 in income taxes for 1950 through 1954, the government contends. Added to this is $5,912 in penalties for alleged negligence in preparation of returns and failure to make proper estimated on his expected income each year.

The difference in Dudley's figures and those of the government arose from deductions Dudley made for business expenses which the government didn't allow.

The cases will be heard by Judge John J. Mulroney, who is coming here from Washington.

Farm Engineer Due

LISBON — Melville Palmer, extension agricultural engineer at Ohio State University, will work in Columbiana County Sept. 21, according to Floyd Lower, county extension agent. Farmers with drainage and water management problems will be visited.

Lisbon Board Lets Contracts On Coal, Milk

LISBON — The Board of Education Tuesday night awarded contracts for supplies of milk for school pupils and coal for the various buildings for the term which began today.

The Kannal Coal Co. of Columbiana was the low bidder at $5.80 per ton delivered. Three other bids were received, ranging to $6.10.

The Purity Dairy Co. received the milk contract on a low bid of 5¾ cents for white and 6 cents for chocolate half pints. The bid was the same as last term. One other bid was 6½ cents for both white and chocolate.

High school diplomas were issued to Mrs. Shirley Adomitis Brown and David L. Locke. Mrs. Brown quit school and was married and Locke joined the Navy before they completed school. They met requirements meanwhile.

The board tentatively gave a maintenance contract on the IBM typewriters at a total of $60 per year for 4 machines. It authorized a topographical survey to be made by J. Homer Brown for a new high school off Saltwell Rd., north of Lisbon. The cost will be $750.

Purchase of drapes was authorized for 8 windows in the gymnasium at a cost of $695, plus $30 repair of track and new ropes. Three other windows in back will be provided drapes next year as the board was limited to $700 in this year's budget.

Supt. Russell C. Armitage discussed issuance of a newsletter from his office. He said the Lisbon Garden Club has offered to plant the playground bank at Lincoln School.

The next meeting will be Oct. 12 at 8 p. m.

New Cumberland Clubs Will Have Group At Session

NEW CUMBERLAND — Fifteen members of the Young Women's Club and several from the Senior Women's Club will attend the 47th annual session of the Northern District of the West Virginia Federation of Women's Clubs Saturday at Moundsville.

The event will be held at the Simpson Methodist Church. Mrs. George Mitchell, president of the Moundsville Tuesday Arts Club, will serve as general chairman.

Candidates for governor, W. W. Barron, Democrats, and Harold E. Neely, Republican, are scheduled to speak. Representatives of 29 Northern Panhandle clubs will attend.

The New Cumberland Young Women's delegation will be headed by Mrs. John P. Jones. Others will include Mrs. Charles Mitchell, Mrs. Richard Coe, Mrs. Dean Chamberlain, Miss Rose Patterson, Mrs. Jack Semian, Mrs. Edwin Flowers, Mrs. William Swearingen, Miss Iris Cuppy, Mrs. Dan McIntosh, Mrs. Jake Baxter and Mrs. Ralph Patrick.

The Junior Club is scheduled to meet Sept. 15 at 8 p. m. in the Swaney Memorial Library. Miss Adda Robinson is president of the Senior Women's Club.

Parole Violator Faces Florida Court Penalty

LISBON — Lloyd E. Pudder, 20, of Conneaut, Pa., convicted earlier this year of petty larceny in the theft of a pistol at East Palestine, waived extradition Tuesday before Common Pleas Judge Raymond Buzzard and is to be returned to Florida for parole violation.

Pudder, on parole in Florida where he was convicted of burglary, left the state without authority, according to officials there. He was sentenced to 30 days in jail earlier this year by County Judge Earl Spalding at East Palestine for the theft of a gun from Walter Henderson of East Palestine.

Baritone To Present Newell Church Concert

Paul McNutt of Kansas City, Mo., a baritone, will present a program of sacred music Thursday night at 7:45 at revival services in the First Church of the Nazarene at Newell.

Known as "America's Psalm Singer," McNutt will give gospel songs, spirituals and classical church music.

He has sung for Jewish feast days, Nazarene revivals and in concert halls and has appeared on radio and television.

The Rev. O. F. Haynes, pastor, said the public is invited to attend the revival services and the musical program. The Rev. Ralph Sexton of Asheville, N. C., is the evangelist. The revivals opened Sept. 1 and will continue through Sunday.

Stranahans To Face Court On $1 Million Tax Claim
